Raging Fire Threatens Giant Muir Woods Trees

FIRE-FIGHTING AIRMEN — Three airmen from the 666th Air Control and Warning Squadron atop Mt. Tamalpais tramp along a fallen redwood tree as they work their way uphill today, fighting the 100-acre Frank's Valley forest fire. They are equipped with five-gallon pump-cans, filled with water. Windless Day Helps Halt Blaze

A forest fire, first reported at 2:55 a.m., swept over about 100 hilly acres above Frank's Valley in southwest Marin today, for a time threatening the famed giant redwood trees in Muir Woods National Monument.

The fire burned from 50,000 to 100,000 board feet of redwood logs cut by loggers working for Robert Parker and Chet Dixon of Petaluma. Parker estimated their loss at $25,000, including idling of 12 rented trucks which, he said, are costing $250 each a day. He said he could not yet determine how much of the burned timber would be salvageable.

County Fire Chief Charles Reilley said the fire was under control for practical purposes by about 7 a.m. He officially declared it under control at 10:55 a.m .

NO WIND

There was no early morning wind. Otherwise, said Reilley, "we could never have controlled it where we did."

The burned acreage is part of the area which the state has proposed to buy for expansion of Mt. Tamalpais State Park. A million dollar appropriation has been made for the purchase and state appraisers have been in the area this week.

The fire was thought to have started in a narrow canyon on the 1,800-acre Tony Brazil ranch, spreading uphill and inland.

CAUSE DISPUTED

The cause of the blaze was the subject of dispute. Reilley said flatly it was caused by the logging operations, through a spark from a chain-saw or other logging equipment. He said loggers were working in the area until 8 p.m. yesterday.

Parker denied that his loggers could have been responsible. They were no nearer than a quarter of a mile from the fire's point of origin at any time yesterday, he declared. He offered an opinion that the fire was started by a careless hunter or even by the sun's rays focusing through a piece of broken glass.

75 FIGHT FIRE

About 75 men fought the blaze. The county fire department had about 35 men and 15 trucks at the scene. They were aided by 30 airmen from the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron atop Mt. Tamalpais, and about eight ranchers of the area.

Access to the fire was delayed until firemen moved two tractors in to bulldoze a road from the Brazil ranchhouse about two miles up the canyon to the point where the fire started.

$1,500 STATUE MISSING FROM MARIN HOME

A Chinese statue valued at $1,500 is missing from a Mill Valley home, Marin County Undersheriff Eugene Meyer reported today.

Gayle Shelton, president of American Overseas Sales Corp., in San Francisco, told officers yesterday he returned from a two-week trip to New Orleans and discovered the statue gone from the terrace of his home at 169 Lone Tree road.

The granite statue, weighing 400 to 500 pounds, stands about four feet high and is greenish gray. The statue, listed in insurance catalogs as "Quan Yin with Elixir of Life," dates from the Wei Dynasty, 494 to 550 A.D.

Steel Union Rejects Pact Extension Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — The Steelworkers Union today rejected President Eisenhower's renewed request for an indefinite extension of steel contracts beyond their scheduled expiration at midnight July 14.

David J. McDonald, union president, said in a statement "We are confident that the President does not intend that we negotiate forever."

"If there is good faith on the companies part we can conclude an agreement by 12:01 a.m. July 15.

"Every period of negotiations must have a terminal point. This is one that has been agreed upon by the parties."

Eisenhower renewed at his news conference in Washington today a plea that both sides continue negotiating without a strike for as long a time as is necessary to reach a peaceful agreement.

McDonald declined to answer any questions beyond his formal brief statement that the July 14 deadline will stand.

Neither the union nor steel companies would comment on the course of negotiations.

McDonald's brief statement came on the heels of a personal appeal he made to Vice President Richard M. Nixon for help in getting a wage boost and other contract benefits from the steel industry.

McDonald said he went to Pittsburgh and sought out Nixon to complain that the steel companies were "provoking a shutdown" by balking at offering any contract gains.

The union chief declined to tell newsmen what Nixon's reaction was. He said on that he supposed Nixon reported to President Eisenhower on the conference.

Negotiations between four-man teams representing the union and the 12 biggest steel companies continues here today.

McDonald's announcement yesterday that he had been in Pittsburgh conferring with Nixon dispelled a two-day mystery about his absence from the stalemated contract talks here.

Bolinas Beach Guards Scarce Water Supply

Bolinas Beach is so short of water that consumers are being notified they will face penalties if they use any of the supply for other than household needs.

This came to light today as Calvin C. Talcott, Bolinas Beach Utility District secretary, disclosed he is sending notices to all 150 customers in the district warning them of the requirements for strict conservation of the dwindling water supply.

The order rules out garden watering and car washing, Talcott said.

This is the first time in his knowledge that a serious water shortage has developed in the district, the secretary declared.

Some Bolinas residents are becoming exceedingly apprehensive over the possibility of fire as a result of the limited water supply.

Levit Resigns Post In Brown Cabinet

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Finance Director Bert W. Levit, the second highest paid state official, announced today he will quit Aug. 1 for personal and business reasons.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, expressing regret at Levit's departure, named no successor. He noted Levit had agreed to take the top ranked cabinet post on a temporary basis.

Levit, 55, one of Gov. Brown's few Republican appointees, served under Brown when he was attorney general and as his assistant when Brown was district attorney in San Francisco.

His salary as finance director was $27,500 a year. The governor gets $40,000.

Chessman Has New Death Appointment

San Quentin convict-author Caryl Chessman has a new appointment with death, but his attorney is sure that he will avoid this one just as he has all others.

Yesterday the California Supreme Court upheld two death sentences imposed on Chessman 11 years ago. Chessman, author of two well-publicized books, was convicted of kidnaping and assaulting two young women in Los Angeles.

He has been fending off execution in legal actions, prepared for the most part by himself.

The state court yesterday unanimously rejected the 38-year-old prisoner's contention that the transcript of his Los Angeles trial in May, 1948, was faulty.

TO LOS ANGELES

Chessman will have to return to Los Angeles to hear his new date for execution in San Quentin's gas chamber.

During Chessman's trial, the court reporter, E. R. Perry, died before he had a chance to transcribe his shorthand notes. Chessman claimed it was impossible for another reporter to do so accurately.

The U. S. Supreme Court, which has considered the case seven times, had ordered a new hearing on the transcript of the original trial.

Superior Court Judge Walter Evans turned down the claims by Chessman in February, 1958. The state supreme court, in its actions yesterday, supported Judge Evans.

Chessman's attorney, Rosalie Asher of Sacramento, said she probably will seek a rehearing before the state court. If this is denied, another review by the U. S. Supreme Court would be in order, she said.

Chessman, meanwhile, has made no comment on the latest court decision. He has been sitting on condemned row for 11 years, except for court appearances in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

In a 53-page opinion written by Justice B. Rey Schauer, it was observed that Chessman's contentions that the transcript was inadequate, prejudicially inaccurate and fraudulent "have been found to be false by every court which has passed on the facts."

"We conclude," wrote Justice Schauer, "that the corrected reporter's transcript is substantially accurate and sufficiently complete in every respect to permit a fair review of the appeal from the judgments of conviction . . ."

"We support the view that the shorthand notes of the court reporter were decipher-

Almonte Boy In Hospital With Burns

His sister Karen, 17, only person home at the time, phoned their mother, Mrs. Carol Loudon, at the San Francisco department store where she works. The girl was instructed to call a grandmother living nearby, and by the time Mrs. Loudon arrived home, a doctor was also present. The father, Dale Loudon, a merchant seaman, was away.

The boy was taken to Marin General Hospital shortly after noon and treated for second degree burns on back, chest and shoulder. His condition today was described as "fairly good."

As of this morning, the boy was still unable to furnish details of the accident.

Pt. Reyes Bill Not Dropped, Solons Stress

Rep. Clement W. Miller and Sen. Clair Engle are giving the Marin County Board of Supervisors one week in which to file "substantive objections" to their Pt. Reyes seashore park bill.

In a telegram to the Independent-Journal today, Miller declared he and Engle "have not, repeat not, dropped the Pt. Reyes bill."

Instead, the telegram continued, "we have deferred to Marin board for reasonable period to enable it to file substantive objections if it so desires. If not, the bill will be introduced next week."

Yesterday Miller telegraphed the board he and Engle would "defer introduction (of the bill) pending full study and consideration of the board's detailed reasons for objection should you care to forward them."

Yesterday the board took no action to forward its objections.

The supervisors last Friday passed a resolution by a 4 to 1 vote opposing introduction of a bill to authorize a Pt. Reyes national seashore "until such time as an economic and feasibility survey is made and meets with the approval of the Board of Supervisors."

Strychnine Kills Novato Terrier

A series of dog poisoning incidents during the past month has finally killed a terrier dog in Novato, the owner reported last night to the sheriff.

Harold A. Bloom, chicken rancher at 1853 Indian Valley road, said one of his three terriers died yesterday. He took the dogs to the Novato Animal Clinic where doctors told him the animals had taken strychnine poison.

The poisoning started about a month ago, Bloom reported. He does not know where the dogs were fed the poison because they never stray from his yard, he said.

Sewage Treatment Cost Hike Proposed

The lines of communication between Corte Madera Sanitary District and Ross Valley Sanitary District, negotiating for three years to expand the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant, were unclogged last night by a surprise proposal.

Ross Valley Sanitary District proposed by letter that starting in September the Corte Madera District pay $200 for each million gallons treated in excess of 175,000 gallons a day.

Charge to the Corte Madera district at present is $26.10 for each million gallons whether or not Corte Madera exceeds the 175,000 gallon-a-day limit set by contract.

Corte Madera now pumps about 400,000 gallons a day to the Greenbrae plant of Ross Valley Sanitary District, said Director Ben K. Rippe. In the rainy season the volume is even greater.

"We are not prepared to accede to their demand," Rippe said. "We need legal advice.

"Our feeling on the content of their letter is the question: Does it solve any problems? We feel it does not."

Rippe and two other directors, Herbert I. Vernet and Ernest T. Mock, were present at last night's meeting of the Corte Madera Sanitary District board when the letter was read. It was signed by Wallace S. Myers, attorney for Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Myers said today that he assumed the $200 per million gallons would be charged on a monthly basis.

The Corte Madera board of directors will draft a letter of reply at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the district office, 500 Tamalpais drive, said Rippe.

Goodwill Far Ahead In Race To Honolulu

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The big yacht Goodwill was more than 100 miles ahead of its nearest contender today in the 21st biennial transpacific yacht race between here and Honolulu.

Ralph Larrabee's 161-foot schooner, sailing out of Newport Harbor, was only 1,398 land miles from its destination at roll call this morning as the race entered its fifth day. Race officials said there was a good chance the Goodwill would set a new elapsed time record for the event.

Arnold Haskell's 66-foot yawl Chubasco, also out of Newport Harbor, was in second position, 1,483 miles from Honolulu.

Novato 3-Year-Old Takes Solo Spin In Pickup Truck

A 3-year-old Novato boy took a pickup truck for a spin yesterday afternoon, "drove" it past the sheriff's substation, and then made like a choo-choo train on the railroad tracks.

Little Bill T. Litsheim, son of Mrs. Lucille M. Litsheim of 100 Railroad avenue, was frightened but unhurt.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine and Deputy Gerald Fries were walking out of the substation about 4 p.m. when they spotted a red and white pickup rolling down the Litsheim driveway toward the substation. Only the top of the head of the little driver showed through the cab when the truck hit a two-foot embankment and bounced him up and down.

Bill had been playing in the truck parked on a steep driveway and apparently released the handbrake, officers said.

Board Adopts West Marin School Budget

Supt. George Stratton said this compared with $81,870 for last year, and will mean a jump in the tax rate from 88 cents to $1.45 per each $100 of assessed valuation.

Voters in the school district last February approved an increase in the tax to $1.60, but were told at the time that the board hoped to keep the rate down to $1.45.

The superintendent said the increase in the budget partly would go to pay for a proposed addition to West Marin School at Point Reyes Station. This

METER MAIDS WILL JOIN CITY'S POLICE FORCE

San Rafael Police Department is to add three "car-hops" to its force.

They'll be called "meter maids." Their duties will be to check parking meters and give out tickets for overparking.

City councilmen last night gave Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa permission to add the "meter maids." The chief said the addition will free trained policemen for other duties and assure that there will be sufficient parking patrol at all times.

Uniform for the young women officers has not yet been decided. Chiesa suggested skirts and jackets. Councilman Charles W. Aby insisted slacks would be more suitable. Councilman Louis H. Baar suggested divided riding skirts.

Either skirt or slacks would be all right, said City Manager Dan E. Andersen, because the city plans to provide the meter maids with Cushman motor scooters. They can step off and on the scooters without the flurry of petticoats that might be necessary to mount the traditional three-wheeled police cycle.

Three Police Officers Promoted In San Rafael

Three police promotions, including the advancement of Sgt. Jay Fletcher to lieutenant, were announced today by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

Officer Carl Selby will become a sergeant to replace Sgt. Louis Foster, who is the new juvenile officer. Officer Walter Lindman will be given a sergeant's rank to direct three "meter maids" and supervise other traffic matters.

WITH FORCE 10 YEARS

Lieutenant Fletcher will fill the position left by Chiesa when Chiesa became chief. Fletcher, 47, has been with San Rafael police since 1946, the last 10 years as a sergeant. He formerly worked at correctional officer at both San Quentin and Folsom Prisons and was a Navy Shore Patrolman stationed in San Rafael during World War II. He attended the San Francisco Police Academy and FBI training schools held in San Rafael.

Sergeant Selby, 42, joined the San Rafael police force in 1951 after two and one-half years as San Quentin correctional officer. During World War II he was in the Navy for three years, serving in the South Pacific.

Selby studied for eight months at the Metropolitan Law Enforcement School in Oakland and attended FBI training schools in San Rafael. The new sergeant will be in charge from midnight to 8 a.m.

Lindman, in his 60s, joined the San Rafael police department in 1940. He was a sergeant on duty at night until about two years ago when he wanted daytime duty and went down to patrolman. The new promotion puts him back to the sergeant's rank. He will assist Capt. Joseph J. Brusatori with administrative duties.

NEW PATROLMAN

Chief Chiesa also announced the hiring of a new patrolman. He is Larry Price, 23, of 142 Ross street, San Rafael.

A former tow truck driver, at Ohio State University. He has played football and did some wrestling.

Public Works Project Must Be Revised To Meet San Rafael Budget

City Manager Dan E. Andersen and Public Works Director Norris Rawles were given the job last night of coming up with a new list of public improvement projects that will keep the City of San Rafael within a $2,102,374 budget for fiscal 1959-60.

City councilmen breezed through budget discussions with various department heads until they reached the public works budget.

At that point, Mayor John F. McInnis said he was "unable to understand" figures on proposed projects supplied by Rawles. And Councilman Fred E. Jensen challenged the city manager for eliminating a project to which Rawles had given No. 2 priority.

BUDGET MATTER

Andersen said he had eliminated the project—for a storm water pump station to serve the Montecito area—along with two others "to avoid deficit financing."

But it might be put back in, he said, because since he made up the preliminary budget, San Rafael has received "an unexpected windfall" of $48,000 in sales taxes.

The city ended its fiscal year June 30 with a balance of $1,014,000—up $102,000 from the closing balance for 1957-58, Andersen announced.

TIMING DIFFICULTIES

This brought forth the disclosure that perhaps not all the projects on Rawles' proposed public improvement list could be done in 1959-60, anyhow. The increased closing balance was in part because some projects, including C street improvements, could not be started by the close of the fiscal year, said Rawles. And increasing subdivision activity, particularly in the Freitas annexation, may make it impossible to do as many projects in the next 12 months, he declared.

Rawles raised the problem, too, of hiring engineers at the salaries offered by the city. He is short two engineers now and having difficulty finding replacements, he said. Marin Municipal Water District pays about 20 per cent more than the city, said Rawles, and Marin County pays about 10 per cent more.

Another complaint of inadequate city salaries was received by letter from Building Inspector Clifford Monk. He proposed a 5 per cent across-the-board raise.

Mayor McInnis said the matter of salaries would be gone into at the next budget discussion, to be held sometime next week.

The councilmen approved with only minor changes the budgets for city clerk-assessor, city treasurer-tax collector, police and fire departments.

Lynwood Director Vacancies Filled

Two vacancies on the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. board of directors were filled last night. The two nominees, Dr. Joseph Nelson and Maj. Merwin Stenvers, USAF, were elected without opposition.

The board discussed assessments and the association's project of improving the islands in Sunset Parkway in Novato.

S.F. Fluoridation Cuts Dental Decay

Fluoridation of San Francisco's water supply is proving to be a safe and effective way of curbing tooth decay among children, health director Ellis Sox reported yesterday.

The city's fluoridation program began seven years ago and has been complete since 1955.

Sox said in his weekly bulletin that the program has not been in effect long enough for accurate statistical observation but said, "Many dentists have indicated that they are seeing fewer decayed teeth in young children than . . . prior to fluoridation."

Juvenile Hall Site Soil Test Authorized

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved expenditures for soil testing at the proposed new juvenile hall and county hospital site on Lucas Valley road, but decided to hold a bill from the architect.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was authorized to spend $700 to $775 for soil testing on the juvenile hall site, and $1,500 to $1,700 at the hospital site. The work is to be done by Woodward, Clyde, Sherard and Associates.

He also asked approval of paying $2,600 to architect Rolland Hammond for preliminary plans that Hammond told Brigham are 80 per cent completed.

But Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested Brigham first check to make sure the plans are 80 per cent complete.

Brigham indicated that $600 already had been paid Hammond for work on the plans.

The board also authorized the same associates to proceed with soil on a ditch which runs along Manuel Freitas Parkway. The ditch is to be lined. The soil investigation work is estimated to cost $1,000.

BANK TO GIVE HUB BOULEVARD 'NEW LOOK'

This is architect Milton T. Pflueger's conception of how the First National Bank in San Rafael's branch in San Anselmo will look when completed. The building is that which housed the Purity Store on Sir Francis Drake boulevard, but will be redesigned radically for the bank, to present the appearance seen here. Drive-in banking windows will be at rear. Bids for the building project already have been called.

Dr. Watkins New Mayor In Belvedere

When the Belvedere City Council convenes at 7:30 o'clock tonight, a new mayor will be wielding the gavel.

Dr. Robert Watkins, until recently vice mayor and for two meetings acting mayor, was elected to the post at Monday night's meeting of the council. He succeeded ex-Mayor Ralph Y. Meyers, who resigned last month to take a job in Geneva, Switzerland.

Watkins is an orthopedic surgeon. He lives at 50 San Rafael avenue with his wife Virginia and three children. He has been a resident of Belvedere for 12 years.

He has been active in campaigns to preserve Belvedere's open waterfront.

He will be assisted in his duties by Councilwoman Ida Scott who was named vice mayor by the council.

The council is meeting this evening with the intention of enacting an emergency curfew ordinance, restricting the activities of young people under age 18 from 11 p.m. until daylight.

WALKING BAR; HIS STOMACH ACTED AS STILL

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI) — With one Japanese it wasn't something he drank that made him drunk. It was everything he ate. He was a walking distillery.

The patient, identified by Japanese authorities only as Mr. "O," was a 46-year-old farm association executive from Hokkaido who complained of chronic drunkenness though he didn't drink.

Doctors found O's stomach working away like a high-powered Tennessee mountain still. It contained a type of extremely quickacting yeast and transformed much that O ate into alcohol.

"It isn't a sickness that just anyone would be subject to," said Dr. Shuichi Sasaki of Hokkaido University. "In fact, I've never heard of a comparable case."

Radio Instruction

Hoffa Hits Techniques Of Probers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — James Hoffa, continuing his running battle with the Senate Rackets Committee and its counsel, Robert Kennedy, yesterday defended Teamster Union officials who took the Fifth Amendment before the committee.

Hoffa, president of the powerful international union, said Teamster officials took the amendment procedure from desperation, not from guilt.

He charged that congressional committees made trial runs before holding hearings in an effort to trick witnesses into giving incriminating information.

In a speech before the Western Conference of Teamsters here, Hoffa said he would not be "stampeded by headlines, editorials and commentaries," into firing top union officials under the attack for alleged corrupt practices.

He said the Senate committee and Kennedy "had sunk to an all-time low" in dealing with witnesses.

Brown Signs Misdemeanor Citation Law

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Californians arrested for misdemeanors under state law won't have to go before a judge immediately, but can take a citation similar to a traffic ticket instead after Sept. 18.

Gov. Brown yesterday signed a bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo), which permits the defendant to sign a ticket agreeing to appear by a certain time within five days.

He can then post bail, and if he doesn't show up in court the bail is forfeited. The judge then has 20 days to issue a warrant for failure to appear.

Brown also signed a bill by Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch), making it a felony instead of a misdemeanor to unlawfully furnish any hypnotic or dangerous drug to a minor.

These other measures also were signed into law by Brown, all effective Sept. 18:

Drunk — Provides penalties up to $1,000 fine and six months in jail for drunk flying; Assemblyman Francis.

Hamburger — Prohibits grinding hearts into hamburger; Sen. John F. Thompson (R-San Jose).

Trucks — Extends from 60 to 65 feet maximum length of combination trucks which can operate on multi-lane streets and interstate highways unless specifically banned by locality; Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced).

Assess — Opens certain records of Board of Equalization to inspection by county assessors; Sen. Stanford C. Shaw (D-Ontario).

More Drivers Lose California Licenses

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Another 6,391 California drivers had their licenses lifted last month in the state's continuing crackdown on careless drivers.

It was the second straight month that suspensions and revocations topped the 5,000 mark.

Robert I. McCarthy, state motor vehicles director, announced yesterday that 5,657 licenses were suspended and 1,722 revoked during June. Of those, 1,433 were for drunk driving.

With the backing of Gov. Brown, McCarthy has since announced that his department will suspend the licenses of all convicted drunk drivers, including first offenders, for six months.

Commenting on the "get tough" programs aimed at making the highways safer, McCarthy said:

"Having tried and failed to achieve traffic safety through reasoning and pleading, we were left with no choice but to deny the privilege of driving to those motorists who persist in violating the law."

Controversial Assessment Bill Pondered By Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today pondered whether to sign a controversial property assessment bill into law after hearing what he called "very strong arguments" in its favor.

A parade of witnesses spoke in behalf of the bill yesterday. They said it would prevent a 100-million-dollar property tax shift from utilities to common property owners.

The occasion was an unusual public hearing in the governor's office to help him decide on legislation. He has until July 24 to act on the bill by Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton).

The bill would repeal the state's inoperative law requiring equal assessment of all propert and require the State Board of Equalization to publish figures used by counties to set assessments.

Utilities claim their property is assessed by the state at 50 per cent of its value, while local property — assessed locally — is figured at 25 per cent.

Opponents of the bill, led by Russell Wolden, San Francisco assessor and candidate for mayor, says the bill would lead to just the shift its backers say they're trying to prevent.

Wolden said it would "create real chaos" if signed by Brwn. Letters from 56 of the state's 58 county assessors backed him up.

Spokesmen for the League of California Cities, State Board of Equalization, Supervisors Assn., and teachers, manufacturers and real estate groups all urged Brown to sign the bill.

WARNING FOR VISITORS

Stick To Trails, Don't Hike Alone, Park Chief Advises

This warning contained in folders describing the scenic wonderland of glacier-carved Yosemite was re-emphasized today by Park Superintendent John C. Preston. He believes it should be considered in the same light as skull and cross bones on a bottle of ant poison.

The park, invaded annually by more than a million tourists, already has been the scene of death and injury among hikers this summer. Preston fears more tragedy is yet to come unless the warning on folders is heeded.

"We are proud of Monday's rescue of a woman lost for five days," he says, "but it took a lot of shoe leather and we had nearly exhausted all of our resources."

Mrs. Maria Hendrika Lip, 38, of Byron was located after 114 hours. The search party totaled at its peak 75 men, plus bloodhounds and airplanes.

Preston estimates direct costs to the park service for searches range from $1,000 to $1,500 daily. He said "it is difficult to figure additional costs of volunteer help such as we received from the Seventh Day Adventist Church and Castle Air Force Base in the hunt for Mrs. Lip."

Despite widespread Yosemite hunts in the past a few hikers have never been located.

"We've probably had cases where some people use the park as a place to disappear and return to civilization later to start a new life under another name," says Preston. "However, we've never been able to prove a case of this yet."

Pottery is Roumania's oldest craft, and some elements of its design can be traced back to Greco-Roman times. Some pottery is made for decorative ceramics, some for useful utensils.

Hub To Extend Dairy Land Option

San Anselmo plans to take a second 30-day option on 62 acres of the Sorich Dairy Farm at the end of San Francisco boulevard, City Manager Arthur W. Brewer said today. The first 30 days will end tomorrow.

Brewer said he doubted that arrangements to lease the property for a corporation yard would be completed by the San Anselmo City Council's meeting on July 15, but that he expected an agreement would be ready by the end of the 30-day renewal period.

The agreement would stipulate rent to be paid by the city and set a fair market price on the property, toward which the city's rent money would be credited.

Admiral Who Made Far East Policy Dies

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Adm. Harry E. Yarnell, U.S.N. (ret.), 83, who helped form the United States' firm policy in the Far East immediately before World War II, died yesterday at the Newport Naval Hospital.

He had been hospitalized for two weeks. The cause of death was not announced.

Adm. Yarnell was commander of the Asiatic fleet when the Japanese sank the U.S. gunboat Panay on the Yangtze River in China in 1937. He was instrumental in bringing about the Japanese payment of $2,200,000 indemnity for the incident.

He served for many years in the Far East and was given a free hand in meeting diplomatic problems on the spot. He said "no" to the Japanese for three years prior to Pearl Harbor and the United States' stand during the turbulent years of the undeclared Sino-Japanese war came to be known as the "Yarnell policy."

Yarnell served in every shooting war involving the United States from the time of his graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1897 until his retirement in 1937.

He adhered rigidly to the policy he stated in his rejection of a Japanese warning that American nationals and warships be evacuated from the harbor at Swatow, South China, in 1939:

"The paramount duty of United States naval vessels is the protection of American citizens and they will go wherever it is necessary at any time to carry out that mission."

He was recalled from retirement during World War II to serve in a special capacity for the Navy in Washington.

State Chiefs Will Hold Power Talks

SACRAMENTO, July 8 (AP)—Three western governors meet here tomorrow to discuss a way to provide more water and power for California.

The discussions will be among Govs. Albert Rosellini of Washington, Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Edmund G. Brown of California.

They will take up proposals to transmit low cost power from the federally owned Bonneville Power Administration in the Northwest and receive it in California, possibly through Shasta Dam.

California has appropriated $70,000 for a study of the three-state common-carrier arrangement. The system apparently would eliminate a proposed contract between the Bonneville Administration and the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Marin Woman Flier Finishes Air Derby Flight

They were among 23 crews who landed planes yesterday in the gruelling cross-country flight from Lawrence, Mass. They covered 2,470 miles in the all-woman derby that began Saturday.

One plane landed Sunday, and three more arrived Monday.

A purse of $2,500 for the pilots logging the best time against a personal handicap will be distributed tomorrow after all planes have landed and computations are made.

Derby officials said 35 planes had not yet arrived. The federal aviation agency said 14 of them were in Helena, Mont., the last stop before the 275-air-mile dash to the finish line at Spokane.

Mrs. Veris is personal secretary to Cyril Magnin, president of the Port of San Francisco and of Joseph Magnin Co. Mrs. Veris and her husband, a college student in San Francisco, live at 144 Filbert street, Sausalito.

Mrs. McElhatton is the wife of Dave McElhatton of radio station KCBS, San Francisco.

A 250-horsepower Beechcraft Bonanza K35, plane 4 ,piloted by Margaret Ray Ringenberg and co-piloted by Lois M. Laymonn, both from Ft. Wayne, Ind., was the first to land at the finish Sunday morning.

Navy Coach Retires

Demo Factions Girding For Intra-Party Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A battle that could turn into a war is shaping up for control of the 1960 Democratic convention and what kind of presidential candidate it will nominate.

On one side is National Chairman Paul M. Butler, a spokesman for forces usually called Northern and Western liberals.

On the other side are conservative and moderate forces in Congress who look for leadership to Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

These Johnson - Rayburn forces say Butler's increasing criticism of the kind of leadership they are providing in Congress is a tipoff that he is trying to force them out of policy making posts at the convention.

"It brings into the open what many of us have suspected, that the liberals are determined to reshape the party to their own views. It is fortunate that the controversy has come into the open a year ahead of the election. That gives us time to settle it," he said.

If the party follows precedent, Rayburn will be permanent chairman of the convention. House Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, who has played a role as a compromiser between the two party factions, would be chairman of the platform committee.

Johnson is a potential candidate for the presidential nomination. Butler has said more than once he doesn't think a Southerner or Southwesterner can win the top nomination.

Some congressional sources say Butler would like to see the party nominate Adlai E. Stevenson, who twice lost to President Eisenhower; Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota; or Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, in that order.

Demos Hope To Override Housing Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) called today for Senate action to override President Eisenhower's veto of the housing bill. He predicted a close vote.

The statement by Sparkman, who directed the Senate fight for the bill, indicated that Democratic leaders would try to override the veto, although not immediately.

Their chances of winning appeared dim in the senate and much dimmer in the house. A two-thirds vote is needed in both chambers to enact a bill disapproved by the President.

Eisenhower sent his veto of the $1,375,000,000 housing bill to the Senate yesterday and set off a political debate. He said the measure was extravagant, inflationary and would substitute government spending for private investment.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) deplored what he called the President's "all or nothing attitude" and said Congress was being told it must accept the administration program without change.

U. S. Admits Ex-Chief Of Cuban Air Force

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Immigration Director Edward P. Ahrens today announced Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, resigned commander of the Cuban Air Force, has been admitted to the United States as a resident alien.

Ahrens issued this statement:

"Major Diaz Lanz, accompanied by his wife, applied for admission to the United States on July 1, 1959, at Miami, Fla., at which port they had arrived directly from Cuba aboard a small private boat.

"Following examinations yesterday, he has been admitted as a resident alien and she has been paroled. He has requested that his whereabouts not be revealed at this time."

Ahrens would make no further comment

The former Cuban military leader has been accused by his successor, Maj. Juan Almeida, of desertion, treason, robbery and dealing with members of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista's regime.

His June 30 resignation came in a letter to Cuban President Manuel Urrutia and was accompanied by a charge that Communists had infiltrated Premier Fidel Castro's armed forces.

People like you save at Crocker-Anglo Bank!

Why are the savings and other time deposits of Crocker-Anglo National Bank at a record high — more than six hundred million dollars out of total deposits of well over one and a half billion dollars? For one reason, more people are saving more money at Crocker-Anglo than ever before. People like you—active, friendly, progressive people—hundreds of thousands of them—are saving millions of dollars at Crocker-Anglo every year. They save for homes, cars, education for their children, travel . . . or just for that wonderful feeling of security that comes with having money in the bank. The important point is they save . . . regularly. Why don't you join the many Californians who save their money at Crocker-Anglo? You'll like the way Crocker-Anglo does business.

Savings deposits received by July 14, 1959 will earn interest from July 1 at 3% per year

Deeper Oil Wells

NEW YORK (UPI) — The oil industry can drill a well almost seven times as deep today as it could at the turn of the century, according to industry sources. Figures show the world's deepest wells today penetrate 20,000 feet into the earth's crust. The deepest known well in 1900 was 3,000 feet.

MARIN VISITOR REPORTS

Housing In Philippines Is Booming Industry

By LARRY LOVETT

The development of low cost housing in the Philippine Islands is an extremely large industry, with major emphasis on home purchases rather than rentals.

Felixburto Mediavillo, 46-year-old senior regional urban planner for the Philippine National Planning Commission, made this point yesterday in an interview while visiting Marin City as the guest of Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment agency.

TREMENDOUS STRIDES

"Although it is not too well known in the United States," Mediavillo said, "the Philippine housing program was started prior to World War II and is now making tremendous strides."

He spoke enthusiastically of the six-months tour he is now completing under auspices of the International Cooperation Administration.

On his tour, He has inspected facilities in Hawaii; Washington, D.C.; the Tennessee Valley Authority, Beaumont, Tex.; New Orleans; Puerto Rico; New York City; Dayton, Ohio; Chicago, and the San Francisco area.

HOUSING VIEWS

"My tour has been characterized by a mutual exchange of views on housing," Mediavillo said. "There have been any number of instances where my experiences in the Philippines have been of interest in this country as well as the reverse."

"One of the prominent national characteristics of the Filipino is his desire for home ownership," declared Mediaville. This is why homes for sale, rather than rental, are the object of his agency.

In his country, he said there is the Peoples' Homesite and Housing Corp., which roughly parallels the Housing and Home Finance Agency in the United States. Activities of the PHHC are closely coordinated with the national planning commission, he noted.

BUYERS SCREENED

Potential buyers of homes in these developments are screened carefully, Mediavillo declared, with the first eligibility requirement being that of having an income sufficient to permit purchase of the home.

Lending facilities permit loans of up to 20 or 30 years, he said.

Mediavillo, married and father of four, lives in Pasig, Rijal, about 10 miles outside of Manila. He is flying home today.

He was escorted on his journey from San Francisco to Marin City by John Buddeke, site representative at the Urban Renewal Administration office in San Francisco.

Protests Fail To Block Vote In Terra Linda

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District last night decided a $350,000 parks and recreation bond issue "will be such a benefit to all property owners" in the district that they rejected protests from residents who wished to be excluded.

The protest hearing, required by law, drew about 60 persons, according to John P. Namly, president of the board of directors.

PURPOSE OF HEARING

He said the hearing was held to give property owners the opportunity to protest inclusion in voting on the bonds, if they could show they would not benefit.

"We decided every home owner would benefit," Namly said. "We felt every property owner would receive some betterment from having this center in the community."

Some persons said they would receive no benefit because they personally would not use the center. Namly said these persons were told they would benefit from an increase in property values, and that the owners after them probably would benefit from use of the recreational facilities.

TAX PROTEST

Others protested, he said, because they said they do not want to pay more taxes. He said they were told that his feeling "would more rightly be exhibited at the polls" where they can vote against the bond issue.

Namly said others protested because they didn't like some of the features in the proposed center. These were not valid protests, he said, because that was not the purpose of the hearing.

ELECTION DATE

The board is to meet again July 21 to decide on the date of the election, tentatively set for Aug. 25. At that meeting, Namly said, there will be an exhibit of the preliminary plans for the center as drawn up by San Francisco architects Royston, Hanomoto and Mayes.

The center is to include an expanded community center building, a swimming pool, childrens' play area, a turf fired and tennis courts.

Also at last night's meeting, the board appointed Robert D. Thomson, principal of the Richardson Bay School, as park and recreation commissioner.

The board hired Ken Meade of Sausalito, a University of California student, as recreation supervisor, and tentatively set up a recreation program that will be held Mondays through Fridays with the emphasis on teen-age activities.

ESCAPE ROUTE IS POOR CHOICE

Together they watched as a hole was knocked through the doctor's wall and a man's head poked through it.

Behind him were 18 other men, who had picked a poor route to escape from the jail next door.

Grass Blaze Is Incendiary

Five Marin County Fire Department units under Asst. Chief Louis Bloom put out the blaze, which broke out about 10 p.m. in the 650 block of North San Pedro road.

On his return via McNear's Beach, one of the wardens spotted another patch 50 by 100 feet which had burned out. Chief Bloom said both were believed to have been deliberately set, although no incendiary materials were found.

Clergyman's Wife Hurt In Accident

Mrs. S. R. Hammond, wife of the rector of the Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood, is in San Jose Hospital with a fractured ankle and other injuries suffered in an automobile accident Monday afternoon near Morgan Hill, 18 miles from San Jose.

She and Rev. Hammond, both in their 70s, were enroute to San Bernardino for the wedding of a granddaughter.

Rev. Hammond, who was uninjured, is staying in a room near the hospital. Mrs. Hammond is expected to remain there for another 10 days. One of their sons, Rev. D. Murray Hammond, is rector of the Episcopal Church of Our Savior in Mill Valley.

San Rafael Officials Urge Tax Job Shift

Two elected San Rafael city officials would like to get rid of two of the jobs to which they were voted, they told city councilmen last night.

City Clerk-Assessor W. L. Morgan and City Treasurer-Tax Collector Angelina Soldavini both proposed turning over to Marin County the job of property appraisal and assessment and tax collection. The county now does the job for Corte Madera, Larkspur, Ross, Mill Valley and Belvedere, and will take it over next year for Sausalito.

Councilmen discussed the proposal at length, but took no action after City Manager Dan E. Andersen said the change would make little difference in the 1959-60 budget of the city clerk-assessor and none in that of the treasurer-tax collector. This year's tax collections will have to be done by the city anyhow, he explained.

AT BUDGET HEARING

Morgan put in a lengthy plea for the change when he appeared before the city fathers at an informal budget hearing to discuss his portion of the 1959-60 budget. Miss Soldavini, who followed, seconded the city clerk's sentiments.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen opposed the proposed change and Councilmen Joseph F. Sauer and Louis H. Baar also offered various objections. Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Charles W. Aby said they could see nothing wrong with the proposal.

Morgan said that turning over the tax job to the county would mean more collections at less cost and more up-to-date appraisals. He said much personal property is now escaping city taxation because his staff is unable to "run down" the appraisals.

Sauer questioned whether the remaining portions of the "hyphenated titles" of the clerk-assessor and treasurer-tax collector would "warrant the salaries we're paying." Morgan and Miss Soldavini both claimed they would.

ALTERNATIVE STATED

The alternative, Morgan declared, is to give him more assistants to do the job. And that, he said, would cost the city more than the approximately $1,100 the county would charge for the complete tax collection setup. (By state law, the county charges one per cent of the first $25,000 of taxes collected and one-fourth of one per cent for all thereafter.)

"Our taxpayers are paying for that service now," Morgan argued. "Our taxpayers have bought that expensive equipment and paid for the reappraisal."

Sauer objected that even using the county appraisal figures has made the city council a "rubber stamp." Jensen agreed.

"When San Rafael people go before the supervisors as a board of equalization, they have only one out of five to represent them," Jensen pointed out.

"You're signing away the people's prerogative," said Baar.

REVERSED POSITION

Baar charged Morgan with having expressed dissatisfaction in the past with county appraisals. Morgan admitted he had done so, but declared, "I have entirely reversed."

Miss Soldavini said turning the collection job over to the county would save $1,500 required for extra help in her office.

"My recommendation," she said, "is that it go across the street."

Sound Familiar?

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dentist Norman R. Olson spoke thus of his work for Queen Elizabeth in Chicago Monday:

"I called her 'your majesty' and we exchanged greetings. From then on it was just 'open' and 'close,' 'open' and 'close.' "

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails continued to rally late this afternoon as the stock market pursued a mixed course. Trading was fairly active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,900,000 shares compared with 3,840,000 yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to one or two points dotted the list of pivotal issues.

Some major steelmakers were hit by profit-taking. U.S. Steel dropped two and Youngstown Sheet about three.

The rail shares were nicely ahead. New York Central was up a good fraction. Chesapeake and Ohio advanced well over a point. Illinois Central was about a point to the good.

Electronics stocks were shaved. Air crafts declined. Boeing and Douglas lost about a point each.

Texaco, off well over a point, was a conspicuous loser among the oils which remained backward.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Governor Long Worse

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Reports circulated in the Louisiana governor's mansion today that Gov. Earl K. Long's physical condition is worse.

Dr. William Cook, who treated Long after a heart seizure in 1950, called on the governor yesterday but declined to comment on his condition. Dr. Robert Heath said there had been no "drastic" change in his condition.

But state legislative leaders who called on the 63-year-old governor indicated his health has deteriorated. The governor's office, at Long's okay, agreed, at request of newsmen to issue twice daily medical bulletins beginning today.

Trick Fails, Boy Dies

SEATTLE (AP) — A boy who leaped into the Lake Washington Ship Canal with his hands and feet tied in what was to be a demonstration of his swimming prowess drowned last night.

Robert Waugh, 15, told two companions to tie his hands and feet and he would untie himself while under the water. With his hands and feet tied he jumped into the water. He didn't come up.

Pilot 'Bounces' Plane

OLATHE, Kan. (UPI)—A veteran airline pilot bounced the wheels of his crippled plane on the ground to lock them in place yesterday, then landed the airliner with 43 persons aboard without a hitch.

The crew of Braniff flight 526 from San Antonio to Chicago tried for an hour and a half to lock the landing gear. Finally, Capt. W. W. Garbett touched down lightly at the Olathe Naval Air Station, locking the wheels in place. He made another approach and landed smoothly.

Actress Wins Prize

BERLIN (UPI)—France's "Les Cousins" last night won the International Berlin Film Festival's "Golden Bear," highest award for the year's best feature film.

Among the other winners was American actress Shirley McLaine who received a "silver bear" for her performance in "Ask Any Girl."

French actor Jean Cabin was selected as best actor for his part in "Archimede le Chlochard" and also received a "silver bear."

Yacht Rescue Near

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — An Australian navy tug today steamed toward Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert's yacht Sea Fox, which has been sending out distress calls from off Australia's north coast.

An Australian air force bomber reported it had spotted the missing yacht 90 miles northwest of Cape Wessel.

The pilot said the yacht seemed in no immediate danger.

Japan, Korea Deadlock

GENEVA (AP) — Japan and North Korea reached a new impasse today in negotiations for the repatriation of thousands of Koreans.

The Japanese government refused to sanction any agreement sending Koreans to Communist territory until the International Red Cross approved the pact.

President Leopold Brossier of the International Red Cross insisted his organization could not rule on any pact until it was signed.

Satchmo Can't Play

LAMBERTVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong canceled a special appearance here on doctor's orders last night. Armstrong, who fell ill with pneumonia last month, had been scheduled to attend a testimonial concert for him. But his doctors decided that it would be too early for Armstrong to attempt to play the trumpet again.

Sub To Test Polaris

Triplets' Dad Gets Help

SOUTHPORT, N.C. (AP) — Things are looking up for tenant farmer Nathan Miller and his family. They'll be on the way to greener pastures next week.

Miller, 55, said recently after his 35-year-old wife gave birth to triplet girls that they might have to offer the babies for adoption because of money problems. Miller made only $25 a week.

Yesterday, Miller accepted a $200-a-month job on an egg farm near Charlotte, N.C. The family will have a house rent free.

A Matter Of Money

Accusing him of extreme cruelty, the platinum blonde actress sued Albright for separate maintenance yesterday, saying he failed to provide proper support. Albright is now in the Army. They were married last December.

Miss Lee asked $535 a month expenses and said community property was unknown.

She previously was married to multimillionaire Frederick Tillinghast III and singer David Street.

Comic's Son In Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 20-year-old son of the late bazooka-playing comedian Bob Burns must pay $40 a week support for his 17-year-old wife and their infant son.

William Robin Burns testified at a Superior Court hearing yesterday that he is trying to live on $53 a week he earns as a gasoline station attendant. But he admitted he can dip into an $11,000 trust fund left by his father.

His wife, who expects another child in November, had sued for separate maintenance. They were married two years ago and separated last month.

Book Slightly Overdue

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — About five months before Admiral Peary reached the North Pole in 1909, someone checked the book "Castle Blair," out of the Carnegie Public Library.

It was returned yesterday, more than 50 years overdue. It was placed in a collection chute at a branch library.

Library officials said the book, overdue since Jan. 4, 1909, would have carried a $472.50 fine.

Jail For Beauty Queen

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — A former beauty queen who admitted she held up a drug store must serve an indefinite term in the Denver County jail.

She is Dixie Ann Gottfried, 19. Both the defense and prosecuting attorneys had asked that Mrs. Gottfried, Miss Colorado Jaycee last summer, be given probation.

But Dist. Judge H. H. Harrison denied probation, saying Mrs. Gottfried had "chosen to associate with police characters and partake in a serious crime."

AIR HERO'S SON AT WEST POINT

Colin P. Kelly III, son of America's first air hero of World War II, undergoes the familiar freshman bracing by an upper classman on his entry to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point yesterday. Putting the 19-year-old youth through his paces is Cadet Martin William Carey, first classman from Mariana, Fla. Kelly, whose entry into the academy was assured by request of the late President Roosevelt almost at his birth, chose to qualify through competitive examination instead of taking advantage of the Presidential recommendation. U.S. Air Units To Be Moved From France

PARIS (AP) — Three fighter-bomber wings of the U.S. Air Force will soon be moved from French bases to fields in Britain and West Germany, the United States announced today.

U.S. Ambassador to NATO W. Randolph Burgess made the decision known at a meeting of the North Atlantic Council.

The move had been generally expected because President Charles de Gaulle will not agree to storing U.S. atomic arms on French soil.

The transfer will involve 200 jet fighter-bombers which have been assigned atomic missions in case of war. The move is to be started immediately and will be completed before the end of the summer.

In the American view the French refusal to allow atomic stockpiles had made it impossible for the planes to fulfill their mission from French bases.

The shift to bases where atomic stockpiles would be close at hand was therefore the only logical military procedure, officials said.

Ike Hints At Special Session If Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Eisenhower hinted broadly today he might call a special session of Congress if he is denied the authority he wants for foreign aid spending.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference for comment on the Senate's action in voting to cut his mutual assistance request by 383½ million dollars.

The President said he is going to use all of his persuasive powers in attempting to convince members of Congress they will be ignoring the security of the nation and the vital interests of the world if they reduce foreign aid too sharply.

Senate Democrtic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas earlier had spoken out in an effort to head off further Senate cuts in the aid bill.

Eisenhower said if the authorization is reduced to the point where he can't go back to Congress next year for what he considers sufficient funds to carry out the program, he will have only one other resource. He said that would be to call a special session.

Eisenhower said vigorously he is never going to give up the fight for the foreign aid program.

Soviet Premier, Governors Talk Nearly 4 Hours

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev told seven American governors yesterday that friendship between the United States and the Soviet Union is the key to world peace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union "wants peace with all nations, but above all with the biggest and strongest — the United States of America."

"If there is friendship between us, there can never be war," the Soviet Premier declared in a three hour and 45-minute talk in the Kremlin with the U.S. state executives touring the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev said if another nation started a war, the Soviet Union and the United States together could halt it.

'TERRIBLE CALAMITY'

"But if the United States and the Soviet Union are ever in a conflict," he continued, "the result would be terrible calamity, because if we fight, no force on earth could ever halt us."

Later in the talk, Khrushchev stood fast on Soviet demands for Germany and Berlin which the Western Allies have repeatedly rejected.

Asked by Gov. Stephen McNichols of Colorado why not allow the German people to decide their future in a free, all-German election, Khrushchev said the East Germans don't want to see an end to their achievements and neither do the West Germans.

COLLINS ANSWERS

Referring to an exchange during which Khrushchev berated Americans for chasing the dollar, Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida said: "While Americans do like to make money, there are other things closer to them—love of family, love of home, freedom and liberty. They love these far beyond the dollar."

Khrushchev was silent for a moment and then answered, "Perhaps we do not have enough understanding of each other."

KOZLOV IRKED

Michigan's Governor, Soviet Visitor Tangle

CHICAGO (AP) — The Soviet Union's first deputy premier, Frol R. Kozlov, irked over an experience with Michigan's governor, came to Chicago today for a close-up look at U.S. steelmaking.

Kozlov and his official touring party arrived by plane from Detroit where he told newsmen Gov. G. Mennen Williams gave them an incorrect account of a private meeting of the two officials.

Williams had told reporters he had a "knock down and drag out" fight with Kozlov during an hour's talk Tuesday night. Kozlov told newsmen "the the governor is not too well-acquainted with international politics and he is not too correct in giving his account to the press."

VISITS TWO PLANTS

The Soviet party was met at Midway Airport and taken by automobile to the Inland steel mill in East Chicago, Ind., and to the U. S. Steel Corp. plant in Gary, Ind.

In his talk with reporters before leaving Detroit, Kozlov said: "The peoples of Eastern European countries have governments of their own free choice. They have chosen the system they want to live under."

"The governor bases his impressions and reactions on those who fled these countries and who do not represent the peoples of those countries," Kozlov said of Williams.

Gov. Williams, a Democrat serving his sixth term, has the backing of his state party for the 1960 presidential nomination. The governor described Kozlov as shrewd and tough, but appeared to feel he had the better of the Soviet official in their conference sparring.

PRIVATE CONFERENCE

For an hour Williams and Kozlov had a private conference in a Detroit hotel room following Kozlov's tour of industrial Detroit.

Williams said Kozlov flared up at a question of self-determination and free elections for the Soviet Union's European satellites.

Williams said Kozlov argued that the people of East Germany and other Soviet satellites had made their choice and that anything to the contrary was propaganda.

"He told me that all I heard was a lot of propaganda. I told him the American people would not believe a single word he said."

Ike States Personal View Of Segregation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Eisenhower said today he believes racial segregation is morally wrong when it interferes with equality of opportunity.

He explained he was referring to equality of opportunity in affairs controlled by government and in the economic and political fields.

This was the president's first flat statement of his personal feelings on segregation. It was made at a press conference.

Heretofore in the field of civil rights, the president has more or less confined himself to statements that it is his duty to support enforcement of the law as interpreted by the U.S. Supreme Court. He has steadfastly refused in the past to express an opinion on the principles considered by the court.

Other highlights of the president's new conference:

He expressed hope that steel wage negotiations would not lead to a strike, but that labor and management would continue negotiating until they reach an agreement.

He saw no reason why a Roman Catholic should not be elected to high national office.

He said the United States will go back into the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference next week sticking to its position that West Berlin must be kept free.

Real Estate Views and Values

"Do you think we should buy this home?" asked Mrs. Montley, as she and her husband concluded their second "look" at an attractive three-bedroom home.

"Before I answer," I said, "May I ask you a few questions? For in the final analysis, it is what you think that counts."

"Does it seem like a home that you can be happy in?" I asked.

"Yes," Mrs. Montley said.

"Are you satisfied that it is well constructed, and has a satisfactory room arrangement?"

"Let me answer that one," Mr. Montley replied. It's O.K."

"Does the home seem suitable for your family needs? Does it have enough bedrooms, both for the family today and for any planned additions?"

Arthur Hofmann

"Yes," said Mrs. Montley. "Do you like the neighbor, and the convenience to schools?"

"You know it's an extra nice neighborhood," replied Mrs. Montley.

"Have you shopped around enough to feel sure the price is in line with the market?"

"Yes," said Mr. Montley.

"Well, finally," I said, "Do you think you can conveniently meet the down payment and the monthly payments?"

"Mr. Montley nodded, "I'm sure we can."

"One final question then," I said. "Do you think you should buy it?"

They both grinned and shouted "Yes" in unison.

Lawyer Urges Clarification Of Smog Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An attorney urged today that a proposed anti-smog regulation for the San Francisco Bay Area be rewritten to make it clearer and thus, he said, avoid law suits.

Attorney Thomas M. Carlson, representing the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, gave his views at a hearing of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District. The district has proposed the anti-smog rule.

"The same ambiguities which are creating confusion in the minds of the people who are to be regulated will be confusing to district attorney and city attorneys who are expected to cooperate in enforcement of the law," Carlson added.

He urged that they participate in the rewriting.

Louis V. Olson, head of agricultural research for the American Smelting and Refining Co. at Selby, Contra Costa County, claimed the regulation was unfair to industrial firms. He said the smog-producing sulphur dioxide emitted by his stacks fell to the ground level in a diluted, harmless form.

Olson complained that when he told the smog district's staff his findings—based on 40 years of research and observation—they showed no interest.

able and the transcriber was competent and qualified to transcribe," said the decision written by Justice Schauer.

Chessman also asserted in his brief that the trial judge, the late Charles Fricke, denounced him in his instructions to the jury as one of the worst criminals ever before him and urged the jury to bring in a death penalty verdict.

Thief Steals Gas At Storage Yard

A meticulous thief drained about 100 gallons of gasoline from three pickup trucks at the W. L. Hickey and Sons storage yard at 2736 Redwood Highway, north of San Rafael, during the Fourth of July weekend, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Stanley Scott, purchasing agent for the firm, told officers yesterday that the front wire gate had been neatly snipped, then just as neatly replaced after the theft. Also missing are miscellaneous pipe wrenches and an electric drill and cord. Scott estimates loss at $100.

Congressmen Meet Teeners In Spelldown

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A middle-aged congressional team and three young California girls fought to an apparent draw in a crazy, mixed-up spelling bee today.

We say "apparent draw" because after it was all over no one was sure who had won.

Mary spelled the word just that way, but the judges ruled her out because the master spelling sheet had it "ficticious." A check of the dictionary later showed that the master list was wrong and Mary was right in her version.

"In that case, we'll have to declare it a draw," contest judge Matthew Nimetz said.

A slight infraction of the rules also helped the lawmakers—Reps. Hechler and California Democrats Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera and Jeffery Cohelan—edge out the girls.

SECOND TRY

Miller was allowed to take a second crack at the word "aggravate." The first time he spelled it with one "g" and then corrected himself.

Carolyn Storts, 14, of Gualala, Calif., had trouble with "seismograph," starting off the word with a "c" instead of an "s." Valerie Turner, 13, of Petaluma, spelled out "tercentenery" when it should have been "tercentenary."

ALL IN FUN

The proceedings were further confused when, because of a shortage of time, pronouncer William Duddleson had to skip quickly from round one to round four and then to the final round eight.

But it was all in fun and the congressmen agreed that the girls were the good-will winners.

As for Mary, she said later: "I was pretty sure I had spelled it right. But when they said I was wrong I thought they must know."

Then all three girls, accompanied by Mrs. La Norma Noonan of Santa Rosa, went off to see the Washington monument, spelled with an "e."

The girls were winners of the Redwood Empire spelling contest sponsored by the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat. They were brought on to Washington to face the lawmakers after they challenged and defeated a group of Santa Rosa businessmen.

Two Service Women Hurt In Accident

One WAF is using crutches and another is nursing cuts on her face and arms at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital as the result of an automobile accident early today in Novato.

Driver of the car, owned by Elaine Keifer of Hamilton, was A/3c Carol Roberta Harden, 24, of the 1080th Medical Holding Detachment at Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco. She was cited for speeding.

Her passenger was A/3c Barbara Young, 18, of the 43rd Communications Squadron at Hamilton.

The California Highway Patrol said the car went out of control at 2:30 a.m. while traveling west on Novato boulevard one and one-half miles west of Sutro lane.

The CHP said Miss Harden told them she was trying to get to Santa Rosa when she realized she was on the wrong road. The little foreign car went out of control, hit the side of a small bridge and crashed into a wooden pole.

Base hospital officials said the women showed up at the hospital at 5 a.m., that Miss Harden received a sprained knee in the accident, and that both women were cut on their faces and arms.

Roofing Tile Stolen

Thieves made off with a heavy haul of roofing tile from the Crown Roofing Co. on Highway 101 near Corte Madera, the owner complained to the sheriff last night.

Marlen Max Michael said 1,600 square feet of roofing tile was taken during the past three weeks, and another 1,300 square feet during the July 4 weekend. He estimated the loss at $300.

to the fire-fighters about mid-morning.

Firemen noted that the Frank's Valley area generally experiences winds in the afternoon. The winds might have caused serious trouble in fanning the blaze if the fire-fighters had not managed to hack a fire-break completely around the blaze by mid-morning.

"There was only one more canyon between the fire and Muir Woods when we got the fire line around it," pointed out Harry Steinberg, county fire department dispatcher.

BUDGET

will include a multi-purpose room and a classroom.

Achitects' preliminary drawings are expected to be ready for a special meeting to be held Aug. 3, at which time the board hopes to call for bids, he said. The board also will hold a public hearing on the budget at that time.

The board also was reorganized, with Donald McIsaac of Olema re-elected clerk. Dr. Gordon J. Pattes of Point Reyes Station was named president, replacing Toby Giacomini of Point Reyes Station, and Gus Kovats of Point Reyes Station was named trustee representative.

Stratton said the increase in the budget reflects the hiring of another teacher, and that possibly another will be hired before the summer is over.

Harry Kraft, 28, of Seacliff, N. Y., who holds a master of arts degree from New York University, was hired as a teacher of mathematics and the 8th grade home-room program, at $5,700 a year.

Trustees decided to discuss at the next meeting the possibility of including foreign languages in the upper grades.

Meeting Is Delayed

Last night's scheduled meeting of the Sausalito City Council was postponed at the last moment when it was discovered that no quorum would be present because of vacations and conflicting assignments.

Call BRUCE-TERMINIX before you have termites

When termites infest your home it's not an easy matter to stop their attack. A thorough treatment by experienced experts is required. This costs money. Repairing damage caused by termites is often even more expensive.

If your property is now free of termites, Bruce-Terminix can give you complete, guaranteed and insured protection against future expensive treatments and costly repairs.

Should your property be eligible, your only cost is a small yearly fee. On usual home construction, the price ranges from $12 to $28 per year. Non-residential structures at correspondingly low rates.

Marin Woman Is Shaken By Robbery

Elinor Ralston of Corte Madera was at work as usual today at Home Mutual Savings and Loan Assn. in San Francisco, although somewhat shaken after a robbery in which three men took $4,000 yesterday.

Miss Ralston, 40, who resides at 31 Corte Madera avenue, was at her teller's window at the loan office at 2201 Irving street yesterday when a tall swarthy man and two companions sauntered in. The big man shoved a note at Miss Ralston.

Miss Ralston obeyed.

The black-haired bandit leader then turned to Wallace Crawford, 40, of San Francisco, the office manager, and told him:

"You know what this is. Hand over your money. Keep quiet."

Crawford emptied two cash drawers of $4,000. The big bandit stuffed it in his pockets while his companions watched. Then all three walked out and leaped into a 1957 twin-tone Pontiac with a fourth man at the wheel. The car disappeared in traffic before police were reached.

Gallinas District Plans To Repair Its Sewage Plant

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District last night said they hoped some repairs to the district sewage treatment plant would be made in a week or so.

It was reported the plant has completely broken down, and raw sewage is going into the bay.

Repairs to the plant, previously administered by the Marin County Board of Supervisors as the Gallinas Village Sewer Maintenance District, were taken over by the community services district last Wednesday.

Director Jay Crotty said more than $10,000 is being spent to put the plant back into operation, and that it is hoped that the primary clarifier will be back in operation in a week.

He said the Sonoma Construction Co., which is making the repairs, is trying to get the work completed so bay waters will not be polluted.

Mt. Tamalpais Job Bids Are Opened

The Wilson bid was $79,944. The next two bids were Herrero Brothers, Inc., San Francisco, $80,913, and Frank L. Brandeburg, doing business as Natural Enterprises, San Carlos, $82,447.

The bids will be reviewed by the Army Engineers and, in about 30 days, the successful contractor will get the job.

Prisoner Escapes Humboldt Camp

A twice-committed San Quentin prisoner escaped last night from Conservation Camp 17 in Humboldt County.

Raymond Earl Lockwood, 27, was last seen at 9:30 p.m. He was missing at the 10 p.m. count.

Lockwood was first received at Chino in 1953 on a burglary conviction, was later paroled and was returned to San Quentin in July, 1956 for first degree robbery.

STEP TOWARD TRANSIT TUBE

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today signed the bill committing the state to construction of a 115-million-dollar transbay underwater rapid transit tube linking San Francisco and Oakland. Voters of a five-county rapid transit district, including Marin County, will have to approve a 500-million-dollar bond issue to finance the rest of the system. Watching the governor affix his signature is State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), author of the bill. (AP Wirephoto)

Low-Level Sewer Line Rejected For Paradise Cay

Corte Madera Sanitary District directors last night turned down a suggestion that a sewage main from Paradise Cay subdivision to its line in front of Marin Country Day School be placed along an easement below Paradise drive.

A. S. Giesecke, president of the Paradise Drive Property Owners Assn., entered the suggestion of a low-level line instead of the district's planned pressure main in Paradise drive.

The main in Paradise drive will require pumping sewage to an elevation of 75 feet from Paradise Cay. Pumping charges would be less if the line were below Paradise drive but the district would be required to allow property owners to build over the easement, Director Ben K. Rippe said.

The three directors at last night's meeting, Rippe, Herbert I. Vernet and Ernest T. Mock turned down the proposal.

A proposed 1959-60 budget was distributed to the directors who will discuss it at an adjourned meeting on Monday, at 7:30 p.m. at the district office, 500 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera.

Contract Renewed By Water District

The North Marin Water District last night renewed its contract with the U.S. Geological Services for maintenance of the gauging station in Arroyo Sausal in the Walker Creek area.

The district will pay $1,080 for the service for the current fiscal year.

The board also reviewed holiday and vacation policies and set them in writing, and wrote job descriptions for the posts of pump operator-repair man and secretary.

Apartment Application To Be Heard

An application for a use permit for a million-dollar 69-unit apartment project at the foot of Sausalito's Valley street is scheduled to be heard at tonight's meeting of the Sausalito Planning Commission, according to Chairman Victor E. Hecht.

The meeting will be held in the city hall at 8 o'clock.

The use permit is being sought by the William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael, which would construct the apartments for the property owners, Maj. and Mrs. A. Jack Weber of Tiburon.

The commission is also scheduled to hold hearings on two rezoning applications. One involves a portion of the Morden Dunn tract near Bayside School; the other, the Heiser property at the upper end of Hurricane Gulch as a potential apartment site.

Greenbrae Board Approves Repairs

Seven directors of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last night authorized repair of swings, new basketball baskets, and cleaning a sandbox in a small park on Corte Los Sombras just off Sir Francis Drake boulevard, reported DeWitt Kenneth MacDonald, president of the association.

A membership meeting is being planned for September or October, he said. Next meeting of the directors will be Aug. 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Marchand, corresponding secretary.

Helena, capital of Montana, was first named Last Chance Gulch.

Low Humidity Seen In State Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Fair and warmer, with lower humidity was the general forecast today for Northern and Central California.

The five-day forecast, through next Monday, said no rain is in sight and temperatures will be above normal except along the coast where readings should hold close to normal.

Heart Attack Fatal For Mrs. Newlon

Mrs. Kathryne Newlon, 53, died at her San Anselmo home this morning, apparently of a heart attack.

Resuscitator attempts to revive her were unsuccessful.

Her husband, William, called the San Anselmo Fire Department and the resuscitator crew worked for 30 minutes before she was pronounced dead by Dr. Joseph Alderson.

The Newlons resided at 9 Jordan avenue. They lived previously at Morningside court after moving to Marin two years ago.

Mrs. Newlon had been under doctor's care previously in Walnut Creek. Her husband is a life insurance salesman in San Francisco.

Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo will send the body to Everett, Wash., for funeral services and interment.

Cole: 'Don't Think I Can Beat This'

GEORGE COLE
'I don't remember'

DES MOINES (AP)—George E. Cole, an ex-convict whom the FBI tabbed as one of its most wanted men after the killing of a San Francisco policeman, sat in jail today wondering what is to become of him.

He was still pondering how the federal men tracked him down when he had been living a respectable life for two years as operator of a Des Moines gas station.

To the charge that he fired the shots that slew police Sgt. Joseph E. Lacey, 40, in an attempted 1956 cocktail lounge holdup, the 32-year-old Cole replied:

"It's possible that I did it, but I don't remember." He said he was drunk at the time.

"I know what I can get out of this," he added. "I think it's hopeless. I don't think I can beat it."

On his left hand and arm Cole has a tattoed six-point star and the words "Mom and Dad."

"My tattos probably identified me," he said. "I thought about getting rid of them—burning them off with acid—but I never got around to it."

U.S. Space Plane Gets Pug Nose For High Flights

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—When the X15 rocket plane blasts off toward the fringes of space it will have a pug, not a needle nose.

A round ball that replaces the lance-like nose of the swept-wing experimental ship was turned over to this test facility yesterday.

The new nose is instrumented so the pilot can determine immediately any pitching or side-slipping that could create intense friction.

The X15 will retain its needle nose throughout the lower atmosphere tests. The ball nose will be installed when the plane is turned over to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for high altitude flights later this year.

Subsiding Wind Helps Control Forest Blaze

SIERRAVILLE (AP) — Weary firefighters pressed mopping up operations today against a six-day blaze that devastated 10,800 acres in Tahoe National Forest.

"Barring gusty winds, we don't expect further trouble," said forest supervisor Henry Branagh. The forecast was for subsiding winds.

Yesterday's 1,300-man crew probably will be reduced to about 900, he said, for mopping up operations expected to last several days.

We Welcome A New Light Industry—A Baptist Seminary

Marin has a new light industry.

The president and managerial staff have moved into their new offices and the first of the "raw materials" are moving into the dormitories.

We refer to the new Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, which is now "ready for business" at its new college campus on Strawberry Point.

Already more than four million dollars has been spent in construction of the new facilities. There is still much to do.

But more important to Marin than the physical facilities or even the business which such an enterprise must generate, are the people who will come here and what they will bring to us.

Expected are more than 400 students when the first classes start to study in September. Many of them are married and will bring wives and children to live here.

In addition there will be scores of teachers and administrative staff. It is not unlikely that the total population of the college will approach 2,000 by the end of the year.

We in Marin already know the type of person such an establishment attracts. We have for years lived with and benefitted from San Francisco Theological Seminary, the great Presbyterian college in San Anselmo.

These young men and women attracted to the new seminary will not be stiff, blue-nosed reformers, wild-eyed and impractical. They will be warm, friendly, concerned young people, wanting to learn not only about Jesus Christ and his teachings, but also about people, how they live and what these students individually can do to make that life more fruitful and happy.

And the instructors, as we have found, are wonderfully informed, vitally alive individuals with interests which range far beyond textbooks and classrooms. As in San Anselmo, we are sure the presence of these men in Southern Marin will be a valuable addition to our neighborhood, to our list of friends, and to our cultural life.

We welcome you, Dr. Harold K. Graves, the seminary president, all of your staff, all of your students and their families to Marin County. We hope you all will enjoy it here as much as we know we are going to enjoy having you.

NOT BUYING ANY, THANKS—

Society Artists Get Best Treatment

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to know why the artists, who participated in the Marin Art and Garden Fair, and were not members of the Marin Society of Artists, were excluded from the Art Area. There was obviously plenty of room around the gallery, and yet non-members were relegated to an area near the barn with exhibits that were completely unrelated.

This is particularly curious, as last year was the first time that unaffiliated artists were permitted to exhibit in a state and county sponsored fair, and were not separated — but all paintings were given equally good exhibition space since they were hung cheek by jowl.

This year many excellent paintings of non-members were rejected for "lack of space."

If this is a permanent policy I would like to suggest that next year the Marin Society of Artists be given the "Outer Mongolia" territory and the non-affiliated Marin artists be given the gallery.

Humane Society Is Well Run

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just read the Reporter's Notebook written by Diana Bruce regarding the Marin County Humane Society. I am appalled by the ignorance displayed by Miss Bruce and at the I-J for hiring reporters who write stories before they get all the facts.

We are most fortunate for having such a well-run Humane Society in Marin County. If you have ever seen dogs brutally beaten or starving to death while being kept in filthy cages too small for them to stand up in, you would know what a God-send our Humane Society is. They stop these things.

The sad fact is that most people really don't care enough. They do not know of the wonderful job Mel Morse is doing as the secretary of the Marin County Humane Society or of the real protection the society gives to ALL animals.

Why is it that people will 'own' an animal, but when it is sick or poisoned and they can't get free veterinarian service they let it die rather than pay the bill. I personally know these things to be true. I have seen it happen too often.

I wish that Miss Bruce were aware of these facts, as she might do the county a service fighting for the Humane Society instead of criticising it. In the future, Miss Bruce should be encouraged to write constructive articles concerning the Humane Society and its program to help all animals in our Marin County.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HER BABY WASN'T TROUBLE

A young mother made an apt distinction between "work" and "trouble" recently when she took part-time work to meet an emergency.

An employer nearby offered to let her work as many hours as she could spare. But she said her child needed most of her time and attention and she could not be away more than a couple of hours a day.

The employer, trying to be sympathetic, unwittingly commented: "Your baby must be a lot of trouble."

Quick as a flash, she respectfully but poignantly retorted: "My baby is not a lot of trouble! He's a lot of work, that's sure, but that's not trouble."

Those motivated by a sense of love or dedication seldom feel sorry for themselves. Their tasks often involve heartaches and heartbreaks, but in one way or another they become a labor of love.

When you realize the importance of fulfilling the particular mission or vocation God ha assigned to you, your burdens will become easier. Purpose always makes a big difference.

"Come to me all you that labor and are burdened and I will refresh you."
(Matthew 11:28)

Remind all men, O Master, that each of them has an important mission in life to fulfill.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Hildegarde Is Still Reigning Queen Of Supper Club Circuit

NEW YORK (AP) — "I always wanted to make money while I slept," said Hildegarde.

"I did it with my phonograph records — and now I hope to do it with oil wells."

In 1956 Hildy disposed of 85 per cent of her prize collection of modern art and started out to collect oil wells. She now owns an interest in 10 producing wells in Oklahoma.

But "the dear that made Milwaukee famous" is too energetic to sit idly by and let oil wells support her.

After more than 30 years of song belting before kings and butter-and-egg men, she is still a reigning queen of the supper club circuit.

She has long been called "The Incomparable," and she still deserves the title. None of the newer lady songbirds has quite her timeless feminine charm, her gay authority over a crowded room. Like Marlene Dietrich, she seems destined to roll along forever.

"I don't want to retire until I get fat — and I never intend to get fat," she says.

Success didn't come easy for the hazel-eyed, blonde singer. She dreamed, as a chubby young girl in Milwaukee, of becoming a concert pianist. She performed in vaudeville and played as an accompanist before she became a solo artist.

In Paris she sang for as little as $1 a night in small cabarets. Later, as a famous radio, recording and supper club star she earned up to $20,000 a week.

"I still practice on the piano and take singing lessons," she said. "You never reach the point where you can't improve yourself or learn something new."

HILDEGARDE journeyed more than a million miles by car, train and ship before she got over her fear of the airplane. Now she uses the sky lanes.

Hildegarde has a fabulous collection of gowns costing $400 up each, 10 times as many pairs of gloves — she plays the piano with her gloves on — and hundreds of the lacy handkerchiefs she uses in her act. They cost from $25 to $75 apiece.

"YOU HAVE to live for others as well as yourself if you are to find any happiness. You should try to make this world a better place, not only by religion but by your own behavior," is her philosophy.

"We hear so much about evil. I think we should stress good more — and not be ashamed of good."

Hildegarde has never married.

"I've been on the verge many times," she said, "but I'm still a bachelorette — trying to find Mr. Right.

"I wonder if I ever will. Everybody seems married lately."

Secret Service Men Go To Grade School

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Travelers from Gettysburg report a small group of secret service agents busily engaged in moving into rented homes and preparing for grammar school next year.

Why?

Maj. John S. Eisenhower, the President's son, has moved with his wife and their four children to Gettysburg. It will be their permanent home — at least, as permanent as any young army officer can call his dwelling.

Three of the children, who have been in private schools in Alexandria, Va., will attend public school in Gettysburg next fall. Attending with them will be a select group of adult scholars carrying .38 revolvers instead of lunch boxes.

A LAW PASSED after the assassination of President William McKinley directs the U. S. Secret Service to protect the President and members of his family. As a practical matter, it is not necessary to maintain a watch over John Eisenhower and his pretty wife, Barbara, but the President's grandchildren rate 24-hour protection.

The youngest, Mary Jean, won't be four until next December. So she's too young for school.

David, 11, will be in the sixth grade next year; Barbara Anne, 10, in the fifth grade, and Susan, 7, in the second grade.

AFTER SOME gun-crazy Puerto Rican nationalists tried to shoot up Blair House when President Truman was in office, congress expanded the specific protection of the Secet Service to the vice president — but not to his family.

Thus, the two daughters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon attend school without accompanying agents. But if Nixon thought such extra protection was necessary, it would be provided without question.

THE SECRET Service does not like to discuss its protection arrangements in detail, but it can be said with authority that at least several agents will be permanently occupied in Gettysburg seeing to the safety of the Eisenhower grandchildren.

The will escort the children to school, and then take up stations in the hallways outside the classrooms. This was done in the private schools in Alexandria.

AGENTS ASSIGNED to the grandchildren are chosen carefully. They are low-pressure fellows, quiet, somewhat on the young side and discreet.

Agents have had to go to school with or near the children and grandchildren of presidents on many previous occasions. Some went to college with the Roosevelt boys.

Aside from strong entertainment values, Bill Ballantine's Wild Tigers and Tame Fleas provides some invaluable hints to people who may have cause to enter deep woods or jungles — or who crave to join a circus.

Remember, warns Ballantine, that one should beware of all four sides of a camel; that one should never pat an elephant on its trunk; that those cute sea lions have a devastating bite; and that, aside from even better reasons for not putting one's head in a lion's mouth, the king of beasts has the worst case of halitosis in the entire jungle.

"It is not safe," continues Ballantine, "to back up and run from an attacking tiger. Better just stand pat and speak sharply enough." We'll try to remember that, Mr. B.!

Supervisors' Budget Sessions Are Dull, But They Have Livelier Spots

Sitting through the board of supervisors' budget sessions is dull going for supervisors, press and public alike, but occasionally it has its livelier moments.

To wit:

ALONG CAME a communique from Marvin Brigham, public works director, advising that providing a drainage ditch at the Santa Venetia Little League ball park, would cost $3,300, and advising that if the board wanted the ditch, it should stick an item of $3,300 in the budget.

A couple of the supervisors took a dead-panned look at the Brigham letter, and offered some observations.

"Hmm," observed Bill Fusselman, "It seems to me this should be up to the fellow they named the park after."

"Hmm, yes," chimed in Jim Marshall. "It's an obligation that goes with the honor."

Name of the park: Castro Field.

A BIT LATER, along came a claim from one Joseph F. Silveira for two drowned cows.

It appeared that the cows were grazing on the county's civic center property, under some sort of lease or rental arrangement effective until the county starts to develop the property. They grazed their way onto a covered well, and their combined weight caved in the cover, sending the cows to a watery grave.

County Counsel Lee Jordan recommended the county reject the claim. Fusselman was not so sure, and wanted to know what the liability situation would be if it had been a human who fell in.

Jordan said it depends on the circumstances in which the person is on the property.

"A trespasser does not have the same rights as an invitee or a business visitor," he pointed out.

The board also set this matter over for future consideration, possibly on the theory that in the instant case the cows qualified as business visitors.

SOMEWHAT LATER, the board ran into a budget item of $5,231 for messenger service between county offices. Several of the supervisors were taking dim views of this, and County Clerk George S. Jones spoke up with a dimmer one.

"We don't need to spend $5,200 to get letters carried from office to office," he said. "It would help, though, if each office would have a lower-paid worker carry them, instead of having the top people in the offices doing it.

"Why," he snorted, "there's one department in which the number-one assistant to the department head goes around carrying mail to other offices, and what's more, he stands at the counter in my office for 15 minutes each time, gassing with the clerks.

"I finally had to tell him to stay out of the office," Jones concluded.

The board went along with Jones, blue-pencilling the $5,231 and indicating it favors a policy of mail carrying by junior clerks, not senior departmental assistants.

LATER, JONES got his oar in again. A discussion was underway about some supervisors having noticed from time to time that some employees in the glass-walled IBM department in the basement were not exactly wearing themselves out on the job.

"Well," said Jones, "if we had glass walls on some of the other county offices, you'd see a lot more people not doing anything."

Nixon And Friends Making Headway In Shaking Off Republican Defeatism

LOS ANGELES — Republican leaders in Vice President Nixon's home territory feel that things are looking up. That's reasonable; up is the only direction when you're flat on the floor.

Largely at his initiative, the Republican organization is slowly regaining consciousness from the blackout which came over it last November when it lost practically everything in sight, including governor, senator, state legislation — and the will to win.

Some headway is visible.

THE RECENTLY completed "100-day campaign" in Los Angeles County, where 43 per cent of Republican voters in California reside, was designed to re-open shop and put the Republican Central Committee back into active business.

It has shaken off some lethargy and defeatism.

It is beginning to stimulate some financial contributions—$50,000 in a month — and when finances start to flow, that is a sign that rigor mortis is leaving.

It has got Republicans speaking to each other even if they are not getting very far enlisting new support.

There is no doubt that the vice president is the spark behind whatever progress is being made. He strongly urged Republican workers to adjourn idological disputes and put organization-building ahead of everything else at this stage. They took his advise. And it is "Nixon" men, committed to Nixon philosophy and to his presidential cause, who are key figures in whatever has been done.

THE ASCENDANT strength of the Democrats here is reflected in the results of the California poll which is published in a number of California newspapers and which has a long record of reliability. Its most interesting findings are these:

That Nixon is favored by Republicans 49 to 23 per cent over Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

That Adlai Stevenson is favored by Democrats, 29 to 17 per cent over Sen. John Kennedy.

That both Stevenson and Kennedy run ahead of Nixon by approximately 12 percentage points in Nixon's state.

That while a trial heat between Pat Brown and Nixon shows the new Democratic governor running 1 per cent ahead of Nixon, Rockefeller runs 7 per cent ahead of Brown.

THIS LAST finding underlines the kind of imponderable question which the Republican National convention will probably have to resolve next summer: If Rockefeller can do better winning Democrats, can he do well enough holding the Republican vote? If Nixon can do better with Republicans than Rockefeller, can he do well enough with the Democrats to win?

These polls do not assume to predict what voter opinion will show six months or a year hence. But they do reveal now how far behind scratch the Republican party continues to be in California.

15-ROUNDER ON TELEVISION

Halimi, Bacerra In Title Go Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Durable Alphonse Halimi of France tonight puts up his bantamweight crown as the prize for challenger Jose Becerra's best punches in their 15-round title bout.

The championship fight is being telecast nationally (ABC), but is blacked out in Southern California which was expected to provide most of the 16,000 or more fans expected in the new Sports Arena.

The 7 p.m. PDT bout is the dedicatory event in the six million dollar structure on which workers are still applying the finishing touches.

The Mexican challenger is the second man from his country to try to lift Halimi's title. Raul (Raton) Macias made the first attempt Nov. 6, 1957, here in Los Angeles. Becerra was on the same card and suffered a crushing defeat — knocked out in four rounds by Dwight Hawkins, a defeat he later reversed.

Halimi, the 27-year-old French-Algerian of Jewish ancestry, probably will try to put on the same type of fight against Becerra that he did against Macias with the hope for the same victorious result. The bull-shouldered champion shoots for points with a powerful body attack and after he has weakened his opponent sufficiently either continues on for a decision or then tries for a knockout.

HALIMI STRONG

A strong little man, Halimi gets better as the fight progresses and if the bout goes the limit was heavily favored to score a decision.

Becerra, 23, on the other hand, is a strong puncher when he is fresh. He will be shooting for a quick knockout and his ability to go 15 rounds is untested, never having gone that route.

Becerra has won his last 11 fights by knockouts including an important victory in 10 rounds over Mario D'Agata of Italy, the former bantamweight champ whom Halimi defeated for the title.

$65,000 PURSE

Halimi has fought six non-title fights since defeating Macias and is anxious to preserve his crown and the purses it has brought him. The champion is receiving $65,000 guaranteed and all expenses for risking his title while Becerra is fighting for a $20,000 guarantee.

Should Becerra win, the contract calls for a rematch within the next three months either here or in Paris.

Casey To Shakeup Lineup For Next All-Star Contest

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Manager Fred Haney plans to use the same starting lineup in next month's All-Star game in Los Angeles as the one which defeated the American League 5-4 for the National League's first victory in three years.

The American League squad, however, may have a few new faces. That was losing manager Casey Stengel's ill-concealed threat yesterday after his athletes let the game slip out of their hands after coming from behind with a three-run rally in the top of the eighth inning.

"I got four or five fellows in mind I'd like to have for the next game," he said. "And I'm going to use a couple of them, too. And nobody is going to pick 'em but me."

Stengel didn't single out any player for the blame in the defeat, but he made no bones about the fact that he wasn't satisfied with the pitching of Whitey Ford, his own star lefthander of the Yankees.

Ford was on the mound when the Nationals roared back with two runs in the bottom half of the eighth to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

Stengel also might have felt that if Mickey Mantle, his limping slugger, had been playing in center field, he might have caught up with Willie Mays' booming triple in the eighth that drove in the payoff run.

The ball, which Mays later admitted was the hardest he has hit all season, sailed over Harvey Kuenn's head and bouned against the right-center field wall. Kuenn, Detroit's right fielder, had replaced Al Kaline in center. Mantle, who normally would have played there, was in right field because of a sprained ankle.

When asked whether he thought Mantle would have caught the ball, Stengel growled: "You want me to put the rap on my players but I won't do it. I don't want to take anything away from Mays. It was no soft fly ball he hit, you know."

STENGEL UNHAPPY

Although he was careful not to say anything that might be construed as criticism of his players, Casey indicated he was not very happy with their play.

"The (the Nationals) played worse than we did," he said. "But they won and that's what counts. Those guys were lucky we didn't score more runs in the eighth, or else they were just playing with us when they let us fill the bases twice. It took a great catch to beat us."

Casey probably was referring to Hank Aaron's fine catch off Gus Triandos with two mates on base. That occurred in the fourth inning when the Americans scored their first run, on Kaline's homer. Two hits followed but Aaron prevented further scoring with his running catch in right center.

"To tell you the truth, I thought we were going to stay ahead after we got ahead in the eighth," Stengel said. "I had my knuckle-baller (Hoyt Wilhelm) all ready to pitch the ninth, but I never got a chance. Anyway, it was a good game. I don't want to criticize anybody."

HANEY HAPPY

Haney, on the other hand, had nothing but praise for all his players. The little Milwaukee skipper, happy as a lark over his team's come-from-behind triumph, hailed his first win in two All-Star managerial efforts, a team victory.

"You all saw it," he ejaculated. "It was a team victory all the way. They were all great. I defy anybody to single out any one player. Mays was great; Aaron was great; Banks was great; but so was Temple and Mathews and Crandall and Drysdale. We had some fine pitching and defensive work. Heck, everybody was great."

Haney declined to take any credit even though it was his strategy that set up the tying run in the eighth inning when the Nationals scored twice to overcome a 4-3 deficit. Kenny Boyer of St. Louis, batting for winning pitcher Johnny Antonelli, singled to open it. Haney sent up Pittsburgh's Dick Groat to hit for Eddie Mathews although the National League's home run leader had socked a four-bagger in the opening inning. Groat laid down a neat sacrifice and Aaron came through with a sharp single to score Boyer with the tying run.

"Good strategy?" Haney laughed. "Well, when it works you're a genius. When it does not, look out."

Haney made just two changes, at second and third base. Six players — Mays, Aaron Banks, Orlando Cepeda, Wally Moon and Del Crandall—went all the way.

Stengel used 22 players, one short of the record.

Antonelli, who threw six pitches in putting out the fire in the eighth, was credited with the victory but the best pitching was done by Don Drysdale. The Los Angeles right-hander, honored with the starting assignment, retired all nine batters he faced, striking out four.

Kialoa Holds Lead In Handicap Rating

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Kialoa, the 50-foot yawl out of Newport Harbor, Calif., held its lead in the handicap ratings entering the fifth day of sailing today in the 2,225-mile Transpacific Yacht Race from Los Angeles to Honolulu.

At last report by radio yesterday the 161-foot schooner Goodwill retained its lead of the 41-yacht fleet, but still was far down in the handicap ratings.

The Kialoa wasn't a contender among the leaders of the fleet, but its handicap places it ahead in the adjusted ratings based on size and classification of each ship.

42-MILE LEAD

The Goodwill, owned by Ralph Larrabee and sailing out of Newport Harbor, was 1625 miles from its destination at roll call yesterday, about one-fourth of the distance. It led by 42 miles its nearest contender, Sally Blair Ames' 75-foot schooner Constellation, followed by Baldwin M. Baldwin's 72-foot jawl Escapade, E. L. Doheny's 75-foot Kamalii and Ira P. Fulmor's 60-foot yawl criterion.

In the handicap ratings the field looked like this: behind Kialoa were Criterion, Constellation, Kamalii, Maruffa, Westward Ho, Escapade, Tiare, Marilen and Jada.

ROUGH WEATHER

The ships sailed in rough seas and rain yesterday and were holding a speed of about 12 to 16 miles an hour. The Kamalii reported its spinnaker head lashing let go in the morning and smashed over the bow. The sail was recovered but the pole was lost. The craft sailing out of Los Angeles reported it had an extra pole aboard.

Four yachts failing to report at the daily radio roll call yesterday were Stanley Bishoprick's 56-foot schooner Carahleen, Portland, Ore.; John Hedden's 64.5-foot yawl Good News, San Francisco; John P. Scripp's 89-foot ketch Novia Del Mar, San Diego, and Peter Grant's 46-foot sloop Nalu II.

The catamaran Aikane, owned by Kenneth Murphy, was unofficially listed yesterday as having come from a 40-mile trailing position to near the leading pace set by Goodwill.

Aussie Aces Won't Compete In AAU Swim This Weekend

By JACK STEVENSON

LOS ALTOS (AP)—Australians Murray Rose and Jon Henricks are skipping the national AAU Swimming Tournament and that opens up four races.

Rose won both the 400 and 1,500-meter events last year while Henricks captured both the 100 and 200-meter sprints.

The two Aussies attend the University of Southern California and last year represented the Los Angeles Athletic Club. This year neither is affiliated with the club. Rose has been training for two meets in Japan while Henricks has been working and is out of training.

Lance Larson, another USC swimmer, gives the LAAC strong representation in the sprints while youthful Gary Heinrich of San Leandro could be the top threat in the 400 meters. He placed second to Rose in the indoor 100.

Competition opens Friday morning at the Fremont Hills Country Club, with a trip to Japan awaiting the winners. The U. S. team will leave for Japan July 14 for competition with the best swimmers there.

Bob Murphy, general manager of Fremont Hills, today estimated 300 swimmers and divers will compete in the three-day meet. Preliminaries will be held in the mornings and afternoons each day with finals in the evening, starting at 5 p.m. on Friday and 6:45 on Saturday and Sunday.

Indianapolis Athletic Club, the defending team champion, has entered a 13-man squad led by Frank McKinney, defending champion in both 100-meter and 200-meter breaststroke. McKinney hold the American record in the 200 at 2 minutes 20.8 seconds.

Other individual champions representing the Indianapolis A. C. are Mike Troy in the 100-meter butterfly and Frank Brunnell in the 400-meter freestyle events. Bill Cass in the 100 and 200-meter free style and Bill Barton in the 100 and 200-meter butterfly.

Softball Contest Held In Strawberry

The first week's operation of the Strawberry Recreation District summer program ended Friday with a softball skill contest, according to Director Cal Riemcke. Ribbons were presented to winners and place finishers in all events.

A tournament day is scheduled for Friday, with competition planned in ping pong, checkers, chess, horseshoes and other games, Riemcke announced.

COW PALACE TO HOST NCAA CAGE FINALS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Cow Palace in San Francisco will be the scene March 18-19 of the 1960 NCAA basketball championships.

The NCAA University Basketball Tournament Committee selected the site last night. The association's Executive Committee must approve the action, expected to be a formality.

The four regional NCAA tournaments March 11-12 will be held at Charlotte, N.C.; Louisville, Ky.; Manhattan, Kan., and Seattle, Wash.

The title tournament has not been held on the West Coast since 1952.

A. C. Lonborg, athletic director at the University of Kansas and chairman of the basketball tournament committee, said in announcing the selection the University of California would be host to the event.

Announcement of the tournament sites came at the conclusion of the committee's two-day meeting here.

Novato Wins By Upset In S. R. Softball

Novato Merchants moved into first place in the second round of the San Rafael Recreation Department Men's Softball League last night when they upset Sohner Tree Service, 3-2, in an extra-inning thriller at Albert Park.

The Merchants, 0-4 in the first round, thus notched their second consecutive victory and hold a half-game bulge over Presidio Army Base which won by forfeit over Pacific Telephone last night.

Sohner Tree Service rallied for two runs in the seventh inning to send the contest into overtime.

Novato then won the game in the ninth on an infield hit, an error, and a perfectly-placed squeeze bunt.

The A Division resumes play next Tuesday when Sohner (1-1) meets Presidio (1-0) in a 7:30 opener and Pacific Telephone (0-2) plays Hamilton Field's 28th Air Division (0-1) in the 9:15 nightcap. Novato (2-0) draws a bye.

Two Thrillers In Prep Cage League

Two close decisions and one rout marked last night's play in the high school division of the Drake Summer Basketball League.

Schaefer's Sports Shop nipped Tam, 26-25 and Redwood shaded San Rafael, 35-34 in the thrillers while Marin Catholic rolled up a 48-14 triumph over Drake in the other game.

High scorers of the night were Art Quinn of Marin Catholic and Bill Travis of San Rafael with 15 each, Ron Blum of March with 13 and Rick Reide of Redwood with 11.

Mays Admits Triple Was His Hardest Hit

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Willie Mays is hitting a cool .400 in All-Star competition. The San Francisco center fielder seems to be able to rise to the occasion.

Willie's tremendous triple to the ivy-covered wall in right center field in the eighth inning drove home the winning run in the National League's 5-4 victory over the American League yesterday at Forbes Field.

"Was that the hardest hit ball by you this season?" a fellow asked Mays.

"Man, I don't remember hitting any harder," he answered.

Mays has hit 14 home runs in regular National League play and has knocked in 56 runs while batting .311. None of his hits were as important as the blow off Whitey Ford that broke a two-game National League losing streak.

It was the sixth All-Star game for the 28-year-old speedster who captured the hearts of New York fans at the Polo Grounds before the Giants moved west.

Mays was one of six regulars to go all the way in line with manager Fred Haney's plan to play the game like a regular season contest and not as an exhibition.

"Man, didn't you see me wearing the helmet," he replied. "That's the first time I wore one all year."

Mays explained that he conforms with the rule about wearing protective head gear by using a cap with an inner lining.

He practically swung out from under his helmet as he became the first of Duren's four strike out victims. Willie was the first to face Duren in the fourth inning.

Until Mays unloaded the triple in the eighth he had been held hitless. He lined out in the first, when Early Wynn was pitching, struck out and hit into a force play against Duren.

Mrs. Gemmell Wins Putting Tourney

Mrs. Ronald Gemmell used only 29 putts yesterday to win first place in the Marin Golf Club's low putt tournament. Mrs. William Weeks with 31 was second.

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

Reinstatement Of Hunting Season For Archers Hailed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) —Gov. Edmund G. Brown has scored a bull's eye with California bowmen by signing into law the bill which will reinstate their two 10-day archery deer hunting seasons for this year.

The bill, AB2543, by Assemblyman Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose), was signed just five days before the first of the advance seasons will open, this Saturday. This season, the forerunner of the coastal deer season, will extend until July 20, with the archery season in the inland Sierra territory to run from Sept. 12-21.

The Fish and Game Commission voted May 29 to combine the archery season with the regular gun season. The move was met with loud criticism and volleys of telegrams and letters.

As a result, the Bradley bill, largely technical, was amended to override the commission regulation and restore the two 10-day archery seasons. They had been in effect for the past dozen years.

Archers contended the very nature of their type of hunting, calling for sneaking through the brush to get within close range of the bucks, would make it impossible to hunt deer during a regular gun season. Too many hunters are prone to shoot at anything that moves, and especially an object sliding through the brush or trees.

The amended Bradley bill was passed in short order in the legislature with little or no opposition. Then came the decision for Gov. Brown —whether to honor the wish of the Legislature and archers or to honor the Fish and Game Commission, which is appointed by the Governor.

BY-PASS PROCEDURE

As a result of the strong and vocal support for the bill, the normal procedures on considering bills were by-passed in the governor's office. If the bill had taken its normal course of review, it could not have been passed in time for the opening.

In signing the archery bill, Brown made a couple of significant comments.

He said "the commission's action was taken without long study and hearings on the matter, and that this fact was decisive in his approval." In addition, he called on the commission to hold a number of special hearings on the archery season question between now and Jan. 1, 1961, when the legislation expires.

The archery season incident has brought considerable criticism of the mechanics of regulation setting. Technically, the commission was able to change the season during its May 29 meeting. However, from a practical standpoint, there was no advance notice of such a change.

The whole system of two meetings of the commission on regulation and season setting is designed to give advance notice to interested parties. Nothing can be discussed or adopted during the second meeting which was not in the record at the first. Because deer seasons in general were discussed in April, the commission was able to change the archery season in May.

Campaign For Return Of Bunt, Percentage Baseball Abandoned

CONNOLLY

From now on we are abandoning our baby . . . the campaign to restore the bunt and percentage baseball.

For some time we've been scolding Bill Rigney, manager of the SF Giants. It seems that Rig and I can't see eye to eye on run making. He maintains one run isn't any good and will not win a ball game.

I say just the opposite. But of late it seems that young Rig with reckless abandon has thrown the bunt out the window.

In fact I sometime think he'd sooner lose a ball game by one run than see Willie Mays, Willie Kirkland, Orlando Cepada or Jackie Brandt bunt.

So it's not worth it and I wash my hands of the campaign.

I'm retiring in favor of the long clout. "Rig" seems to know more about flaming youth and the big inning than this old duffer, so I'm letting the air out of my wind-bag and my non-skid tires and from now on will go along with the 1959 jallopy, jittery baseball style. I decided if I can't beat 'em, I'll join 'em.

Being a member of the Old-timers Union and in good standing, as a condemner of new fangled ideas, I have to agree that Horace Stoneham, the money bag owner of the Giants, would, to be truthful, be a little silly, to pay Willie Mays $80,000 to bunt.

But I'll be derned if it isn't the baseball fans themselves who are to blame for the new brand of baseball now being played and sometimes, referred laughingly, as major league baseball.

The cash customer doesn't want a pitchers battle; he does not want a 1 to 0 game; he does not want to see a lightning baserunner steal, second, third or home; he wants some big clown to come up to the plate and whack the horsehide outta the lot. If he can see that, he doesn't care how bushy the game is or how silly it is . . . just let's have some guys who can belt the ball around.

In other words he agrees with Boss Stoneham. He wants to see Willie Mays hit a homerun and he'd like to see Willie scoot around the bases. But he doesn't care a hoot, unless Willie scoots around the bases trying to make the homerun.

The baseball fan today isn't like the old gambler who bet $2 on a horse, and after the horse won and paid $64 in the mutuels, he got only $32.

"You can't go broke winning," the old timer had to admit.

And today the baseball fan is doing likewise. He's taking baseball as they serve it NOW, and not as he used to have it served.

A great Pacific Coast League character said "bye bye baby," the other day when Bill Klepper, former owner of the Seattle baseball club, once owner of the Portland Club and for many years a turbulent figure in loop politics, died.

Klepper did more to get the circuit publicity than anyone of his time. He would start a row if he knew the papers would print his side of it. And ole "Bald Bill," as we used to call him, was a smart baseball coot.

I shall never forget the first time I introduced "Foghorn" Murphy to Klepper.

"How do you do, Mister Clipper," said Murphy extending his hand in warm friendship.

"My name is Klepper," replied the Seattle owner, somewhat ruffled.

"Oh, yes," said Foghorn, "I read all about you meddling with those turnstiles."

And, of course, after a big fuss, I explained to "Bald Bill" that Foghorn was a great kidder and they shook hands and were warm friends afterwards.

CONGRATULATIONS, ED, SAY NATIONAL LEAGUERS

National League teammates swarmed out of the dugout to congratulate Ed Mathews after the Milwaukee Braves' third sacker had hammered out a home run in the first inning of yesterday's All-Star Game at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh to give the senior loop team its first run. Greeting him is Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Stan Back In Groove; 'Troubles Are Over'

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Stan (The Man) Musial is starting to "come around again" and he promises to be back for more All-Star games.

The 38-year-old Cardinals' slugger appeared in his 15th All-Star classic here yesterday and, although he popped out to first base as a pinch-hitter, he was one of the most elated men in the bustling National League clubhouse.

"My hitting finally has started coming around," he said with obvious satisfaction. "I had a little trouble getting untracked there at the start of the year, but I think my troubles are over—at least, it certainly looks like they are."

With the clubs ready to swing into the second half of the season, Musial is batting .270. For anyone else that would be an acceptable figure, but in Stan's case it's roughly 60 points lower than his customary pace.

But the important thing is that his average has been increasing steadily of late.

"How low was your average actually this season?" Musial was asked.

Stan took a swig of soda pop, grinned and replied, "Let's not even talk about it."

For those who insist, however, let it be recorded that Musial collected only one hit in his first 16 at bats this season for a sickly .067 mark.

After participating in 15 All-Star games, someone might get the idea Musial is a bit tired of the routine and would gladly look for an "out" in future contests.

"Not on your life," he said. "I think these All-Star games are the greatest things going and honestly, they couldn't pick me in enough of them. I'll tell you this much—I'm not figuring that this will be my last one. I'm looking forward to playing in some more of them."

Carp Derby Going Full Blast Along The Russian River

GUERNEVILLE — The Carp Derby is in full swing today along the lower reaches of the Russian River, one of the best fishing streams in the Redwood Empire.

The Carp Derby is planned to contribute to good fishing conditions by ridding the river of a special which consumes spawn of other fish as well as food which might better be eaten by tastier pan fish.

Boys and girls to the age of 16 are eligible to participate in the derby, sponsored by the Guerneville Chamber of Commerce. Weekly prizes are awarded for the largest carp caught and the greatest number. Garnd prizes will be given out at the end of the vacation season.

Many species of fish are taken in the Russian River. Fishing for the big king salmon and the smaller silver is best during the fall and winter runs after rains which cause the river to rise and open the mouth of the stream to enable fish to go upstream from the ocean.

Two Injured Braves Set For Comeback

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two of the Milwaukee Braves' prized cripples—shortstop Johnny Logan and pitcher Bob Buhl—are on the mind.

Both took first workouts yesterday since recent injuries. Logan said he expects to be ready for parttime duty this week and righthander Buhl indicated he'll be ready in about two weeks.

The progress reports come as good news for the defending National League champions who have only a shaky three percentage point hold on first place as they prepare to resume league action Thursday night against the pressing Los Angeles Dodgers, only a half-game back in third place. The game opens a five-game home stand for the Braves.

Logan has been out since June 28 when he was spiked on the right ankle by Chicago Cubs hurler Dave Hillman. Twenty stitches were needed to repair the damage. Buhl has been on the sidelines since June 25 with a mysterious shoulder ailment.

Logan is having his best season at the plate, hitting .332, second only among the Braves to Hank Aaron who leads the majors with a .370 average. Buhl is 6-5 for the season.

L. A. Promoter Gets 5 More Phone Threats

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Matchmaker Jackie Leonard, a key witness before a special Federal Grand Jury that racketeers are trying to muscle in on southern California boxing, says he received five threatening telephone calls last Saturday.

"If you don't pull away from the police something will happen to your children," one of the callers was said to have told Leonard.

The Hollywood Legion promoter said another caller told him: "You can't have the cops around you forever."

But Police Chief William Parker said yesterday shortly after Leonard's disclosure of the new threats that the police department had not been notified of the threats.

"The last one we heard about was 10 days ago," said Parker.

He also revealed that Leonard asked for and received withdrawal of police protection, accorded the promoter since May when he told of hoodlums attempted to gain control of Welterweight Champion Don Jordan.

RECUPERATED

Parker said Leonard requested the discontinuance of the police guard in a letter, stating that he felt recuperated from an alleged beating last June 3 at his home. (Police said they believe Leonard suffered a stroke and fell over, thereby suffering injuries. But Leonard insists he was beaten.)

"He apparently believes the constant personal attendance of police officers is interfering with his ability to successfully pursue his business activities," said Parker. "This department is compelled to respect his wishes. We will adopt other measures in fulfillment of our responsibilities."

Leonard accompanied Oakland Promoter Don Chargin to the Federal Grand Jury hearing yesterday. Chargin told reporters he testified that he volunteered to substitute as promoter of a Hollywood Legion fight last month when Leonard was allegedly beaten.

ONCE RAGGED URCHIN

Bantam Champ Remembers His Hard Climb To Fame

By ALEX KAHN

LOS ANGELES (UPD) —Immaculately dressed, polite and soft-spoken — that's a portrait of Alphonse Halimi, the bantamweight champion of the world who risks his title tonight.

It's a far cry from the dirty, ragged urchin who ran away from home at the age of seven and was living off the streets in Algiers until a benefactor found him.

Halimi has never forgotten those early days and those hard times in North Africa. A French-Algerian of Jewish ancestry, Halimi knows if it had not been for his skill in the ring he would probably be working in some tailor shop today.

"What I am today I have made of myself with my fists and by listening to the good advice of my friends and manager," Halimi said as he prepared to don his ring togs for a workout.

RESPECTS OPPONENT

And because good fortune did not come easily, Halimi never takes an opponent lightly. He speaks highly of Jose Becerra, whom he meets in the Los Angeles sports arena tonight. And it is not just talk, because back of it is the spectre of a frightened, hungry little boy trying to get enough to eat on his own.

"It was not easy for me as a boy in Algeria and I have never forgotten those days," Halimi continued, occasionally turning to his interpreter-trainer, Joe Rizzo for help with an expression or word in English.

"The ring has been good to me and I like what it has made of me," he added. "I want to be champion as long as possible. That's why I take every fight very seriously."

Halimi explained that he ran away from his home in Constantine, Algeria, when he was seven because his family was so poor. And he was wandering alone on the streets of Algeria when his present foster-mother, Madam Marcell Faty, found him and took him into her home.

LEARNED A TRADE

"She gave me a home and had me taught a trade as a tailor. And when I started boxing as an amateur she encouraged me and stood behind me when I was learning the game."

Under the tutelage of the able Philippe Filippi, the little boxer has fought 28 times as a pro with only one loss. That defeat was by a featherweight, Jimmy Carson, and Halimi explains the fight was stopped because of cuts.

"The fight is tonight and what went before was to prepare me for it," Halimi said slowly.

The reference was to criticism hurled at his camp for letting Dwight Hawkins go as a sparring partner because he shook up the champion during a workout.

"Hawkins was trying to make a name for himself in the gym against me," the champion said. "I was not trying to fight him. I was developing my offense and defense for the real fight."

EMPLOYEES CAMPAIGN

Hub City To Vote On Civil Service Change

By DIANA BRUCE

Whether San Anselmo voters will approve a change in job security for their police and fire chiefs appeared doubtful today in the face of a campaign for "no" votes being waged by the city employees' association.

A two-thirds majority is necessary to approve the change at a special election next Tuesday.

City councilmen propose to remove police and fire chiefs and three other department heads from civil service, thereby giving the council complete authority to hire and fire them.

Under the proposed ordinance, if a department head who had been promoted from the ranks were fired by the council, he would automatically be returned to his former rank within civil service.

San Anselmo's civil service ordinance now gives any ousted department head the right of appeal to a board of review which can reinstate him if it finds there was insufficient cause for removal.

The employees' association takes a dim view of the proposed revisions and is campaigning for a heavy "no" vote on July 14.

The employees feel that the civil service ordinance has weathered 22 years service to the city and the revision is unnecessary.

Two chiefs have longer tenure than the ordinance. Nello Marcucci, fire chief, street superintendent and building inspector, has 36-year record as a San Anselmo city employee. Police Chief Donald T. Wood has been with San Anselmo for 29 years.

The one other person who would be affected by the proposed change is Park and Recreation Supt. Frank Quinn, a part-time city employee whose other job is as a San Anselmo postman.

The ordinance change is worded to cover all department heads, so that the same rule would apply if the city in future were to add any other departments and create new department head positions.

Sample ballots were mailed last week to San Anselmo voters. Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on July 14.

The six polling places are at Wade Thomas, Isabel Cook, Yolandsdale and Brookside schools, the city hall and the office at Red Hill and Sequoia avenues of State Farm Insurance Co.

County Board Rejects Tax Cancel Plea

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday rejected a petition for cancellation of approximately $24,000 in taxes for the years 1955 through 1957 from John and Mary Pedranzini of Santa Rosa.

They based their claim on the fact that the school was used to 1955 by the Novato Unified School District and then abandoned. The property reverted to previous owners, but ownersip was clouded and not resolved until 1957.

The Pedranzinis said they should not have to pay taxes on property under uncertain ownership. The board's rejection was based on a decision by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan that cancellation of taxes would not be "in the best interests of the county."

Marinwood Man Arrested In Shorts

A Marinwood man, found walking along Paradise drive dressed only in a pair of shorts, was arrested Monday night on suspicion of drunkenness.

Sinton Paine, 50, of 250 Flagstone, Marinwood, admitted he was drunk, but insisted he had been taken for a ride, rolled, and dumped off from his new pickup truck minus all his money and clothes.

He said he had been drinking in San Rafael where he met another man, who offered to drive him home.

Paine said he remembers nothing more until the man pushed him out of the truck somewhere in the rural areas, taking his money, clothes and truck.

Sheriff's deputies said Paine's relatives had located the truck parked in San Rafael where Paine said he had been drinking.

Albrecht Authorized To Call In Psychiatrist

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health director, to call in a consulting psychiatrist in county emergency cases that concern possible mental cases.

She asked for the authority in view of the increasing number of cases, and also asked the board to set up a fee. Psychiatrists are now paid $15 an hour on a consulting basis when they are called in on county cases at county offices.

"I want consultants only in the cases where I don't feel I can make a decision," Dr. Albrecht explained, noting that she is not a trained psychiatrist.

She said that in an emergency case which might occur in the middle of the night in a remote part of the county, the consultant should be paid more than $15 an hour. "Probably it should be $25," she said. At the suggestion of the board she promised to work out a fee schedule and submit it.

Supervisor William Gnoss, apparently in effort to find out whether the service was really needed, asked, "In how many cases have you been wrong, doctor?"

"None so far, thank goodness," she said.

"This reminds me," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman, "of the knifethrowing act at the carnival. The man's been throwing knives at his wife for years, and he's never missed — not yet."

Little Jack Horner's Favorite Plum-Full Of Desert Delights

By VIRGINIA PORTER
HOME ADVISOR

This member of the pitted fruit family has always done its duty dessert-wise — in pies, and puddings, in Bavarian cream, and just plain stewed; all standbys that will always be good. But now let's exploit the versatility of the popular plum in exciting new sweet-treats that are lightly keyed to summer living.

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Assn. has many suggestions to offer us on using this plentiful fruit. Make up a compote, for instance, that combines fresh plums with the sassy sharpness of fresh lime juice. This can acts as a most appetizing appetizer, and fakes but a jiffy to concoct.

Or whip up a fresh plum whip, sparked with fresh lemon juice and frothy with beaten egg whites. Served atop a soft custard, this plum whip is nourishing enough to bolster, as well as climax, a light salad luncheon.

DOUBLE PLAY

Fresh plums jellied with citrus juices, prepared and chilled conveniently well before eating time, have a cool, inviting sparkle as well as delicious flavor. And this plum delight does double duty because it can be served as salad or as happy ending to a meal.

Besides being real flavor discoveries, these desserts add to the plum's content of vitamin A and C the importan vitamin content of fresh citrus fruit juices.

FRESH PLUM JAM

4 pounds fresh plums
½ cup water
8 cups sugar
1 box powdered pectin

Wash plums, remove pits and chop. Place in a deep 6-quart kettle with water. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Remove cover, add powdered pectin, and bring to a rapid boil, stirring rapidly all the while. Add sugar and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Skim off foam and continue skimming for 5 minutes, to cool slightly. Ladle into hot, sterilized jars. Seal at once. YIELD: 12 one-half pint jars.

VANILLA FRESH PLUM COMPOTE

¼ cup sugar
1 cup water
1 tablespoon fresh lime juice
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1½ pounds fresh plums, sliced

Combine sugar, water and lime juice in a saucepan. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Heat to boiling point. Boil 2 to 3 minutes. Cool. Add pure vanilla extract and plums. Chill and serve.

YIELD: 5 servings.

JELLIED FRESH PLUMS WITH GOLDEN FRESH LEMON SAUCE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
1¼ cups hot water
¾ cup sugar
⅓ cup fresh lemon juice
½ cup fresh orange juice
2 cups sliced fresh plums
Golden Fresh Lemon Sauce

Soften gelatine in cold water. Add hot water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir in sugar, lemon and orange juices. Chill until mixture is about as thick as fresh egg whites. Fold in sliced plums. Turn into a 5-cup ring mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. To serve turn out onto a serving plate and serve with Golden Fresh Lemon Sauce.

YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

GOLDEN FRESH LEMON SAUCE

2 eggs, separated
1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice
⅔ cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1/16 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Beat egg yolks with lemon juice until light and creamy. Gradually beat in 1/3 cup of the sugar. Add salt to egg whites and beat until they stand in soft peaks into which gradually beat in the remaining sugar, pure vanilla extract and grated lemon rind. Fold into the egg yolk mixture. Serve over jellied fresh plums.

Twilight Over Turkey Bones — Legacy Of Luscious Leftovers

The sleepy glow of charcoal under its own ash puts the last touch of bronze to the bird turning on the spit and evening settles down.

Barbecuing a whole bird calls for patience—let's call it leisure—and yields in return a bounty of meat for tomorrow. Thumbnail guide for counting both: 15 to 20 minutes per pound and ½ pound per person. Grillside serving, that is.

TWILIGHT TURKEY DELIGHT

5-6 pound oven-ready turkey
Piece of bacon rind or salt pork
Several sprigs of parsley
Sprig or terragon
Little bacon fat or butter
Salt and pepper

Have the butcher tie a piece of bacon rind or long, thin slice of salt pork around the bird.

Stuff parsley and terragon inside the bird and put on spit. Place before fire, giving it plenty of heat to begin with, and turn often until the turkey is ¾ cooked. Remove the bacon rind or salt pork and brown the bird, basting it occasionally with a little bacon fat or butter.

Salt and pepper to taste. Serve with boiled, riced chestnuts or yams, roasted in the ashes, or tender sweet corn, roasted in the ashes with husks on.

TURKEY SANDWICHES

Either white or dark meat or both can be used in turkey sandwiches. Also, there are numerous combinations of turkey and other meats which make especially tempting sandwiches.

FRUITED TURKEY AND HAM

12 slices raisin bread, toasted
Butter or margarine
½ cup whole cranberry sauce
Sliced breast of turkey (6 ounces)
20 thin banana slices
4 slices Swiss cheese (4 ounces)
4 slices baked ham (4 ounces)
4 pineapple slices, well drained
Lettuce leaves

Spread 4 slices toast with butter or margarine. Spread with a thin layer of cranberry sauce. Place turkey slices over cranberry sauce. Arrange banana slices over turkey and cover with slices of Swiss cheese. Top with 4 more toast slices spread with butter or margarine and then cranberry sauce. Place ham slices over cranberry sauce and top with pineapple slices.

Cover pineapple with lettuce. Spread remaining toast with butter or margarine and cranberry sauce.

MOST RELAXIN'

What Is A Lazy Weekend Without A Turkey Barbecue?

There's nothing more relaxing and downright enjoyable than a backlawn barbecue or patio picnic . . . especially with that festive, typically-American treat, turkey!

So get out the barbecue equipment and enjoy the outdoors while you can. But you don't have to go away to have fun. You can have it right at home. And children will be delighted.

If you wish, you can add dinner music by bringing out the record player or portable radio.

Of one thing you can be sure—that's a ready supply of meaty oven-ready consumer-sized turkeys and turkey quarter roasts.

Government reports indicate that at the beginning of the year, the percentage of hens in storage was the highest in five years. While there was a heavy movement of turkeys during the Easter season, there still are plentiful supplies of hens and smaller-sized toms in storage. And in addition, growers expect to raise 5 per cent more turkeys this year than in 1958.

With big supplies of turkeys in prospect, turkey prices have remained very favorable to budget-conscious housewives.

In addition to whole turkeys, turkey quarter and half roasts are widely available this year, offering housewives the convenience of meal-sized portions.

TURKEY FOR PICNICS

Turkey is fast becoming the summer picnic favorite of Americans. It can be easly prepared in advance and served in tempting sandwiches, salads or as cold sliced turkey—a hot summer day favorite.

Hot turkey, fresh from the barbecue or grill, is perfect for evening picnic dinners in the canyon or by seaside or lake.

BARBECUING TURKEY

There's something special about a turkey barbecue. Maybe it's the mingled aroma of wood smoke and golden-crusted turkey meat oozing with succulent goodness . . . or perhaps it's the cheer and fellowship of good friends meeting with appetites sharpened by fresh air and pungent sauces.

At any rate, everyone loves a barbecue . . . especially a turkey barbecue. Here are some ideas which should help in serving family or guests with generous portions of turkey hot from the barbecue grill.

WHOLE TURKEY BARBECUING ON ROTARY SPIT

Selection and thawing — Today's ready-to-cook turkey needs only to be taken from its plastic bag. If frozen, thaw slowly in refrigerator. Allow one or two days depending on size. For rapid thawing, leave turkey in original wrap and place in cold water two to six hours. Size of bird depends on number of guests. Consider ½ pound raw turkey per person.

Preparing for barbecue—After washing bird, rinse inside with wine or wine vinegar and rub in plenty of salt and pepper. Pat skin dry and skewer neck skin to back. Tie leg ends to tail and use twine to tie wings close to body. Rub turkey all over with salad oil.

Place turkey on spit—Before starting rotary spit, test turkey for balance. See that it does not slip as spit turns. If possible use a meat thermometer. This should be inserted in the breast so that it does not touch a bone.

Cooking—To help keep brazier clean and aid cooking, push live coals back and use metal foil with turned up edges to catch drippings from cooking bird. When ⅔ done, start basting turkey often with hot barbecue sauce thinned with small quantity of water. Cook 15 to 20 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer reaches 180. Turkey is fork-tender when done. Allow turkey to stand a few minutes before carving. This permits juices to be reabsorbed.

Fuel and fire—Charcoal or bricquets burn at high heat for a long time. Keep fuel down to 2 inches deep. Bricquets should be only one layer deep. Sprinkle generously with kerosene for easy starting. NEVER USE GASOLINE! Set kerosene afire and let fuel burn 15 minutes to allow smoke and kerosene fumes to die down before starting cooking.

BARBECUING TURKEY QUARTERS

Turkey quarter roasts—3½ to 6 pounds—are excellent for barbecuing. If quarter roasts are not readily available, have your meat merchant cut a large frozen turkey into four equal roasts.

After thawing, rub cavity of cut side of roast with salt. Skewer skin to meat along cut edges. Tie or skewer leg to tail or wing to breast, depending upon kind of turkey quarter roast.

Rub with salad oil and place on spit. Allow 20 to 25 minutes cooking time per pound. Baste often with hot barbecue sauce during last 30 minutes. When done, turkey will be fork-tender and wingstick or drumstick will give readily when moved. Meat thermometer, if used, should read 190 degrees F. when placed in thickest meaty section.

It's a good thing that

Tide keeps on working after other suds have quit!

Tide gets clothes the cleanest clean there is for a very simple reason: It keeps on working after other suds have quit. You've probably already seen this demonstrated on TV. It's quite dramatic. Tide keeps on eating up dirt after other suds get tired and quit.

And doesn't it stand to reason that the product that works the hardest gets your clothes the cleanest?

TO FIND sandwiches with honest-to-goodness appeal for the men in the family is not always easy. That's why you will be glad to know about Quick Sardine Sandwiches and Beef Barbecues. Both are hot satisfying main dishes instead of just ordinary sandwiches.

Tasty Meat Sandwich Aims To Please The Family's Men

SARDINE SANDWICHES

1 can condensed cream of celery soup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup grated cheese
2 cans (3¼ to 4 oz. each) sardines
6 slices toast

Mix soup, Worcestershire sauce and cheese; heat slowly until cheese melts. Place drained sardines on toast squares and heat in broiler. Top each serving with sauce. Six servings.

BEEF BARBECUES

1 can (12 oz.) roast beef
½ cup bottled barbecue sauce
4 hamburger buns
Butter, or margarine

Combine roast beef, cut into pieces, and its broth with barbecue sauce; heat. Spread buns with butter and brown in broiler. Spoon beef on half the bun and top with other half. Four servings.

Cucumber On This Tongue Sandwich

A party sandwich which will please the palate of your honored guest is called Tongue Sandwich With Cucumber Topping. This you might consider a sandwich with the pretty side up.

8 slices cooked tongue, cut ¼ inch thick
4 slices bread.
Butter or margarine
4 lettuce leaves
½ cup dairy sour cream
1 cup chopped unpeeled cucumber
1 teaspoon minced onion
¾ teaspoon salt

Spread bread with butter or margarine and place each slice on an individual serving plate. Top each slice with a lettuce leaf and 2 ounces sliced tongue.

Combine sour cream, cucumber, onion and salt. Place ¼ cup cucumber topping on each sandwich. Yield: 4 sandwiches.

Then They're Eaten

South African rock lobster tails really do come from South Africa. They're shipped some 7,500 miles in the icy holds of refrigerator ships to ports in the United States, where they are quickly transferred to refrigerator trucks for the journey to inland cities.

Easy To Carve

Note to carvers: insert the carving fork in the meat or poultry you are slicing so that its position need not be changed frequently.

Gracious

It looks so cool and tempting and your guests will enjoy helping themselves. You can have enough lemonade to fill a punch bowl in hardly any time at all when you use frozen concentrate for lemonade.

Flavor Pointer

A little grated lemon rind added to cream of asparagus soup (homemade or canned) points up flavor.

HERE'S A "SHOWER" dessert designed for the gals. It is a new ice cream called Orange Blossom which is trimmed with semi-sweet chocolate petals. All you do is form edible petals with melted chocolate, using philodendron or ivy leaves as patterns. When set remove the chocolate petals and decorate servings of the orange-pineapple ice cream with them.

Ersatz Sour Cream Designed To Cheer Calorie-Counters

If, while counting calories, you want the flavor and unctuous quality of sour cream on summer's cool crisp salads and appetizers, cold soups and fruits, you're bound to agree that this rule is a find.

1. If you add it to a bowl of mixed greens—along with salt, freshly-ground pepper and herbs—you'll have a salad with an old-fashioned flavor.

2. Pass it as a dip for scallions (green onions), green pepper rings or strips and radishes.

3. Pass it with cucumber strips and rounds of tomato aspic (low calorie) as a first-course salad.

4. Use it as the dressing for a luncheon salad of sliced hard-cooked eggs and water cress sprays. Or chop both the eggs and the water cress and arrange them, light around dark, spiral fashion.

5. Pass it as a dip with cooked shrimp, rounds of carrot fancied up with a scalloped cutter) and pickled mushrooms. Nice for company!

6. Top cold borsch (beet soup) or jellied madrilene with it. Add a further garnish of finely diced cucumber.

7. Use it as a topping for cooked vegetables (asparagus, snap beans, beets, sliced tomatoes) on a salad platter.

Ingredients: 1 contained (8 ounces) cream-style cottage cheese (small curd), 6 tablespoons milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Method: Put cottage cheese, milk and lemon juice in an electric blender; cover; blend on high speed about 30 seconds. Uncover; if the cheese is not all blended, stir down and blend about 30 seconds more. Turn into the cottage cheese container or another one; cover tightly; store in the coldest part of the refrigerator for several hours to blend flavors further. Makes about 1¼ cups.

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

What's better than chicken cooked over an open fire? Answer: chicken cooked over an open fire in REYNOLDS WRAP Aluminum Foil. First broil it skin-side down over low, even coals, for 2 to 4 minutes. Then turn and repeat. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and melted butter or cover with a favorite barbecue sauce. Seal tightly in REYNOLDS WRAP and cook until tender.

Hot today? Reach into the refrigerator, and if there's a bottle of MARTINELLI'S Apple Juice there, you have a superb cooler, with the crisp and tangy taste of juicy apples. This golden juice makes a blithe and refreshing drink just as it is but there are recipes on the label which you'll like, too. MARTINELLI'S Apple Juice is a wonderful breakfast drink.

To hear the teen set talk, Piquant Tuna Patties are the greatest thing since motor scooters. Want to try them? Just add dry salad dressing mix to white sauce, and add a family-size can of WHITE STAR Tuna. Form into patties and cook until brown and spicy. WHITE STAR Tuna is so good because it is pressure-baked, to retain the delicate flavor of the fish.

★ To make sweet milk sour, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar to each cup of sweet milk. Let stand in warm place for 30 minutes.

Ask your favorite chef to try Chick-n-Que on his grill next Sunday: Combine ¼ cup MAZOLA Golden Corn Oil with ¼ cup vinegar, 1 tsp. poultry seasoning, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper. Marinate chicken in this for 3 hours, turning once. Then grill the chicken, basting with the marinade (MAZOLA gives it that lovely, light flavor, exactly right for chicken and roast turkey.)

Want to see your toddler chuckle with pleasure? Serve him GERBER'S new all-in-one breakfast: Junior Cereal, Egg Yolks and Bacon. It's a single, nourishing and tempting dish, containing high quality proteins from egg yolks, bacon and milk, with the favorite "go-together" flavors of these good foods. You'll find this new charmer in the trim blue GERBER tin.

What the well-packed picnic basket carries is a matter of family taste, but I've noticed that it nearly always includes a jar of FRENCH'S Mustard—hamburgers, hot dogs, steaks . . . so many things taste better with this creamy mustard. You can use it in cooking and know that its rich piquancy will not fade out. Try it with canned beans some time!

"Time for a nap!" It's always a chore, coaxing the smaller ones indoors for a rest, these beautiful days. But how about calling a chocolate drink-break? GHIRARDELLI'S Instant Chocolate makes a delightful chocolate milk, and in seconds' time. Use it for bait; then nap-time won't seem so bad. GHIRARDELLI'S Instant Chocolate makes a quick, nourishing drink for busy mothers, too.

The Matterhorn never looked higher than that pile of dishes after dinner—but WHITE KING D will cut it down to size. And this wonderful detergent is just as good in the washer as it is in the dishpan; everything sparkles when it meets WHITE KING. I like the giant-size box; priced at a saving, it insures plenty of this wonderful cleaning, washing, kitchen helper on hand.

That's all for now!
See you next week!

FOR VACATION

Bright Felt Coat Is Easy To Make

By DOROTHY ROE

It's a smart girl who sews her own when it comes to getting together a vacation wardrobe. All those gay outfits for holiday fun often can make a wreck of the budget.

Brightest idea of the season is an endlessly useful short felt coat with many bright patch pockets in different colors, to wear over anything from a bathing suit to a dance dress.

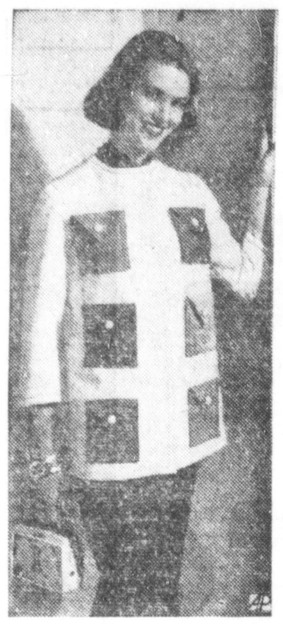
Anyone who has worked with felt knows that it's the world's easiest fabric to sew. The seams don't ravel, it needs no hemming and you can make a garment from it in next to no time. Local sewing centers have experimented with making some of these new felt coats, and report them easy enough for the most inexperienced seamstress. They suggest making the topper in white felt with contrasting pockets of royal blue, bright red and black.

Since felt comes in a 72-inch width, a little yardage goes a long way. Choose a good standard pattern for a straight, collarless short coat with three-quarter-length sleeves, and follow pattern directions for cutting and sewing. Although felt need not be hemmed, you can achieve a smart finish by hemming the jacket edges with a contrasting color thread. In this case royal blue was used.

Three different colors of felt should be used for the six square, brass-buttoned pockets. To make the pockets, cut six rectangles 4 by 15 inches—two in each color. Fold the rectangles in half. Cut in pointed flap at the top of the rectangle 3 inches deep. With white thread, run a line of stitching around pocket flap ¾-inch from edge. At bottom of flap cut through one thickness across the pocket to form opening.

On the flap mark length of cutting space for buttonhole plus ⅛-inch for bar tacks. If you own an automatic sewing machine, set the selector for a buttonhole stitch. Otherwise use the buttonholer attachment for a regular machine.

Pin pockets in position on the topper and stitch with white thread ¾-inch from edge. Attach dot snappers to make a neat closure for front of jacket or, if you prefer, use more brass buttons and buttonholes.



COAT OF many colors is this versatile summer topper with vari-colored pockets which is so easy to make out of felt.

Gifts Of China

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fine china should be translucent, resonant when tapped with a pencil, lightweight and well-balanced, with even edges. Its color should not be streaked or mottled. A glaze adds a protective coating to the china and also is the most sanitary surface of all dinnerwares.

ROSS BRANCH

Needlework Guild To Stage 'Moonlight Capers,' Aug. 15

"Moonlight Capers" will be the theme of the buffet and fashion show to be staged on Saturday, Aug. 15 by the Ross Branch of the Needlework Guild.

The annual fund raising event will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Westover Jr. in San Rafael. A buffet supper will be served at 6 o'clock and fashion show will be presented by Modern Eve of San Rafael with Arthur F. Edwards as commentator. Entertainment will also be presented.

Plans for the event were discussed at a recent luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rossi in Ross.

Mrs. Milton Tonini, president of the Guild, appointed Mrs. Ralph Boyer general chairman of the event and the following chairman were appointed: refreshments: Mrs. A. L. Rowland; hostesses: Mrs. Gus Niederholzer Jr.; awards: Mrs. Thomas C. Cusick; fashion show: Mrs. Tonini; reservations: Mrs. William H. Price of Kent Woodlands, Mrs. Helene Hjort of Ross and Mrs. Glen Gall of Sleepy Hollow.

The following members will be serving on committees, Mesdames John Kirkpatrick, Benjamin H. Dibblee, Hilton Swenson, David S. Adams, Joseph Rossi, H. N. Mangels, Harold Bunn, L. J. Giubbini, William J. Murray, Arthur Walters and Carl Riznik.

The Ross Branch of the Needlework Guild distributes new clothing and household linens to the needy through the Marin Red Cross, Catholic Social Service, Lucas Valley Home for the aged, St. Dorothy's Rest, a summer camp for underprivileged children at Camp Meeker and Sonoma State Home for retarded children as well as private cases.

Here Comes The Modern Bride Dressed Just Like Her Grandma

Sleeves in summer bridal gowns sometimes take on leg o'mutton lines reminiscent of those puffed jobs worn by the Gibson girl in the 1890's. Skirts are the most lavish in many a season, with bows or tiers or in some collections even the bustle.

"This season's bridal gowns have a quaint, almost Victorian elegance about them," said Murray Hamburger, a leading New York manufacturer. Hamburger, bridal gown specialist for 23 years, turns out 20 to 25,000 wedding dresses each year.

"Most of them have lavish backs and simple fronts. There are a few shirtwaists," said Hamburger.

"There are plenty of puffs and draping at the back. For a good reason, I think. Designers are giving more attention to the rear of skirts, because wedding guests see the back of the bride longer than the front anyway."

Unpressed pleats "cascade" into short trains. Other full-length dresses have smooth-fitting, figure-moulding fronts with high-rising waistlines and Watteau backs.

BIRDS EYE CHICKEN PIE

with the flavor flair of our Master Chef

Tested and Approved by General Foods Kitchens

Birds Eye asked its Master Chef, Albert, to make a chicken pie so good, it would end all the confusion about whose pie is best.

Result: That man has done it again. He started with home-style crust—a crust with flavor to it—then added so much chicken the peas and carrots were almost crowded out. And finally, Albert's gravy—the old-fashioned, chicken-'n-biscuits kind of gravy!

Honestly, these pies are so good (try the Beef and Turkey, too) your family just might demand two apiece—so be prepared.

Kinz' Back From Long Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. William Kinz of San Rafael have returned from a three weeks vacation motor trip through seven western states and Canada. They were accompanied by Mr. Kinz' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Driesbach of San Leandro whose daughter, Mrs. Carl Sandahl, resides in San Rafael.

The four motored first to Reno and then to Twin Falls and Pocatello, Idaho. From there they went to Jackson Hole, Wyo., and three national parks, Grand Teton, Yellowstone and Glacier. In Helena, Mont., they visited the state capitol, the historic Roman Catholic Church and state museum. They crossed the border and in Canada saw Calgary, Banff National Park, Lake Louise and three other national parks, Kootney, Yo Ho and Jasper and also saw the famous Columbia ice fields.

They drove to Vancouver, B. C., and visited friends in nearby Chilliwack. They saw the famous Stanley Park in Vancouver and then boarded a Princess liner and crossed the Strait of Georgia to Victoria, B. C., where they visited the many historic places. One day was spent on a boat trip from Sidney through the island passage and across the Strait of Juan De Fuca. They landed at Port Angeles, Wash., and drove down the coast of Washington, Oregon and California home.

Mr. Kinz, an electric distribution engineer with the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., recently received his 45 year pin for service with the company.

CAROL ANN O'CONNOR

CAROL ANN O'CONNOR ENGAGED TO GAIL SIRI OF REDWOOD CITY

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Connor of Belvedere are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Gail Bernard Siri of Redwood City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Siri of Redwood City.

The bride-elect, who is the sister of Gerry O'Connor of Belvedere, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Dominican College with the class of 1959.

The future benedict was graduated from St. Ignatius High School and the University of Santa Clara where he was a member of the Olympic Club. He recently received a commission as 2nd Lieut. in the U. S. Army and will be in the service for two years.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 17.

MILL VALLEY

Teenagers To Hold Dance Friday

The Mill Valley Teenagers Assn., recreational club for teenagers living in the Mill Valley School District, will have its first vacation dance Friday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

It will be held at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse, located at the corner of Blythedale and Throckmorton avenues, with the group's own "Ram Rods" providing the music.

Use of the clubhouse is being donated by the Outdoor Art Club as a part of a concentrated public effort to help provide wholesome activities for young people under adequate adult supervision.

According to Dr. P. R. Danford, adult chairman, and Bill Rice, activities chairman, this dance is the beginning of the summer program for junior high and high school age students.

Departing from the usual rule admitting members only, the group invites teenagers wishing to join when the regular membership drive starts in August or September. Ages for potential members are 12 to 18, but a student must be in the seventh grade or above to qualify. Names and addresses will be taken at the door.

The thirteenth annual Bolinas Bazaar and Rummage Sale, a three-day event, will open in Bolinas Community Center on Aug. 1. Signs of the seasonal pre-sale fever are multiplying. Meetings, conferences, searches of attics, cellars, garages and much sewing all point to another successful sale.

As in the past, four organizations are participating in the work and in the proceeds. These are: Calvary Presbyterian Church, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, St. Aidan's Episcopal Church and the Bolinas Community Center. The chairmen and co-chairmen respectively are Mesdames Sherman Smith and Harvey Crotts, Joseph Silviera Jr. and Anthony Teixeira, Miss Helen MacGavin and Mrs. Jack Lowe, Mrs. John S. McGrath and Mrs. William Miller.

The Beach Combers' booth made a big hit last year, among the highlights being the little Caribbean dolls made from Bolinas sea shells by Mrs. Kirby Clark and Mrs. John Baroni and the small polished driftwood pieces and mineral specimens contributed by Mrs. Everett Stewart. Mrs. Baroni, a tireless "beach comber," will again be in charge of the booth. A new department makes its appearance this year — the homemade candy booth with Mrs. Warren McKinney presiding.

The other departments and their chairmen are: jewelry, Miss Amy Edwards; clothes, Mrs. S. A. Viera; plants, Mrs. Julia Jean Reade; linen, Mrs. Alma Petar; white elephant, Mrs. Bill Ott; books, Mrs. Erwin Manheim; toys, Mrs. A. C. Pfefferkorn; furniture, Mrs. Ray Pepper; kitchenware, Mrs. James Dougan; electrical supplies, Mrs. J. T. Affonso; pictures and frames, Mrs. Jack Lowe; hats and shoes, Mrs. Frank Skinner; lunch and food sale, Mrs. Frank Fontes and Mrs. Harvey Crotts.

Luncheon will be served on the first day of the sale and sandwiches and coffee will be available on the second day. The hours of the sale will be Saturday, Aug. 1, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 12 m. to 5 p.m.; Monday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Lodges Plan Supper, Card Party, July 15

Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 and Mt. Tamalpais Lodge No. 399, IOOF, will hold their monthly pot luck supper and card party at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley Wednesday evening, July 15.

Committee members for the 6:30 p.m. supper will be Mesdames Richard Bennet, Paul Hughes and Albert Hughes.

In charge of the 8:15 p.m. whist party are Messrs. Clifford Spinney, Merton Wells and William Roberts.

SAUSALITO YACHT CLUB AIDES UNITE

At a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. John Ford in Mill Valley the Sausalito Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary was organized and tonight at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Peter Sutter in Belvedere of officers and committee members program plans will be made. Purpose of the organization is to assist the yacht club in its construction program.

Elected chairmen of the committees to formulate By Laws, Ways and Means, Food, and Publicity, are, respectively, Mesdames Ford, James, Enzensperger, Donald Salisbury and Robert Creighton.

Locale Changed

The locale for Northgate Group Building Fund benefit champagne luncheon has been changed to Deer Park Villa gardens in Fairfax. The date, July 9 remains the same.

Buffet Hostess

To watch Sausalito's fireworks on July 4, Mrs. Clement A. McKaig entertained at a buffet supper. The hostess' deck was a perfect vantage point and the display was particularly enjoyed by Mrs. McKaig's young niece Christine Clifford, who is visiting her aunt from her home in Bakersfield.

Presley Daughter In Baptismal Rite

The only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Presley was baptized on Sunday afternoon at St. Raphael's Church by the Rev. James Cain. Godparents of the baby, who was named Donna Therese, are a cousin, Karen Busterna of San Francisco, and David Ramponi of San Rafael. The little one has two brothers, Donald Ray Jr., 4, and Eugene Philip, who is two and a half. A dinner party at the Presley home followed the ceremony. In addition to the principals in the baptismal rites were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Busterna and Frank, Paul and Alice Busterna of San Francisco.

Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. DeMartini of San Rafael, Mrs. Alma Presley of Sterling, Colo., and John Presley of Santa Rosa.

Child Health Meet

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Child Health Conference will be held tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the American Legion Hall, Larkspur. Dr. Eugene Shatkin, attending physician, will be assisted by Miss Ethel Kelsey, public health nurse, and volunteers from Larkspur and Corte Madera P-TA's. Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Richard Glassman, Larkspur.

New Sunny Hills Guild Is Formed

The sole function of this guild is to organize and operate the entertainment features at the 60th Annual Grape Festival, which will be held Saturday, Oct. 3 of this year.

Mrs. Paul Spengler of Ross has been elected president of the group. Other officers are Mrs. Charles F. White of Ross, vice president; and Mrs. Fred Enemark of San Rafael, secretary-treasurer. Standing committee chairmen are Mrs. Kirchner, membership; and Mrs. Elmer J. Martin of Belvedere, publicity.

Charter members of the newly formed guild are the Mesdames Bradford Collins, Fairfax; Arthur Dettner Jr., Sausalito; John Finn III, Mill Valley; Ralston Hodgson, Ross; John A. Lesoine, Ross; H. Oppenheimer, Ross; Edward Ruff, Greenbrae; Les Vogle Jr., Kentfield; Arthur C. Wigell, Kentfield; and John H. Wolfe, Kentfield.

Also attending the initial meeting in an advisory capacity were Mrs. Walter Zweig, Kentfield, chairman of the Grape Festival; Mrs. Edgar T. Lindner, Ross, public relations and board member, and Mrs. Donald L. Jeffries, Ross, Sunny Hills board member in charge of guilds.

ENGAGEMENT IS REVEALED

The engagement of Barbara Bundschu and Robert Lee Bessey is announced, and revealed, too, is the news the young couple plans to wed next spring. The bride-elect, daughter of Charles Bundschu of San Anselmo and the late Mrs. Bundschu, has one brother, Zeke. She is the granddaughter of A. J. Sheppard of San Francisco. Barbara is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bessey of Sparks, Nev., is a graduate of high school there. He is in the Navy and stationed at Pearl Harbor. He is a brother of Jo Ann, Rollie and Dyanna Bessey of Sparks and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bessey of Molalla, Ore., and Mrs. John Kaiser of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Redwood Fuchsia Society To Meet Friday Evening

All members have been urged to be present to receive the award at the meeting, which will take place at 8 p.m. in Tiburoner's Hall, Tiburon.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. E. H. Carlson of Berkeley, who will demonstrate the art of making leis and corsages from fuchsia blossoms.

There will be a plant table, awards and refreshments. Guests are invited.

Air Academy Band Welcomes Girl Scouts To Colorado Springs

By VICKI EMERSON

COLORADO SPRINGS—Dear Marinites:

This is the first of three letters to keep you in touch with the Roundup Patrol from Marin. For many months eight Senior Girl Scouts from Marin County prepared for this event and finally the great day arrived.

The Marin patrol left the Oakland railroad station on Monday evening, June 29, arriving in Colorado Springs early Wednesday morning, July 1. There we stepped off the train to the lively music of the Air Force Academy Band.

By Thursday more than 8,500 Senior Scouts had converged on the site from all over the United States, its territories, and 27 countries around the world. Our city of 6,000 tents came rapidly into existence, making it the sixth largest city in Colorado with over 10,000 people.

At the Roundup each patrol of eight is mixed with three other patrols from different areas. We are quite lucky to have such a cross section of girls coming from California (Marin), Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Pennsylvania.

So far, the most impressive event was a program held Friday night, July 3, in the main arena which seats 15,000, celebrating the statehood of Alaska and the coming statehood of Hawaii. The patrol from Alaska presented the 49 star flag to Mrs. Charles Culmer, National President of the Girl Scouts. Then the Hawaiian patrol, in colorful costume, presented a huge silver star to Mrs. Culmer, who in turn gave it back to them for safe keeping until next year, when it will become the 50th star on Old Glory. That evening the 48 star flag flew all night long with a bright spotlight on it—this could be seen from all over the camp.

Piano Pupils Present Recital In San Rafael

Piano pupils of Charles Orgibet and Elizabeth Rogers presented a recital on June 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Rogers in San Rafael.

Winfield Scott Smiths Are Parents Of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Smith, formerly of Sausalito and who now live on their ranch in Glen Ellen, are again grandparents. Their son, Winifred Scott Wands Smith and his wife, Patricia, welcomed a baby boy last week. "Windy" as he is known to his Marin friends, and Pat, who live in El Cerrito are also the parents of a little girl, Jennifer, who is two.

Patricia Ann Slade, Michael Austin Wed

Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda was the setting for the recent wedding of Patricia Ann Slade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Slade of Novato and Michael Robert Austin of Terra Linda.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of lace over satin and tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice, long lace sleeves and lace stand-up collar. The skirt had four lace tiers.

Ann Young of Novato, as maid of honor, wore a waltz length lace on satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of pink velvet and full skirt. She wore matching pink shoes and veiled cap and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Little Linda and Diane Doyle, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doyle of Windsor and sisters of the bridegroom, as flower girls, wore pink organdy dresses.

Ronald Austin, the bridegroom's brother of San Rafael, was best man and ushers were Larry White of Windsor; Robert Finney, Fairfax; John Kelly of San Rafael and Jim Sullivan of Novato.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed at the American Fire Insurance Co. in San Francisco. She is the sister of Carolyn and Jack Slade of Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Paton of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Henry Carnie of Steelville, Mo., are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High and attended College of Marin.

Thomas' Have A Son

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Thomas of San Rafael are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first son. The baby, who weighed eight pounds, was born Thursday night at Marin General Hospital. He has not yet been named. He has a sister, Helen, 18 months old. Grandparents are Mrs. Helen Rowan and Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Thomas of San Rafael.

Vase Choice

Choose vases of three types so that you may have suitable ones for all types of flowers. Tall vases with wide tops should be used for roses, delphiniums and other such flowers; low spreading vases for pansies and nasturtiums and larger ones with wide top and broad base for peonies, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

CYO DANCE COURSE IS STILL OPEN

It is not too late to join the CYO Course in Ballroom Dancing which begin Monday, July 5 in St. Raphael's gymnasium.

Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotillion and of this special course, has announced that interested students may still join the class which meets next on Friday, July 10 at 8 p.m.

Those who were not able to attend the first class of Monday because of the holiday weekend, will meet at 7:30 p.m. at St. Raphael's gym in order that Mrs. Frohlich may catch them up to the class.

The course is open to recent graduates from eighth grade and to teen-agers. Applications should be made directly with Mrs. Frohlich, 280 Fairhills drive, San Rafael.

Natural Shape

The silhouette for fall calls for a natural shape, with lifted and rounded bustline, marked waistline, gently curved hips and thighs. The shaping is achieved by foundations that control with a light touch. Girdles have new bands reinforcing fleshy areas of hips and thighs. Pantie girdles feature contoured back panels for a natural "uncorseted" look.

550-Page School Study Guide To Be Printed

The Marin County Board of Education Monday night authorized printing of the newly-adopted 550-page study guide for elementary school courses by the R. G. Fontana and Son company of San Anselmo.

The cost, $10,534.76, was termed too great by Virgil S. Hollis, county school superintendent, who said he could turn out the three-volume guide on a duplicating machine in his office for $1,700 plus the cost of loose-leaf binders.

The first volume is due to be printed by Aug. 1, with the second due Sept. 15 and the third, Nov. 1.

The board also:

Re-employed Mrs. Vera Watson as part-time nurse to be assigned to the Kentfield, San Anselmo, Fairfax confederated districts.

Was advised by Hollis that Dr. Richard Hinze had accepted a contract to be assistant superintendent in charge of educational services at a salary of $12,148.

Increased the contract of Asst. Supt. E. L. Blackmore from 11 to 11½ months, thus increasing his annual salary by $552, from $12,144 to $12,696, and authorized a four-year contract for Blackmore.

New Riding Group Will Incorporate

The two-month-old San Geronimo Horsemen's Assn. has taken steps to organize as a corporation.

Those wishing to join without payment of initiation fee may do so until the articles of incorporation are filed.

Named to the organizing board of directors were Jesse Joyce, president; Leslie Stone, vice president; Mrs. Gene Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Diane Ross,, historian, and Mrs. Leslie Sonte, assistant secretary, and Carl Travis, Ernest Tranzi, Fred Vaughn and Mrs. A. E. Larsen, directors.

Rufus Parmeter Sued For Divorce

Rufus Parmeter of Sleepy Hollow, vice president and general manager of Eastman Tag and Label Co. of San Francisco, is being sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court by his wife of five months.

Mrs. Violet Parmeter charges great and grievous mental pain and suffering. She says he makes more than $2,500 per month, and that a reasonable support payment for her would be $850 per month. She also asks for $2,000 attorney fees for Berwyn Rice.

The Parmeters were married in Las Vegas on Jan. 30 of this year and separated July 1. They have no children. Until the separation they lived at 1105 Butterfield road.

Teen-Ager Buying

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most retailers report that teen-agers do more buying on their own these days than in the past. Boys particularly buy clothes unaccompanied by parents.

Fish, Seafood Bill Signed By Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill creating a California Fish and Seafood Advisory Board to conduct research, advertising and sales promotion.

The board of 21 members and 21 alternates will be appointed by the state Board of Agriculture from a list submitted by fish handlers.

It can launch programs if approved by 51 per cent of companies which handle 65 per cent of gross fish sales, or by 65 per cent of companies which handle 51 per cent of gross fish sales.

The measure is patterned after promotional programs for dairy products, beef and poultry.

MISS NEW JERSEY—Geraldine Binder, 18, of Irving, N. J., poses after being named Miss New Jersey at Palisades Amusement Park Monday night. She is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, and measures 35-23-35. Geraldine, a voice student who attends Westminster Choral College in Princeton, N. J., will represent her state in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif.

Judges Seek Place For Courtroom

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday tossed the problem of where the next county courtroom will be into the laps of the two municipal and three superior court judges.

With formation of a third municipal court department, the board has been considering possible locations. The problem was reviewed by the Department of Public Works, which yesterday submitted to the board a preliminary plan that would cut in two either of the two superior courts located in the courthouse annex.

Both courtrooms (normally used by Judges Jordan L. Martinelli and Thomas F. Keating) are virtually the same, said Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham. His plan for making two courtrooms out of one could apply to either of them, he said.

The board decided that all the judges—Martinelli, Keating and N. Charles Brusatori of Superior Court and Richard M. Sims and Harold J. Haley of Municipal Court—should have a voice in the matter, and asked that it be referred to them as a committee.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen reminded the board that the new municipal court goes into operation Sept. 19. A judge has not yet been appointed.

The board indicated that if a new courtroom is not available at that time, possibly one of the judges will be on vacation and his courtroom can be used.

One voice in the board of supervisors' chamber was heard to say: "Maybe what we need is a quonset hut on the roof."

Water Service Sale To Petaluma Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state Public Utilities Commission yesterday approved the proposed sale of the California Water Service Co.'s Petaluma service to the city of Petaluma.

The commission's order, effective July 27, authorizes the sale on or before next Nov. 30.

OH, MY ACHING BACK

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain —you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Two-Fisted Reason For Bosses To Hire Teen-Agers For Summer

Are you an employer? Today I plead for summer jobs for teen-agers. If you can hire teen-agers, please do. Many jobs are needed, right now.

The majority of our young people are idle this summer. They're fooling around with their friends. Most of their gangs are fine, but some aren't. They egg each other into doing bad things. Even good teen-agers are getting into trouble through sheer idleness. That's one of the reasons they need jobs.

The other reason is the lesson they'll learn by working. Many of our young people are soft. They've never worked before. They don't know what it is like to plug away at a job. It is not their fault. They've never had a chance to learn. But it is unfortunate. They need the self-discipline work brings. They need the ability to take orders. You'll be doing a real service if you hire them.

But how about you? Will you get your money's worth? Yes, if you pick your kids carefully. Don't hire the first teen-ager you see. Check with the high school principal. Chances are he can refer you to a summer employment agency for students. Many schools have them. (In Marin, check California State Employment in San Rafael.)

Call the agency. Describe the work. Tell them the sort of young person you need and ask to see several. Check them with their counselors if possible. Then pick the most likely looking ones. You won't be disappointed.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I own a drugstore. Years ago I hired teen-agers. Then the juvenile laws were revised and I was visited by suspicious investigators. I was checked by social workers. I was asked so many 'have you stopped beating your wife' questions that I gave up. Now I hire no one under 21. Would you care to comment on the effect of juvenile labor laws on jobs for teen-agers?" —E. F.

(A) Gladly. The effect often is bad. I believe we have too many restrictions and too much red tape. However, many employers still manage to hire young people. I hope others will copy them.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, July 8, the 189th day of the the year, with 176 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venue, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this date in history:

In 1776, the Declaration of Independence was given its first public reading.

In 1822, the poet, Percy Shelly, was drowned.

In 1853, American ships under Commodore Matthew Calbraith Perry arrived at Yokohama, with orders to open Japan to American trade.

In 1944, American forces captured Saipan.

Car's In Good Hands

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—"Who has car 4?" Patrolman Vincent Sansome inquired over police radio here after finding the cruiser missing from the department garage. "I have it," came the answer. Sansome then reminded the officer-driver it was his day off. The officer brought the cruiser in and went home.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

San Rafael To Pt. Reyes Road Gets Priority

Marin's County Supervisors yesterday labeled a San Rafael-San Anselmo-Point Reyes Station highway the No. 1 priority for state construction in the county.

By a unanimous vote, the board acceded to a request by the San Rafael and San Anselmo Chambers of Commerce not only to give the proposed highway first priority, but also to request state planning "as soon as possible."

"Some people got the idea we should endorse the loop from San Rafael to Novato via Nicasio as the No. 1 project," Supervisor William D. Fusselman declared. "But that's not the idea. That's in the 20-year plan, but the east-west road is the most important."

Supervisor James Marshall agreed, pointing out the planning of the state highway would help solve a disagreement between the county and the Marin Municipal Water District about placement of the road around the new water district lake near Nicasio.

The proposed east-west road is included in the state's highway master plan which was passed by the recent Legislature.

More Tests Urged For 'Live' Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP) — Mass vaccination with live virus polio vaccine is unwise at the present time, a group of experts has reported.

The vaccine advisory committee of the National Foundation recommended yesterday that the Salk vaccine, which uses viruses already killed, be continued as the major weapon against polio.

The committee reported that the live virus vaccine requires further field trials.

Pier Angeli, Son, Enroute To U.S.

Miss Angeli told a reporter her husband, singer Vic Damone, with whom she recently was reconciled after getting a divorce decree, would meet her and the boy.

"Then we're going to have a lovely, long holiday—just the three of us," she said.

County Checkup Report Of Unsafe Reservoir

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday ordered the county department of public works, health department and fire department to investigate a report of an unsafe water reservoir just outside the city of Mill Valley.

The board approved the order on a motion by Supervisor Vera Schultz of Mill Valley. Her request was the result of a letter from Philip J. Sinnott of 872 Lovell avenue, and Fred R. Wight of 980 Lovell avenue, both Mill Valley.

The letter said the so-called Cascade Reservoir, about 200 yards beyond the intersection of Cascade drive and Lovell avenue, is a "hazard affecting life, health, forest fire and traffic."

The letter said the reservoir "is being used for swimming and picnicking in spite of a no-trespass sign."

The reservoir is surrounded by steep slopes covered with brush and trees, and there is evidence of fires having been started in the area, the letter went on. "Should a fire start . . . our populated and heavily wooded area would be destroyed or considerably damaged," it said.

The reservoir was made for maximum water storage, and there is a steep drop from the shores. "Obviously, it is not suited for public swimming, and there is constant danger of drownings," wrote Sinnott and Wight. "Many children walk there from the central part of Mill Valley because no fee is charged. There is no life guard and it is used at all hours."

The supervisors also:

1. Appointed Francis A. Raymond a fire warden at $358 a month, and Stanley H. Disher a fire warden at $341 a month, both effective July 1, to replace Fred Conradi and William Edrich, resigned.

2. Passed a resolution abandoning about 778 feet of county road (called Middle road) near Marshall and a bridge that is part of the road over Estero de San Antonio. A recently opened $60,000 bridge replaces the abandoned span.

3. Approved a $750 license fee for a Foley and Burke American Legion-sponsored carnival to be held in Novato July 28 through Aug. 1.

4. Called for drainage improvement at Castro Park in Santa Venetia, estimated to cost $3,300.

5. Approved a supplement to the just-adopted resolution providing for a one-range increase to county employees. The supplement provides a specific list of jobs.

6. Denied a petition for annexation of Northbridge subdivision to the Santa Venetia Lighting District on the grounds that more residents by petition opposed the annexation than favored it.

7. Referred to the road commissioner a proposed freeway agreement setting up portions of the highway between San Quentin wye and the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge which the county and the state would maintain.

8. Referred to the planning commission requests of Homestead Valley Improvement Club for minimum housing regulations in Homestead and rezoning of property in the Miller avenue-Ethel avenue area.

9. Denied a petition by the Marin Church of God in Marin City that the license fee be waived for a carnival the church proposed to sponsor at Marin City. The board pointed out that because the carnival maintained control of its operations, the county ordinance does not permit the $150 per day fee to be waived.

10. Received a letter from the Family Service Agency favoring the county's participation in Short-Doyle Act facilities.

11. Agreed to attend a Marin County Farm Bureau luncheon next Monday at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Drunk Driving Crackdown To Continue

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's Department of Motor Vehicles will continue its crackdown in drunken drivers despite a good fatality record during the July 4 holiday, Director Robert McCarthy said today.

He said it "represents the greatest statewide cooperative safety effort in recent years." Last year, 33 motorists died during the July 4 holiday and in 1937, a total of 36 deaths were reported.

"With this start we are going to try to turn the tide of rising deaths and accident in July," McCarthy said. "The crackdown on drunk and negligent drivers will continue.

"Coupled with strict and impartial enforcement and the contribution made by education and traffic engineering, we hope to show more results in the traffic safety picture," he added.

Last week, McCarthy announced a policy of suspending drivers' licenses of motorists convicted of drunken driving for six months.

Mill Valley Council To Discuss Budget

The Mill Valley City Council has scheduled an informal public work session for tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall to discuss the proposed city budget for the new fiscal year.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants has posed a series of questions calling for council decision prior to his preparation of the budget.

Major Bills On Crime End In Wastebasket

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Members of the California Legislature talked a lot about crime and narcotics, but when the 1959 session ended most of the major bills on those subjects were in the waste basket.

Despite a sensational report by an Assembly Interim Committee that claimed the Mafia had established a foothold in California, the legislators decided the state's laws were already strong enough to deal with criminals.

A deadlock developed between forces trying to stiffen the state's laws and legislators hoping to protect civil rights.

Law enforcement officers made their biggest pitch for permission to use evidence obtained through illegal means in court trials of accused narcotics offenders.

Legislation doing just that was introduced by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville) and several other members of both houses. It passed the Senate but was killed in the assembly after a hot floor debate during the final week of the session.

While civil rights forces were successful in killing the narcotics evidence plan, they had less luck in promoting their own legislation.

Their major proposal of the session—a plan to end the use of the death penalty in California—was defeated in both the Assembly and the Senate. The separate bills were introduced by Assemblyman Lester McMillian (D-Los Angeles) and Sen. Fred Farr (D-Carmel).

A number of bills were introduced to increase penalties for narcotics violators including several which would have established a 30-year minimum sentence for any crime involving the use of drugs. Another would have sent adults who sell narcotics to children to the gas chamber.

All were defeated.

A few proposals in the crime-narcotics field were passed.

Heading the list of successful bills was one supported by Gov. Edmund G. Brown which established a state clinic to experiment with new methods of treating and rehabilitating narcotics addicts.

Under the administration-sponsored program, users would be brought to the clinic and forced to "kick the habit." Then they would be released under close parole supervision.

The non-habit forming drug nalline would be used to detect backsliders who would be pushed back to jail to "dry out" again.

Companion bills to permit cities and counties to use nalline were also passed.

The most noteworthy bills were still those which failed.

A few of the sidetracked A few of the sidetracked measures would have:

1. Outlawed the sale of obscene books and magazine.

2. Established a statewide curfew of 10 p.m. for boys and girls under 18 years of age.

3. Required all convicted narcotics offenders to register with a state agency and keep the agency informed of their current address.

4. Outlawed electronic eavesdropping and other methods of overhearing private conversations.

5. Made it a crime for persons under 21 years of age to go to horse races. Present law makes it illegal for them to bet on the races.

While very few laws were added to the books concerning crime and narcotics, several major measures were approved in the field of liquor regulation.

Most controversial of these was a bill by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) which repealed a 19th Century prohibition against serving drinks in restaurants near colleges and universities.

The lawmakers also approved a plan to require at least a 25 per cent markup on all alcoholic beverages and to permit the state to continue to enforce a minimum price on liquor.

Plenty Of Coal Left

NEW YORK (UPI) — Total U.S. soft coal reserves amount to roughly two trillion tons—enough to last present users for more than 2,000 years, according to recent estimates. Approximately two-thirds of these reserves are estimated to lie west of the Mississippi.

San Rafael Gets Road Material Bids

Bids for street materials and for street painting for the 1959-60 fiscal year were taken under submission by the San Rafael City Council Monday night.

Hutchinson Co., Basalt Rock, Shamrock Materials, Camgros Gravel and McPhail's bid for various items such as asphalt aggregates, brick and emulsion. Most of the bids were nearly identical.

Mark-A-Line Inc., of Sausalito was the lone bidder for street painting. The company guaranteed to stripe the streets for the coming year at a maximum of $11,500.

In other actions, the city council:

1. Approved rezoning of V. T. Eliason's property at 3 Jessup street from single family to apartment zoning for six units, with 8,000 square feet per unit.

2. Set for July 20 discussion of closing of Watt avenue so that Coleman School could be expanded.

3. Hired five new city employees, one each for the building department, police department, recreation department and public works department, and a receptionist-switchboard operator.

Three Folsom Buildings Hit By Flash Fire

FOLSOM PRISON (AP) — A flash fire swept through three buildings inside the Folsom Prison walls yesterday. Damage was estimated at more than $100,000, but no one was hurt.

Prison officials said the blaze could have been started by careless handling of welding equipment. Preliminary investigation showed no evidence of arson, officers said.

Buildings housing electronics and maintenance equipment and vcational training classrooms were burned.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE MARIN JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT, Kentfield, Marin County, California, will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the following work on the Kentfield Campus of the College of Marin.

1. Paint walls, ceiling and woodwork, window sash and trim (interior) of certain rooms and areas as shown in plans and specifications.

2. Painting steel supports, seats, floor boards and areas as shown in plans and specifications for Bleachers.

3. Painting exterior sash and trim and all work in preparation of these areas as shown and designated in plans and specifications (exterior).

4. Compact, bring to specified grade, and cover with double seal coat Roadway and Parking Areas adjacent to Gymnasium and Field Houses as shown in plans and specifications.

5. Repair breaks in surface of North entrance road at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and adjacent to Engineering Building. Bring road to specified grade and surface specified areas with double seal coats.

6. Compact and cover with double seal coat Parking Area adjacent to new Library as shown in plans and specifications.

7. Repair Cafeteria and other roof areas in accordance with specifications.

Each bid to be in accordance with Plans and Specifications now on file at the office of the President of the College, Ward H. Austin, Kentfield, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained.

Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of the President of the College and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for ten percent (10%) of the amount bid, made payable to the order of the Marin Junior College District and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 9th day of July, 1959, at 8:00 p.m. and will be opened in public and read aloud at or about 8:00 p.m. of that day in the Board room of the District Board, Harlan Hall, College of Marin Campus, Kentfield, California.

The above-mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Marin Junior College Board.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the Contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Contract price, said bonds to be secured from a security company satisfactory to the Marin Junior College Board.

THE MARIN JUNIOR COLLEGE BOARD reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the MARIN JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT BOARD has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, or contracts, which will be awarded to the successful bidder or bidders. Former Novato Clergyman Is Sued For Divorce

Rev. Richard H. Shackell, formerly of St. Francis Episcopal Mission of Novato, is being sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court on grounds of extreme mental cruelty.

Joan B. Shackell, represented by the Novato law firm of Palmer and Grundstrom, seeks custody of their two daughters ages 5 and 4, and support for herself and the children. Rev. Shackell, who lived at Ignacio, has been transferred to Pleasant Hill in Contra Costa County.

They were married in 1949 at Winona, Minn., and separated last month.

A property settlement worked out by the couple gives her a 1948 car, an insurance policy on his life, and $200 per month for support of herself and the children. He gets a 1959 car and his personal effects.

Mrs. Shackell says the preacher earns about $4,000 per year plus quarters and car allowance.

West Berlin is the biggest city in Germany, with 2,500,000 inhabitants.

The first visit of a member of Britain's royal family to Canada was in 1860 when the then Prince of Wales arrived at Montreal. Later he became King Edward VII.

Cyd Will Get $250,000 To Produce Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Talent more expensive than ever in these days of inflation, may take a big bite out of that quarter of a million dollars Cyd Charisse receives for a one-hour TV spectacular this fall.

But the dancer-turned-actress wasn't complaining about the fact her actual take may be anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000—instead of the $250,000 figure announced for the "Evening with Cyd Charisse" show.

"I don't care about the profits," she said. "It's just a matter of really entertaining the people. It's flattering to be paid this much money to put on the show."

The Ford Motor Co. is paying Cyd $250,000 to put on the show Nov. 17. But it wasn't originally disclosed that the amount will include all the talent and operating equipment, with the big item being the amount necessary to attract guest stars — plus a producer and choreography.

St. Paul is 10 miles away from its "twin city" Minneapolis.

THE GORDON MACRAES—Although teen-agers in love get all kinds of arguments on why they shouldn't wed, Gordon and Sheila MacRae, above, have a different slant. They were married in 1941 when she was 17 and he was barely 20. Eighteen years and four children later, they are enjoying their married life more than ever. "The great advantage of an early marriage is that both people have not formed their personalities yet," says Sheila.

FOUR CHILDREN LATER...

MacRaes Defend Teen-Age Marriages

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Teenagers in love get all kinds of arguments on why they shouldn't get married. Here are Gordon and Sheila MacRae with a different slant: why not?

The talented pair married in 1941 when she was 17 and he was barely 20. Eighteen years and four children later, they are enjoying their married life more than ever.

Not only do they live together; they work together. For three years they have been appearing as a team in supper clubs and on TV. This summer they'll co-star in "The Bells Are Ringing" at the big St. Louis outdoor theater.

They attribute a great deal of their success at marriage to having started early. They met in a little theater on Long Island. A romance ensued, and she joined him for a visit in Ohio while he was touring with Horace Heidt.

"It was Horace who suggested we get married," Gordon recalled. "I don't know why, except maybe he thought he'd be able to hold onto a singer. He saw the war coming on and may have figured I wouldn't be drafted if I had dependents."

So they were wed, despite MacRae's shaky prospects: he was earning $50 a week as a part of a quartet. So they lived happily ever after?

"No," corrected Sheila. "I was packed five times and ready to go home to mother.

"And each time I gave in and said I was wrong, whether I was or not," he added.

Their marriage managed to survive the barnstorming tours and his three years in the Air Force. After the war, she wrote and appeared on a radio show which started him off to stardom. When Hollywood beckoned, she retired to care for their family.

Sheila refuted the theory that opposite types made the best marriages. She and Gordon hit it off more readily as youngsters, she feels, because they came from the same kind of backgrounds.

"And," he added, "it helps to have a good example in your own family. Both Sheila's parents and mine had been happily married."

Teen Dances Scheduled In San Rafael

Two teen-age dances will be held Friday night, the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department announced today.

The senior teen dance is set for San Rafael High School cafeteria from 8 to 11 p.m. Dress will be slacks for boys and cottons for girls. Admission is 10 cents.

The junior teen dance will be held at Santa Venetia Junior High School from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Admission is 10 cents. Dress will be sports.

The dance at Davidson Junior High last Friday brought 75 participants. Another dance at Davidson is set for Friday July 17, from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

More than 50 attended the senior teen dance at the high school cafeteria last Friday. Dances for senior teens are held every Friday night from 8:30 to 11 p.m. throughout the summer.

Drop-in nights are offered every Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Santa Venetia multi-purpose room and Davidson gym.

Hall Scale Appears Whipped In State

SACRAMENTO, July 8 (UPI)—California fruit and nut crop ranchers can forget about one of the pests that has been attacking their trees.

The state Department of Agriculture reported that the pest, the hall scale, can be considered wiped out in California.

Robert W. Harper, chief of the department's Bureau of Entomology, said yesterday that unless the tiny insect turns up alive in the next year, the books will be closed on its damage to California's 150 million dollar annual deciduous fruit crop.

Harper said the hall scale has not been seen in the state since 1956.

Punishment For Parents KTIM Topic

"How far should the law go in penalizing parents of juvenile offenders?" will be the topic of radio station KTIM'S "Marin Sounding Board" program at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Panelists will be W. O. Weissich, Marin's district attorney; John Buresh, city attorney of San Anselmo; Dr. James Stubblebine, consulting psychiatrist at the county juvenile hall, and Miss Patricia Howell, case worker with the Family Service Agency of Marin.

Listeners may, as usual, telephone questions to be answered by the panelists.

Two Marin Youths At German Camp

Two Marin youths left last week for Germany where they will spend eight weeks working in a forestry camp in the Harz Mountains under the auspices of the German Students Travel Service.

The boys, both second year students at College of Marin, are Earl Spangenberg, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Spangenberg of 29 Angela avenue, San Anselmo, and Tom Dickey, 20, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dickey of 86 Sunnyside avenue, Mill Valley. They are expected to return home at the end of August.

Brown Signs Measure On Teachers' Pension

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed into law a bill permitting California's school teachers to participate in both federal social security and the state teacher's retirement system—if they want.

The bill by Sen. Nelson S. Dilworth (R-Hemet) applies to teachers who have elected to go under social security.

Pretty Nurses

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Medical College of Virginia has some pretty young nurses—and the children love them. They are drawn from a group of 35 students of Thomas Jefferson High School who have had special training. They work in the children's ward, feeding and reading to the children and teaching them games.

Sausalitan's Script To Get Reading

"Night Brings Home All Stragglers," an original script by Louis Davis of San Francisco, will be the vehicle presented by the Sausalito Little Theater Sunday at 8 p.m. as a play reading.

The cast, directed by Ann Brebner, will be composed of well known performers including Irene Pritzker, John King, Lou Mason, Mary Lou Perrone, John Perry and John Brebner.

"Night Brings Home All Stragglers" is being offered in addition to the regular Friday and Saturday night performances of "The Drunkard" at the Sausalito Little Theater.

Raging Fire Threatens Giant Muir Woods Trees

FIRE-FIGHTING AIRMEN — Three airmen from the 666th Air Control and Warning Squadron atop Mt. Tamalpais tramp along a fallen redwood tree as they work their way uphill today, fighting the 100-acre Frank's Valley forest fire. They are equipped with five-gallon pump-cans, filled with water. Windless Day Helps Halt Blaze

A forest fire, first reported at 2:55 a.m., swept over about 100 hilly acres above Frank's Valley in southwest Marin today, for a time threatening the famed giant redwood trees in Muir Woods National Monument.

The fire burned from 50,000 to 100,000 board feet of redwood logs cut by loggers working for Robert Parker and Chet Dixon of Petaluma. Parker estimated their loss at $25,000, including idling of 12 rented trucks which, he said, are costing $250 each a day. He said he could not yet determine how much of the burned timber would be salvageable.

County Fire Chief Charles Reilley said the fire was under control for practical purposes by about 7 a.m. He officially declared it under control at 10:55 a.m .

NO WIND

There was no early morning wind. Otherwise, said Reilley, "we could never have controlled it where we did."

The burned acreage is part of the area which the state has proposed to buy for expansion of Mt. Tamalpais State Park. A million dollar appropriation has been made for the purchase and state appraisers have been in the area this week.

The fire was thought to have started in a narrow canyon on the 1,800-acre Tony Brazil ranch, spreading uphill and inland.

CAUSE DISPUTED

The cause of the blaze was the subject of dispute. Reilley said flatly it was caused by the logging operations, through a spark from a chain-saw or other logging equipment. He said loggers were working in the area until 8 p.m. yesterday.

Parker denied that his loggers could have been responsible. They were no nearer than a quarter of a mile from the fire's point of origin at any time yesterday, he declared. He offered an opinion that the fire was started by a careless hunter or even by the sun's rays focusing through a piece of broken glass.

75 FIGHT FIRE

About 75 men fought the blaze. The county fire department had about 35 men and 15 trucks at the scene. They were aided by 30 airmen from the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron atop Mt. Tamalpais, and about eight ranchers of the area.

Access to the fire was delayed until firemen moved two tractors in to bulldoze a road from the Brazil ranchhouse about two miles up the canyon to the point where the fire started.

$1,500 STATUE MISSING FROM MARIN HOME

A Chinese statue valued at $1,500 is missing from a Mill Valley home, Marin County Undersheriff Eugene Meyer reported today.

Gayle Shelton, president of American Overseas Sales Corp., in San Francisco, told officers yesterday he returned from a two-week trip to New Orleans and discovered the statue gone from the terrace of his home at 169 Lone Tree road.

The granite statue, weighing 400 to 500 pounds, stands about four feet high and is greenish gray. The statue, listed in insurance catalogs as "Quan Yin with Elixir of Life," dates from the Wei Dynasty, 494 to 550 A.D.

Steel Union Rejects Pact Extension Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — The Steelworkers Union today rejected President Eisenhower's renewed request for an indefinite extension of steel contracts beyond their scheduled expiration at midnight July 14.

David J. McDonald, union president, said in a statement "We are confident that the President does not intend that we negotiate forever."

"If there is good faith on the companies part we can conclude an agreement by 12:01 a.m. July 15.

"Every period of negotiations must have a terminal point. This is one that has been agreed upon by the parties."

Eisenhower renewed at his news conference in Washington today a plea that both sides continue negotiating without a strike for as long a time as is necessary to reach a peaceful agreement.

McDonald declined to answer any questions beyond his formal brief statement that the July 14 deadline will stand.

Neither the union nor steel companies would comment on the course of negotiations.

McDonald's brief statement came on the heels of a personal appeal he made to Vice President Richard M. Nixon for help in getting a wage boost and other contract benefits from the steel industry.

McDonald said he went to Pittsburgh and sought out Nixon to complain that the steel companies were "provoking a shutdown" by balking at offering any contract gains.

The union chief declined to tell newsmen what Nixon's reaction was. He said on that he supposed Nixon reported to President Eisenhower on the conference.

Negotiations between four-man teams representing the union and the 12 biggest steel companies continues here today.

McDonald's announcement yesterday that he had been in Pittsburgh conferring with Nixon dispelled a two-day mystery about his absence from the stalemated contract talks here.

Bolinas Beach Guards Scarce Water Supply

Bolinas Beach is so short of water that consumers are being notified they will face penalties if they use any of the supply for other than household needs.

This came to light today as Calvin C. Talcott, Bolinas Beach Utility District secretary, disclosed he is sending notices to all 150 customers in the district warning them of the requirements for strict conservation of the dwindling water supply.

The order rules out garden watering and car washing, Talcott said.

This is the first time in his knowledge that a serious water shortage has developed in the district, the secretary declared.

Some Bolinas residents are becoming exceedingly apprehensive over the possibility of fire as a result of the limited water supply.

Levit Resigns Post In Brown Cabinet

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Finance Director Bert W. Levit, the second highest paid state official, announced today he will quit Aug. 1 for personal and business reasons.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, expressing regret at Levit's departure, named no successor. He noted Levit had agreed to take the top ranked cabinet post on a temporary basis.

Levit, 55, one of Gov. Brown's few Republican appointees, served under Brown when he was attorney general and as his assistant when Brown was district attorney in San Francisco.

His salary as finance director was $27,500 a year. The governor gets $40,000.

Chessman Has New Death Appointment

San Quentin convict-author Caryl Chessman has a new appointment with death, but his attorney is sure that he will avoid this one just as he has all others.

Yesterday the California Supreme Court upheld two death sentences imposed on Chessman 11 years ago. Chessman, author of two well-publicized books, was convicted of kidnaping and assaulting two young women in Los Angeles.

He has been fending off execution in legal actions, prepared for the most part by himself.

The state court yesterday unanimously rejected the 38-year-old prisoner's contention that the transcript of his Los Angeles trial in May, 1948, was faulty.

TO LOS ANGELES

Chessman will have to return to Los Angeles to hear his new date for execution in San Quentin's gas chamber.

During Chessman's trial, the court reporter, E. R. Perry, died before he had a chance to transcribe his shorthand notes. Chessman claimed it was impossible for another reporter to do so accurately.

The U. S. Supreme Court, which has considered the case seven times, had ordered a new hearing on the transcript of the original trial.

Superior Court Judge Walter Evans turned down the claims by Chessman in February, 1958. The state supreme court, in its actions yesterday, supported Judge Evans.

Chessman's attorney, Rosalie Asher of Sacramento, said she probably will seek a rehearing before the state court. If this is denied, another review by the U. S. Supreme Court would be in order, she said.

Chessman, meanwhile, has made no comment on the latest court decision. He has been sitting on condemned row for 11 years, except for court appearances in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

In a 53-page opinion written by Justice B. Rey Schauer, it was observed that Chessman's contentions that the transcript was inadequate, prejudicially inaccurate and fraudulent "have been found to be false by every court which has passed on the facts."

"We conclude," wrote Justice Schauer, "that the corrected reporter's transcript is substantially accurate and sufficiently complete in every respect to permit a fair review of the appeal from the judgments of conviction . . ."

"We support the view that the shorthand notes of the court reporter were decipher-

Almonte Boy In Hospital With Burns

His sister Karen, 17, only person home at the time, phoned their mother, Mrs. Carol Loudon, at the San Francisco department store where she works. The girl was instructed to call a grandmother living nearby, and by the time Mrs. Loudon arrived home, a doctor was also present. The father, Dale Loudon, a merchant seaman, was away.

The boy was taken to Marin General Hospital shortly after noon and treated for second degree burns on back, chest and shoulder. His condition today was described as "fairly good."

As of this morning, the boy was still unable to furnish details of the accident.

Pt. Reyes Bill Not Dropped, Solons Stress

Rep. Clement W. Miller and Sen. Clair Engle are giving the Marin County Board of Supervisors one week in which to file "substantive objections" to their Pt. Reyes seashore park bill.

In a telegram to the Independent-Journal today, Miller declared he and Engle "have not, repeat not, dropped the Pt. Reyes bill."

Instead, the telegram continued, "we have deferred to Marin board for reasonable period to enable it to file substantive objections if it so desires. If not, the bill will be introduced next week."

Yesterday Miller telegraphed the board he and Engle would "defer introduction (of the bill) pending full study and consideration of the board's detailed reasons for objection should you care to forward them."

Yesterday the board took no action to forward its objections.

The supervisors last Friday passed a resolution by a 4 to 1 vote opposing introduction of a bill to authorize a Pt. Reyes national seashore "until such time as an economic and feasibility survey is made and meets with the approval of the Board of Supervisors."

Strychnine Kills Novato Terrier

A series of dog poisoning incidents during the past month has finally killed a terrier dog in Novato, the owner reported last night to the sheriff.

Harold A. Bloom, chicken rancher at 1853 Indian Valley road, said one of his three terriers died yesterday. He took the dogs to the Novato Animal Clinic where doctors told him the animals had taken strychnine poison.

The poisoning started about a month ago, Bloom reported. He does not know where the dogs were fed the poison because they never stray from his yard, he said.

Sewage Treatment Cost Hike Proposed

The lines of communication between Corte Madera Sanitary District and Ross Valley Sanitary District, negotiating for three years to expand the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant, were unclogged last night by a surprise proposal.

Ross Valley Sanitary District proposed by letter that starting in September the Corte Madera District pay $200 for each million gallons treated in excess of 175,000 gallons a day.

Charge to the Corte Madera district at present is $26.10 for each million gallons whether or not Corte Madera exceeds the 175,000 gallon-a-day limit set by contract.

Corte Madera now pumps about 400,000 gallons a day to the Greenbrae plant of Ross Valley Sanitary District, said Director Ben K. Rippe. In the rainy season the volume is even greater.

"We are not prepared to accede to their demand," Rippe said. "We need legal advice.

"Our feeling on the content of their letter is the question: Does it solve any problems? We feel it does not."

Rippe and two other directors, Herbert I. Vernet and Ernest T. Mock, were present at last night's meeting of the Corte Madera Sanitary District board when the letter was read. It was signed by Wallace S. Myers, attorney for Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Myers said today that he assumed the $200 per million gallons would be charged on a monthly basis.

The Corte Madera board of directors will draft a letter of reply at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the district office, 500 Tamalpais drive, said Rippe.

Goodwill Far Ahead In Race To Honolulu

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The big yacht Goodwill was more than 100 miles ahead of its nearest contender today in the 21st biennial transpacific yacht race between here and Honolulu.

Ralph Larrabee's 161-foot schooner, sailing out of Newport Harbor, was only 1,398 land miles from its destination at roll call this morning as the race entered its fifth day. Race officials said there was a good chance the Goodwill would set a new elapsed time record for the event.

Arnold Haskell's 66-foot yawl Chubasco, also out of Newport Harbor, was in second position, 1,483 miles from Honolulu.

Novato 3-Year-Old Takes Solo Spin In Pickup Truck

A 3-year-old Novato boy took a pickup truck for a spin yesterday afternoon, "drove" it past the sheriff's substation, and then made like a choo-choo train on the railroad tracks.

Little Bill T. Litsheim, son of Mrs. Lucille M. Litsheim of 100 Railroad avenue, was frightened but unhurt.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine and Deputy Gerald Fries were walking out of the substation about 4 p.m. when they spotted a red and white pickup rolling down the Litsheim driveway toward the substation. Only the top of the head of the little driver showed through the cab when the truck hit a two-foot embankment and bounced him up and down.

Bill had been playing in the truck parked on a steep driveway and apparently released the handbrake, officers said.

Board Adopts West Marin School Budget

Supt. George Stratton said this compared with $81,870 for last year, and will mean a jump in the tax rate from 88 cents to $1.45 per each $100 of assessed valuation.

Voters in the school district last February approved an increase in the tax to $1.60, but were told at the time that the board hoped to keep the rate down to $1.45.

The superintendent said the increase in the budget partly would go to pay for a proposed addition to West Marin School at Point Reyes Station. This

METER MAIDS WILL JOIN CITY'S POLICE FORCE

San Rafael Police Department is to add three "car-hops" to its force.

They'll be called "meter maids." Their duties will be to check parking meters and give out tickets for overparking.

City councilmen last night gave Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa permission to add the "meter maids." The chief said the addition will free trained policemen for other duties and assure that there will be sufficient parking patrol at all times.

Uniform for the young women officers has not yet been decided. Chiesa suggested skirts and jackets. Councilman Charles W. Aby insisted slacks would be more suitable. Councilman Louis H. Baar suggested divided riding skirts.

Either skirt or slacks would be all right, said City Manager Dan E. Andersen, because the city plans to provide the meter maids with Cushman motor scooters. They can step off and on the scooters without the flurry of petticoats that might be necessary to mount the traditional three-wheeled police cycle.

Three Police Officers Promoted In San Rafael

Three police promotions, including the advancement of Sgt. Jay Fletcher to lieutenant, were announced today by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

Officer Carl Selby will become a sergeant to replace Sgt. Louis Foster, who is the new juvenile officer. Officer Walter Lindman will be given a sergeant's rank to direct three "meter maids" and supervise other traffic matters.

WITH FORCE 10 YEARS

Lieutenant Fletcher will fill the position left by Chiesa when Chiesa became chief. Fletcher, 47, has been with San Rafael police since 1946, the last 10 years as a sergeant. He formerly worked at correctional officer at both San Quentin and Folsom Prisons and was a Navy Shore Patrolman stationed in San Rafael during World War II. He attended the San Francisco Police Academy and FBI training schools held in San Rafael.

Sergeant Selby, 42, joined the San Rafael police force in 1951 after two and one-half years as San Quentin correctional officer. During World War II he was in the Navy for three years, serving in the South Pacific.

Selby studied for eight months at the Metropolitan Law Enforcement School in Oakland and attended FBI training schools in San Rafael. The new sergeant will be in charge from midnight to 8 a.m.

Lindman, in his 60s, joined the San Rafael police department in 1940. He was a sergeant on duty at night until about two years ago when he wanted daytime duty and went down to patrolman. The new promotion puts him back to the sergeant's rank. He will assist Capt. Joseph J. Brusatori with administrative duties.

NEW PATROLMAN

Chief Chiesa also announced the hiring of a new patrolman. He is Larry Price, 23, of 142 Ross street, San Rafael.

A former tow truck driver, at Ohio State University. He has played football and did some wrestling.

Public Works Project Must Be Revised To Meet San Rafael Budget

City Manager Dan E. Andersen and Public Works Director Norris Rawles were given the job last night of coming up with a new list of public improvement projects that will keep the City of San Rafael within a $2,102,374 budget for fiscal 1959-60.

City councilmen breezed through budget discussions with various department heads until they reached the public works budget.

At that point, Mayor John F. McInnis said he was "unable to understand" figures on proposed projects supplied by Rawles. And Councilman Fred E. Jensen challenged the city manager for eliminating a project to which Rawles had given No. 2 priority.

BUDGET MATTER

Andersen said he had eliminated the project—for a storm water pump station to serve the Montecito area—along with two others "to avoid deficit financing."

But it might be put back in, he said, because since he made up the preliminary budget, San Rafael has received "an unexpected windfall" of $48,000 in sales taxes.

The city ended its fiscal year June 30 with a balance of $1,014,000—up $102,000 from the closing balance for 1957-58, Andersen announced.

TIMING DIFFICULTIES

This brought forth the disclosure that perhaps not all the projects on Rawles' proposed public improvement list could be done in 1959-60, anyhow. The increased closing balance was in part because some projects, including C street improvements, could not be started by the close of the fiscal year, said Rawles. And increasing subdivision activity, particularly in the Freitas annexation, may make it impossible to do as many projects in the next 12 months, he declared.

Rawles raised the problem, too, of hiring engineers at the salaries offered by the city. He is short two engineers now and having difficulty finding replacements, he said. Marin Municipal Water District pays about 20 per cent more than the city, said Rawles, and Marin County pays about 10 per cent more.

Another complaint of inadequate city salaries was received by letter from Building Inspector Clifford Monk. He proposed a 5 per cent across-the-board raise.

Mayor McInnis said the matter of salaries would be gone into at the next budget discussion, to be held sometime next week.

The councilmen approved with only minor changes the budgets for city clerk-assessor, city treasurer-tax collector, police and fire departments.

Lynwood Director Vacancies Filled

Two vacancies on the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. board of directors were filled last night. The two nominees, Dr. Joseph Nelson and Maj. Merwin Stenvers, USAF, were elected without opposition.

The board discussed assessments and the association's project of improving the islands in Sunset Parkway in Novato.

S.F. Fluoridation Cuts Dental Decay

Fluoridation of San Francisco's water supply is proving to be a safe and effective way of curbing tooth decay among children, health director Ellis Sox reported yesterday.

The city's fluoridation program began seven years ago and has been complete since 1955.

Sox said in his weekly bulletin that the program has not been in effect long enough for accurate statistical observation but said, "Many dentists have indicated that they are seeing fewer decayed teeth in young children than . . . prior to fluoridation."

Juvenile Hall Site Soil Test Authorized

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved expenditures for soil testing at the proposed new juvenile hall and county hospital site on Lucas Valley road, but decided to hold a bill from the architect.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was authorized to spend $700 to $775 for soil testing on the juvenile hall site, and $1,500 to $1,700 at the hospital site. The work is to be done by Woodward, Clyde, Sherard and Associates.

He also asked approval of paying $2,600 to architect Rolland Hammond for preliminary plans that Hammond told Brigham are 80 per cent completed.

But Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested Brigham first check to make sure the plans are 80 per cent complete.

Brigham indicated that $600 already had been paid Hammond for work on the plans.

The board also authorized the same associates to proceed with soil on a ditch which runs along Manuel Freitas Parkway. The ditch is to be lined. The soil investigation work is estimated to cost $1,000.

BANK TO GIVE HUB BOULEVARD 'NEW LOOK'

This is architect Milton T. Pflueger's conception of how the First National Bank in San Rafael's branch in San Anselmo will look when completed. The building is that which housed the Purity Store on Sir Francis Drake boulevard, but will be redesigned radically for the bank, to present the appearance seen here. Drive-in banking windows will be at rear. Bids for the building project already have been called.

Dr. Watkins New Mayor In Belvedere

When the Belvedere City Council convenes at 7:30 o'clock tonight, a new mayor will be wielding the gavel.

Dr. Robert Watkins, until recently vice mayor and for two meetings acting mayor, was elected to the post at Monday night's meeting of the council. He succeeded ex-Mayor Ralph Y. Meyers, who resigned last month to take a job in Geneva, Switzerland.

Watkins is an orthopedic surgeon. He lives at 50 San Rafael avenue with his wife Virginia and three children. He has been a resident of Belvedere for 12 years.

He has been active in campaigns to preserve Belvedere's open waterfront.

He will be assisted in his duties by Councilwoman Ida Scott who was named vice mayor by the council.

The council is meeting this evening with the intention of enacting an emergency curfew ordinance, restricting the activities of young people under age 18 from 11 p.m. until daylight.

WALKING BAR; HIS STOMACH ACTED AS STILL

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI) — With one Japanese it wasn't something he drank that made him drunk. It was everything he ate. He was a walking distillery.

Doctors found O's stomach working away like a high-powered Tennessee mountain still. It contained a type of extremely quickacting yeast and transformed much that O ate into alcohol.

"It isn't a sickness that just anyone would be subject to," said Dr. Shuichi Sasaki of Hokkaido University. "In fact, I've never heard of a comparable case."

Radio Instruction

Hoffa Hits Techniques Of Probers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — James Hoffa, continuing his running battle with the Senate Rackets Committee and its counsel, Robert Kennedy, yesterday defended Teamster Union officials who took the Fifth Amendment before the committee.

Hoffa, president of the powerful international union, said Teamster officials took the amendment procedure from desperation, not from guilt.

He charged that congressional committees made trial runs before holding hearings in an effort to trick witnesses into giving incriminating information.

In a speech before the Western Conference of Teamsters here, Hoffa said he would not be "stampeded by headlines, editorials and commentaries," into firing top union officials under the attack for alleged corrupt practices.

He said the Senate committee and Kennedy "had sunk to an all-time low" in dealing with witnesses.

Brown Signs Misdemeanor Citation Law

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Californians arrested for misdemeanors under state law won't have to go before a judge immediately, but can take a citation similar to a traffic ticket instead after Sept. 18.

Gov. Brown yesterday signed a bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo), which permits the defendant to sign a ticket agreeing to appear by a certain time within five days.

He can then post bail, and if he doesn't show up in court the bail is forfeited. The judge then has 20 days to issue a warrant for failure to appear.

Brown also signed a bill by Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch), making it a felony instead of a misdemeanor to unlawfully furnish any hypnotic or dangerous drug to a minor.

These other measures also were signed into law by Brown, all effective Sept. 18:

Drunk — Provides penalties up to $1,000 fine and six months in jail for drunk flying; Assemblyman Francis.

Hamburger — Prohibits grinding hearts into hamburger; Sen. John F. Thompson (R-San Jose).

Trucks — Extends from 60 to 65 feet maximum length of combination trucks which can operate on multi-lane streets and interstate highways unless specifically banned by locality; Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced).

Assess — Opens certain records of Board of Equalization to inspection by county assessors; Sen. Stanford C. Shaw (D-Ontario).

More Drivers Lose California Licenses

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Another 6,391 California drivers had their licenses lifted last month in the state's continuing crackdown on careless drivers.

It was the second straight month that suspensions and revocations topped the 5,000 mark.

Robert I. McCarthy, state motor vehicles director, announced yesterday that 5,657 licenses were suspended and 1,722 revoked during June. Of those, 1,433 were for drunk driving.

With the backing of Gov. Brown, McCarthy has since announced that his department will suspend the licenses of all convicted drunk drivers, including first offenders, for six months.

Commenting on the "get tough" programs aimed at making the highways safer, McCarthy said:

"Having tried and failed to achieve traffic safety through reasoning and pleading, we were left with no choice but to deny the privilege of driving to those motorists who persist in violating the law."

Controversial Assessment Bill Pondered By Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today pondered whether to sign a controversial property assessment bill into law after hearing what he called "very strong arguments" in its favor.

A parade of witnesses spoke in behalf of the bill yesterday. They said it would prevent a 100-million-dollar property tax shift from utilities to common property owners.

The occasion was an unusual public hearing in the governor's office to help him decide on legislation. He has until July 24 to act on the bill by Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton).

The bill would repeal the state's inoperative law requiring equal assessment of all propert and require the State Board of Equalization to publish figures used by counties to set assessments.

Utilities claim their property is assessed by the state at 50 per cent of its value, while local property — assessed locally — is figured at 25 per cent.

Opponents of the bill, led by Russell Wolden, San Francisco assessor and candidate for mayor, says the bill would lead to just the shift its backers say they're trying to prevent.

Wolden said it would "create real chaos" if signed by Brwn. Letters from 56 of the state's 58 county assessors backed him up.

Spokesmen for the League of California Cities, State Board of Equalization, Supervisors Assn., and teachers, manufacturers and real estate groups all urged Brown to sign the bill.

WARNING FOR VISITORS

Stick To Trails, Don't Hike Alone, Park Chief Advises

This warning contained in folders describing the scenic wonderland of glacier-carved Yosemite was re-emphasized today by Park Superintendent John C. Preston. He believes it should be considered in the same light as skull and cross bones on a bottle of ant poison.

The park, invaded annually by more than a million tourists, already has been the scene of death and injury among hikers this summer. Preston fears more tragedy is yet to come unless the warning on folders is heeded.

"We are proud of Monday's rescue of a woman lost for five days," he says, "but it took a lot of shoe leather and we had nearly exhausted all of our resources."

Mrs. Maria Hendrika Lip, 38, of Byron was located after 114 hours. The search party totaled at its peak 75 men, plus bloodhounds and airplanes.

Preston estimates direct costs to the park service for searches range from $1,000 to $1,500 daily. He said "it is difficult to figure additional costs of volunteer help such as we received from the Seventh Day Adventist Church and Castle Air Force Base in the hunt for Mrs. Lip."

Despite widespread Yosemite hunts in the past a few hikers have never been located.

"We've probably had cases where some people use the park as a place to disappear and return to civilization later to start a new life under another name," says Preston. "However, we've never been able to prove a case of this yet."

Pottery is Roumania's oldest craft, and some elements of its design can be traced back to Greco-Roman times. Some pottery is made for decorative ceramics, some for useful utensils.

Hub To Extend Dairy Land Option

San Anselmo plans to take a second 30-day option on 62 acres of the Sorich Dairy Farm at the end of San Francisco boulevard, City Manager Arthur W. Brewer said today. The first 30 days will end tomorrow.

Brewer said he doubted that arrangements to lease the property for a corporation yard would be completed by the San Anselmo City Council's meeting on July 15, but that he expected an agreement would be ready by the end of the 30-day renewal period.

The agreement would stipulate rent to be paid by the city and set a fair market price on the property, toward which the city's rent money would be credited.

About 20 million tons of fish are caught in the world each year for commercial purposes.

GETTING READY FOR SPACE TRAVEL

Three Project Mercury astronauts tumble about the padded cabin of a transport plane while undergoing training in weightless flight as part of their preparation for space travel. The three wear full pressure suits in the flight from Wright Air Development Center at Dayton, Ohio. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which released the picture, did not say who the men were or when the flight was made. (U. S. Air Force photo via AP Wirephoto)

Admiral Who Made Far East Policy Dies

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Adm. Harry E. Yarnell, U.S.N. (ret.), 83, who helped form the United States' firm policy in the Far East immediately before World War II, died yesterday at the Newport Naval Hospital.

He had been hospitalized for two weeks. The cause of death was not announced.

Adm. Yarnell was commander of the Asiatic fleet when the Japanese sank the U.S. gunboat Panay on the Yangtze River in China in 1937. He was instrumental in bringing about the Japanese payment of $2,200,000 indemnity for the incident.

He served for many years in the Far East and was given a free hand in meeting diplomatic problems on the spot. He said "no" to the Japanese for three years prior to Pearl Harbor and the United States' stand during the turbulent years of the undeclared Sino-Japanese war came to be known as the "Yarnell policy."

Yarnell served in every shooting war involving the United States from the time of his graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1897 until his retirement in 1937.

He adhered rigidly to the policy he stated in his rejection of a Japanese warning that American nationals and warships be evacuated from the harbor at Swatow, South China, in 1939:

"The paramount duty of United States naval vessels is the protection of American citizens and they will go wherever it is necessary at any time to carry out that mission."

He was recalled from retirement during World War II to serve in a special capacity for the Navy in Washington.

State Chiefs Will Hold Power Talks

SACRAMENTO, July 8 (AP)—Three western governors meet here tomorrow to discuss a way to provide more water and power for California.

The discussions will be among Govs. Albert Rosellini of Washington, Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Edmund G. Brown of California.

They will take up proposals to transmit low cost power from the federally owned Bonneville Power Administration in the Northwest and receive it in California, possibly through Shasta Dam.

California has appropriated $70,000 for a study of the three-state common-carrier arrangement. The system apparently would eliminate a proposed contract between the Bonneville Administration and the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Marin Woman Flier Finishes Air Derby Flight

They were among 23 crews who landed planes yesterday in the gruelling cross-country flight from Lawrence, Mass. They covered 2,470 miles in the all-woman derby that began Saturday.

One plane landed Sunday, and three more arrived Monday.

A purse of $2,500 for the pilots logging the best time against a personal handicap will be distributed tomorrow after all planes have landed and computations are made.

Derby officials said 35 planes had not yet arrived. The federal aviation agency said 14 of them were in Helena, Mont., the last stop before the 275-air-mile dash to the finish line at Spokane.

Mrs. Veris is personal secretary to Cyril Magnin, president of the Port of San Francisco and of Joseph Magnin Co. Mrs. Veris and her husband, a college student in San Francisco, live at 144 Filbert street, Sausalito.

Mrs. McElhatton is the wife of Dave McElhatton of radio station KCBS, San Francisco.

A 250-horsepower Beechcraft Bonanza K35, plane 4 ,piloted by Margaret Ray Ringenberg and co-piloted by Lois M. Laymonn, both from Ft. Wayne, Ind., was the first to land at the finish Sunday morning.

Navy Coach Retires

Demo Factions Girding For Intra-Party Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A battle that could turn into a war is shaping up for control of the 1960 Democratic convention and what kind of presidential candidate it will nominate.

On one side is National Chairman Paul M. Butler, a spokesman for forces usually called Northern and Western liberals.

On the other side are conservative and moderate forces in Congress who look for leadership to Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

These Johnson - Rayburn forces say Butler's increasing criticism of the kind of leadership they are providing in Congress is a tipoff that he is trying to force them out of policy making posts at the convention.

"It brings into the open what many of us have suspected, that the liberals are determined to reshape the party to their own views. It is fortunate that the controversy has come into the open a year ahead of the election. That gives us time to settle it," he said.

If the party follows precedent, Rayburn will be permanent chairman of the convention. House Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, who has played a role as a compromiser between the two party factions, would be chairman of the platform committee.

Johnson is a potential candidate for the presidential nomination. Butler has said more than once he doesn't think a Southerner or Southwesterner can win the top nomination.

Some congressional sources say Butler would like to see the party nominate Adlai E. Stevenson, who twice lost to President Eisenhower; Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota; or Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, in that order.

Demos Hope To Override Housing Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) called today for Senate action to override President Eisenhower's veto of the housing bill. He predicted a close vote.

The statement by Sparkman, who directed the Senate fight for the bill, indicated that Democratic leaders would try to override the veto, although not immediately.

Their chances of winning appeared dim in the senate and much dimmer in the house. A two-thirds vote is needed in both chambers to enact a bill disapproved by the President.

Eisenhower sent his veto of the $1,375,000,000 housing bill to the Senate yesterday and set off a political debate. He said the measure was extravagant, inflationary and would substitute government spending for private investment.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) deplored what he called the President's "all or nothing attitude" and said Congress was being told it must accept the administration program without change.

U. S. Admits Ex-Chief Of Cuban Air Force

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Immigration Director Edward P. Ahrens today announced Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, resigned commander of the Cuban Air Force, has been admitted to the United States as a resident alien.

Ahrens issued this statement: "Major Diaz Lanz, accompanied by his wife, applied for admission to the United States on July 1, 1959, at Miami, Fla., at which port they had arrived directly from Cuba aboard a small private boat.

"Following examinations yesterday, he has been admitted as a resident alien and she has been paroled. He has requested that his whereabouts not be revealed at this time."

Ahrens would make no further comment

The former Cuban military leader has been accused by his successor, Maj. Juan Almeida, of desertion, treason, robbery and dealing with members of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista's regime.

His June 30 resignation came in a letter to Cuban President Manuel Urrutia and was accompanied by a charge that Communists had infiltrated Premier Fidel Castro's armed forces.

People like you save at Crocker-Anglo Bank!

Why are the savings and other time deposits of Crocker-Anglo National Bank at a record high — more than six hundred million dollars out of total deposits of well over one and a half billion dollars? For one reason, more people are saving more money at Crocker-Anglo than ever before. People like you—active, friendly, progressive people—hundreds of thousands of them—are saving millions of dollars at Crocker-Anglo every year. They save for homes, cars, education for their children, travel . . . or just for that wonderful feeling of security that comes with having money in the bank. The important point is they save . . . regularly. Why don't you join the many Californians who save their money at Crocker-Anglo? You'll like the way Crocker-Anglo does business.

Savings deposits received by July 14, 1959 will earn interest from July 1 at 3% per year

Deeper Oil Wells

NEW YORK (UPI) — The oil industry can drill a well almost seven times as deep today as it could at the turn of the century, according to industry sources. Figures show the world's deepest wells today penetrate 20,000 feet into the earth's crust. The deepest known well in 1900 was 3,000 feet.

MARIN VISITOR REPORTS

Housing In Philippines Is Booming Industry

By LARRY LOVETT

The development of low cost housing in the Philippine Islands is an extremely large industry, with major emphasis on home purchases rather than rentals.

Felixburto Mediavillo, 46-year-old senior regional urban planner for the Philippine National Planning Commission, made this point yesterday in an interview while visiting Marin City as the guest of Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment agency.

TREMENDOUS STRIDES

"Although it is not too well known in the United States," Mediavillo said, "the Philippine housing program was started prior to World War II and is now making tremendous strides."

He spoke enthusiastically of the six-months tour he is now completing under auspices of the International Cooperation Administration.

On his tour, He has inspected facilities in Hawaii; Washington, D.C.; the Tennessee Valley Authority, Beaumont, Tex.; New Orleans; Puerto Rico; New York City; Dayton, Ohio; Chicago, and the San Francisco area.

HOUSING VIEWS

"My tour has been characterized by a mutual exchange of views on housing," Mediavillo said. "There have been any number of instances where my experiences in the Philippines have been of interest in this country as well as the reverse."

"One of the prominent national characteristics of the Filipino is his desire for home ownership," declared Mediaville. This is why homes for sale, rather than rental, are the object of his agency.

In his country, he said there is the Peoples' Homesite and Housing Corp., which roughly parallels the Housing and Home Finance Agency in the United States. Activities of the PHHC are closely coordinated with the national planning commission, he noted.

BUYERS SCREENED

Potential buyers of homes in these developments are screened carefully, Mediavillo declared, with the first eligibility requirement being that of having an income sufficient to permit purchase of the home.

Lending facilities permit loans of up to 20 or 30 years, he said.

Mediavillo, married and father of four, lives in Pasig, Rijal, about 10 miles outside of Manila. He is flying home today.

Protests Fail To Block Vote In Terra Linda

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District last night decided a $350,000 parks and recreation bond issue "will be such a benefit to all property owners" in the district that they rejected protests from residents who wished to be excluded.

The protest hearing, required by law, drew about 60 persons, according to John P. Namly, president of the board of directors.

PURPOSE OF HEARING

He said the hearing was held to give property owners the opportunity to protest inclusion in voting on the bonds, if they could show they would not benefit.

"We decided every home owner would benefit," Namly said. "We felt every property owner would receive some betterment from having this center in the community."

Some persons said they would receive no benefit because they personally would not use the center. Namly said these persons were told they would benefit from an increase in property values, and that the owners after them probably would benefit from use of the recreational facilities.

TAX PROTEST

Others protested, he said, because they said they do not want to pay more taxes. He said they were told that his feeling "would more rightly be exhibited at the polls" where they can vote against the bond issue.

Namly said others protested because they didn't like some of the features in the proposed center. These were not valid protests, he said, because that was not the purpose of the hearing.

ELECTION DATE

The board is to meet again July 21 to decide on the date of the election, tentatively set for Aug. 25. At that meeting, Namly said, there will be an exhibit of the preliminary plans for the center as drawn up by San Francisco architects Royston, Hanomoto and Mayes.

The center is to include an expanded community center building, a swimming pool, childrens' play area, a turf fired and tennis courts.

Also at last night's meeting, the board appointed Robert D. Thomson, principal of the Richardson Bay School, as park and recreation commissioner.

The board hired Ken Meade of Sausalito, a University of California student, as recreation supervisor, and tentatively set up a recreation program that will be held Mondays through Fridays with the emphasis on teen-age activities.

ESCAPE ROUTE IS POOR CHOICE

Together they watched as a hole was knocked through the doctor's wall and a man's head poked through it.

Behind him were 18 other men, who had picked a poor route to escape from the jail next door.

Grass Blaze Is Incendiary

Five Marin County Fire Department units under Asst. Chief Louis Bloom put out the blaze, which broke out about 10 p.m. in the 650 block of North San Pedro road.

On his return via McNear's Beach, one of the wardens spotted another patch 50 by 100 feet which had burned out. Chief Bloom said both were believed to have been deliberately set, although no incendiary materials were found.

Clergyman's Wife Hurt In Accident

Mrs. S. R. Hammond, wife of the rector of the Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood, is in San Jose Hospital with a fractured ankle and other injuries suffered in an automobile accident Monday afternoon near Morgan Hill, 18 miles from San Jose.

She and Rev. Hammond, both in their 70s, were enroute to San Bernardino for the wedding of a granddaughter.

Rev. Hammond, who was uninjured, is staying in a room near the hospital. Mrs. Hammond is expected to remain there for another 10 days. One of their sons, Rev. D. Murray Hammond, is rector of the Episcopal Church of Our Savior in Mill Valley.

San Rafael Officials Urge Tax Job Shift

Two elected San Rafael city officials would like to get rid of two of the jobs to which they were voted, they told city councilmen last night.

City Clerk-Assessor W. L. Morgan and City Treasurer-Tax Collector Angelina Soldavini both proposed turning over to Marin County the job of property appraisal and assessment and tax collection. The county now does the job for Corte Madera, Larkspur, Ross, Mill Valley and Belvedere, and will take it over next year for Sausalito.

Councilmen discussed the proposal at length, but took no action after City Manager Dan E. Andersen said the change would make little difference in the 1959-60 budget of the city clerk-assessor and none in that of the treasurer-tax collector. This year's tax collections will have to be done by the city anyhow, he explained.

AT BUDGET HEARING

Morgan put in a lengthy plea for the change when he appeared before the city fathers at an informal budget hearing to discuss his portion of the 1959-60 budget. Miss Soldavini, who followed, seconded the city clerk's sentiments.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen opposed the proposed change and Councilmen Joseph F. Sauer and Louis H. Baar also offered various objections. Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Charles W. Aby said they could see nothing wrong with the proposal.

Morgan said that turning over the tax job to the county would mean more collections at less cost and more up-to-date appraisals. He said much personal property is now escaping city taxation because his staff is unable to "run down" the appraisals.

Sauer questioned whether the remaining portions of the "hyphenated titles" of the clerk-assessor and treasurer-tax collector would "warrant the salaries we're paying." Morgan and Miss Soldavini both claimed they would.

ALTERNATIVE STATED

The alternative, Morgan declared, is to give him more assistants to do the job. And that, he said, would cost the city more than the approximately $1,100 the county would charge for the complete tax collection setup. (By state law, the county charges one per cent of the first $25,000 of taxes collected and one-fourth of one per cent for all thereafter.)

"Our taxpayers are paying for that service now," Morgan argued. "Our taxpayers have bought that expensive equipment and paid for the reappraisal."

Sauer objected that even using the county appraisal figures has made the city council a "rubber stamp." Jensen agreed.

"When San Rafael people go before the supervisors as a board of equalization, they have only one out of five to represent them," Jensen pointed out.

"You're signing away the people's prerogative," said Baar.

REVERSED POSITION

Baar charged Morgan with having expressed dissatisfaction in the past with county appraisals. Morgan admitted he had done so, but declared, "I have entirely reversed."

Miss Soldavini said turning the collection job over to the county would save $1,500 required for extra help in her office.

"My recommendation," she said, "is that it go across the street."

Sound Familiar?

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dentist Norman R. Olson spoke thus of his work for Queen Elizabeth in Chicago Monday:

"I called her 'your majesty' and we exchanged greetings. From then on it was just 'open' and 'close,' 'open' and 'close.' "

STOCKS TODAY

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,900,000 shares compared with 3,840,000 yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to one or two points dotted the list of pivotal issues.

Some major steelmakers were hit by profit-taking. U.S. Steel dropped two and Youngstown Sheet about three.

The rail shares were nicely ahead. New York Central was up a good fraction. Chesapeake and Ohio advanced well over a point. Illinois Central was about a point to the good.

Electronics stocks were shaved. Air crafts declined. Boeing and Douglas lost about a point each.

Texaco, off well over a point, was a conspicuous loser among the oils which remained backward.

Governor Long Worse

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Reports circulated in the Louisiana governor's mansion today that Gov. Earl K. Long's physical condition is worse.

Dr. William Cook, who treated Long after a heart seizure in 1950, called on the governor yesterday but declined to comment on his condition. Dr. Robert Heath said there had been no "drastic" change in his condition.

But state legislative leaders who called on the 63-year-old governor indicated his health has deteriorated. The governor's office, at Long's okay, agreed, at request of newsmen to issue twice daily medical bulletins beginning today.

Trick Fails, Boy Dies

SEATTLE (AP) — A boy who leaped into the Lake Washington Ship Canal with his hands and feet tied in what was to be a demonstration of his swimming prowess drowned last night.

Robert Waugh, 15, told two companions to tie his hands and feet and he would untie himself while under the water. With his hands and feet tied he jumped into the water. He didn't come up.

Pilot 'Bounces' Plane

OLATHE, Kan. (UPI)—A veteran airline pilot bounced the wheels of his crippled plane on the ground to lock them in place yesterday, then landed the airliner with 43 persons aboard without a hitch.

The crew of Braniff flight 526 from San Antonio to Chicago tried for an hour and a half to lock the landing gear. Finally, Capt. W. W. Garbett touched down lightly at the Olathe Naval Air Station, locking the wheels in place. He made another approach and landed smoothly.

Actress Wins Prize

BERLIN (UPI)—France's "Les Cousins" last night won the International Berlin Film Festival's "Golden Bear," highest award for the year's best feature film.

Among the other winners was American actress Shirley McLaine who received a "silver bear" for her performance in "Ask Any Girl."

French actor Jean Cabin was selected as best actor for his part in "Archimede le Chlochard" and also received a "silver bear."

Yacht Rescue Near

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — An Australian navy tug today steamed toward Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert's yacht Sea Fox, which has been sending out distress calls from off Australia's north coast.

An Australian air force bomber reported it had spotted the missing yacht 90 miles northwest of Cape Wessel.

The pilot said the yacht seemed in no immediate danger.

Japan, Korea Deadlock

GENEVA (AP) — Japan and North Korea reached a new impasse today in negotiations for the repatriation of thousands of Koreans.

The Japanese government refused to sanction any agreement sending Koreans to Communist territory until the International Red Cross approved the pact.

President Leopold Brossier of the International Red Cross insisted his organization could not rule on any pact until it was signed.

Satchmo Can't Play

LAMBERTVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong canceled a special appearance here on doctor's orders last night. Armstrong, who fell ill with pneumonia last month, had been scheduled to attend a testimonial concert for him. But his doctors decided that it would be too early for Armstrong to attempt to play the trumpet again.

Sub To Test Polaris

Triplets' Dad Gets Help

SOUTHPORT, N.C. (AP) — Things are looking up for tenant farmer Nathan Miller and his family. They'll be on the way to greener pastures next week.

Miller, 55, said recently after his 35-year-old wife gave birth to triplet girls that they might have to offer the babies for adoption because of money problems. Miller made only $25 a week.

Yesterday, Miller accepted a $200-a-month job on an egg farm near Charlotte, N.C. The family will have a house rent free.

A Matter Of Money

Accusing him of extreme cruelty, the platinum blonde actress sued Albright for separate maintenance yesterday, saying he failed to provide proper support. Albright is now in the Army. They were married last December.

Miss Lee asked $535 a month expenses and said community property was unknown.

She previously was married to multimillionaire Frederick Tillinghast III and singer David Street.

Comic's Son In Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 20-year-old son of the late bazooka-playing comedian Bob Burns must pay $40 a week support for his 17-year-old wife and their infant son.

William Robin Burns testified at a Superior Court hearing yesterday that he is trying to live on $53 a week he earns as a gasoline station attendant. But he admitted he can dip into an $11,000 trust fund left by his father.

His wife, who expects another child in November, had sued for separate maintenance. They were married two years ago and separated last month.

Book Slightly Overdue

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — About five months before Admiral Peary reached the North Pole in 1909, someone checked the book "Castle Blair," out of the Carnegie Public Library.

It was returned yesterday, more than 50 years overdue. It was placed in a collection chute at a branch library.

Library officials said the book, overdue since Jan. 4, 1909, would have carried a $472.50 fine.

Jail For Beauty Queen

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — A former beauty queen who admitted she held up a drug store must serve an indefinite term in the Denver County jail.

She is Dixie Ann Gottfried, 19. Both the defense and prosecuting attorneys had asked that Mrs. Gottfried, Miss Colorado Jaycee last summer, be given probation.

But Dist. Judge H. H. Harrison denied probation, saying Mrs. Gottfried had "chosen to associate with police characters and partake in a serious crime."

AIR HERO'S SON AT WEST POINT

Colin P. Kelly III, son of America's first air hero of World War II, undergoes the familiar freshman bracing by an upper classman on his entry to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point yesterday. Putting the 19-year-old youth through his paces is Cadet Martin William Carey, first classman from Mariana, Fla. Kelly, whose entry into the academy was assured by request of the late President Roosevelt almost at his birth, chose to qualify through competitive examination instead of taking advantage of the Presidential recommendation. U.S. Air Units To Be Moved From France

PARIS (AP) — Three fighter-bomber wings of the U.S. Air Force will soon be moved from French bases to fields in Britain and West Germany, the United States announced today.

U.S. Ambassador to NATO W. Randolph Burgess made the decision known at a meeting of the North Atlantic Council.

The move had been generally expected because President Charles de Gaulle will not agree to storing U.S. atomic arms on French soil.

The transfer will involve 200 jet fighter-bombers which have been assigned atomic missions in case of war. The move is to be started immediately and will be completed before the end of the summer.

In the American view the French refusal to allow atomic stockpiles had made it impossible for the planes to fulfill their mission from French bases.

The shift to bases where atomic stockpiles would be close at hand was therefore the only logical military procedure, officials said.

Ike Hints At Special Session If Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Eisenhower hinted broadly today he might call a special session of Congress if he is denied the authority he wants for foreign aid spending.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference for comment on the Senate's action in voting to cut his mutual assistance request by 383½ million dollars.

The President said he is going to use all of his persuasive powers in attempting to convince members of Congress they will be ignoring the security of the nation and the vital interests of the world if they reduce foreign aid too sharply.

Senate Democrtic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas earlier had spoken out in an effort to head off further Senate cuts in the aid bill.

Eisenhower said if the authorization is reduced to the point where he can't go back to Congress next year for what he considers sufficient funds to carry out the program, he will have only one other resource. He said that would be to call a special session.

Eisenhower said vigorously he is never going to give up the fight for the foreign aid program.

Soviet Premier, Governors Talk Nearly 4 Hours

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev told seven American governors yesterday that friendship between the United States and the Soviet Union is the key to world peace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union "wants peace with all nations, but above all with the biggest and strongest — the United States of America."

"If there is friendship between us, there can never be war," the Soviet Premier declared in a three hour and 45-minute talk in the Kremlin with the U.S. state executives touring the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev said if another nation started a war, the Soviet Union and the United States together could halt it.

'TERRIBLE CALAMITY'

"But if the United States and the Soviet Union are ever in a conflict," he continued, "the result would be terrible calamity, because if we fight, no force on earth could ever halt us."

Later in the talk, Khrushchev stood fast on Soviet demands for Germany and Berlin which the Western Allies have repeatedly rejected.

Asked by Gov. Stephen McNichols of Colorado why not allow the German people to decide their future in a free, all-German election, Khrushchev said the East Germans don't want to see an end to their achievements and neither do the West Germans.

COLLINS ANSWERS

Referring to an exchange during which Khrushchev berated Americans for chasing the dollar, Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida said: "While Americans do like to make money, there are other things closer to them—love of family, love of home, freedom and liberty. They love these far beyond the dollar."

Khrushchev was silent for a moment and then answered, "Perhaps we do not have enough understanding of each other."

KOZLOV IRKED

Michigan's Governor, Soviet Visitor Tangle

Kozlov and his official touring party arrived by plane from Detroit where he told newsmen Gov. G. Mennen Williams gave them an incorrect account of a private meeting of the two officials.

Williams had told reporters he had a "knock down and drag out" fight with Kozlov during an hour's talk Tuesday night. Kozlov told newsmen "the the governor is not too well-acquainted with international politics and he is not too correct in giving his account to the press."

VISITS TWO PLANTS

The Soviet party was met at Midway Airport and taken by automobile to the Inland steel mill in East Chicago, Ind., and to the U. S. Steel Corp. plant in Gary, Ind.

In his talk with reporters before leaving Detroit, Kozlov said: "The peoples of Eastern European countries have governments of their own free choice. They have chosen the system they want to live under."

"The governor bases his impressions and reactions on those who fled these countries and who do not represent the peoples of those countries," Kozlov said of Williams.

Gov. Williams, a Democrat serving his sixth term, has the backing of his state party for the 1960 presidential nomination. The governor described Kozlov as shrewd and tough, but appeared to feel he had the better of the Soviet official in their conference sparring.

PRIVATE CONFERENCE

For an hour Williams and Kozlov had a private conference in a Detroit hotel room following Kozlov's tour of industrial Detroit.

Williams said Kozlov flared up at a question of self-determination and free elections for the Soviet Union's European satellites.

Williams said Kozlov argued that the people of East Germany and other Soviet satellites had made their choice and that anything to the contrary was propaganda.

"He told me that all I heard was a lot of propaganda. I told him the American people would not believe a single word he said."

Ike States Personal View Of Segregation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Eisenhower said today he believes racial segregation is morally wrong when it interferes with equality of opportunity.

He explained he was referring to equality of opportunity in affairs controlled by government and in the economic and political fields.

This was the president's first flat statement of his personal feelings on segregation. It was made at a press conference.

Heretofore in the field of civil rights, the president has more or less confined himself to statements that it is his duty to support enforcement of the law as interpreted by the U.S. Supreme Court. He has steadfastly refused in the past to express an opinion on the principles considered by the court.

Other highlights of the president's new conference:

He expressed hope that steel wage negotiations would not lead to a strike, but that labor and management would continue negotiating until they reach an agreement.

He saw no reason why a Roman Catholic should not be elected to high national office.

He said the United States will go back into the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference next week sticking to its position that West Berlin must be kept free.

Real Estate Views and Values

"Do you think we should buy this home?" asked Mrs. Montley, as she and her husband concluded their second "look" at an attractive three-bedroom home.

"Before I answer," I said, "May I ask you a few questions? For in the final analysis, it is what you think that counts."

"Does it seem like a home that you can be happy in?" I asked.

"Yes," Mrs. Montley said.

"Are you satisfied that it is well constructed, and has a satisfactory room arrangement?"

"Let me answer that one," Mr. Montley replied. It's O.K."

"Does the home seem suitable for your family needs? Does it have enough bedrooms, both for the family today and for any planned additions?"

Arthur Hofmann

"Yes," said Mrs. Montley.

"Do you like the neighbor, and the convenience to schools?"

"You know it's an extra nice neighborhood," replied Mrs. Montley.

"Yes," said Mr. Montley.

"Well, finally," I said, "Do you think you can conveniently meet the down payment and the monthly payments?"

"Mr. Montley nodded, "I'm sure we can."

"One final question then," I said. "Do you think you should buy it?"

They both grinned and shouted "Yes" in unison.

Marin Woman Is Shaken By Robbery

Elinor Ralston of Corte Madera was at work as usual today at Home Mutual Savings and Loan Assn. in San Francisco, although somewhat shaken after a robbery in which three men took $4,000 yesterday.

Miss Ralston, 40, who resides at 31 Corte Madera avenue, was at her teller's window at the loan office at 2201 Irving street yesterday when a tall swarthy man and two companions sauntered in. The big man shoved a note at Miss Ralston.

Miss Ralston obeyed.

The black-haired bandit leader then turned to Wallace Crawford, 40, of San Francisco, the office manager, and told him:

Crawford emptied two cash drawers of $4,000. The big bandit stuffed it in his pockets while his companions watched. Then all three walked out and leaped into a 1957 twin-tone Pontiac with a fourth man at the wheel. The car disappeared in traffic before police were reached.

STEP TOWARD TRANSIT TUBE

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today signed the bill committing the state to construction of a 115-million-dollar transbay underwater rapid transit tube linking San Francisco and Oakland. Voters of a five-county rapid transit district, including Marin County, will have to approve a 500-million-dollar bond issue to finance the rest of the system. Watching the governor affix his signature is State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), author of the bill. (AP Wirephoto)

Low Humidity Seen In State Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Fair and warmer, with lower humidity was the general forecast today for Northern and Central California.

The five-day forecast, through next Monday, said no rain is in sight and temperatures will be above normal except along the coast where readings should hold close to normal.

Heart Attack Fatal For Mrs. Newlon

Mrs. Kathryne Newlon, 53, died at her San Anselmo home this morning, apparently of a heart attack.

Resuscitator attempts to revive her were unsuccessful.

Her husband, William, called the San Anselmo Fire Department and the resuscitator crew worked for 30 minutes before she was pronounced dead by Dr. Joseph Alderson.

The Newlons resided at 9 Jordan avenue. They lived previously at Morningside court after moving to Marin two years ago.

Mrs. Newlon had been under doctor's care previously in Walnut Creek. Her husband is a life insurance salesman in San Francisco.

Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo will send the body to Everett, Wash., for funeral services and interment.

Lawyer Urges Clarification Of Smog Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An attorney urged today that a proposed anti-smog regulation for the San Francisco Bay Area be rewritten to make it clearer and thus, he said, avoid law suits.

Attorney Thomas M. Carlson, representing the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, gave his views at a hearing of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District. The district has proposed the anti-smog rule.

"The same ambiguities which are creating confusion in the minds of the people who are to be regulated will be confusing to district attorney and city attorneys who are expected to cooperate in enforcement of the law," Carlson added.

He urged that they participate in the rewriting.

Louis V. Olson, head of agricultural research for the American Smelting and Refining Co. at Selby, Contra Costa County, claimed the regulation was unfair to industrial firms. He said the smog-producing sulphur dioxide emitted by his stacks fell to the ground level in a diluted, harmless form.

Olson complained that when he told the smog district's staff his findings—based on 40 years of research and observation—they showed no interest.

able and the transcriber was competent and qualified to transcribe," said the decision written by Justice Schauer.

Chessman also asserted in his brief that the trial judge, the late Charles Fricke, denounced him in his instructions to the jury as one of the worst criminals ever before him and urged the jury to bring in a death penalty verdict.

Thief Steals Gas At Storage Yard

A meticulous thief drained about 100 gallons of gasoline from three pickup trucks at the W. L. Hickey and Sons storage yard at 2736 Redwood Highway, north of San Rafael, during the Fourth of July weekend, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Stanley Scott, purchasing agent for the firm, told officers yesterday that the front wire gate had been neatly snipped, then just as neatly replaced after the theft. Also missing are miscellaneous pipe wrenches and an electric drill and cord. Scott estimates loss at $100.

Congressmen Meet Teeners In Spelldown

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A middle-aged congressional team and three young California girls fought to an apparent draw in a crazy, mixed-up spelling bee today.

We say "apparent draw" because after it was all over no one was sure who had won.

Mary spelled the word just that way, but the judges ruled her out because the master spelling sheet had it "ficticious." A check of the dictionary later showed that the master list was wrong and Mary was right in her version.

"In that case, we'll have to declare it a draw," contest judge Matthew Nimetz said.

A slight infraction of the rules also helped the lawmakers—Reps. Hechler and California Democrats Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera and Jeffery Cohelan—edge out the girls.

SECOND TRY

Miller was allowed to take a second crack at the word "aggravate." The first time he spelled it with one "g" and then corrected himself.

Carolyn Storts, 14, of Gualala, Calif., had trouble with "seismograph," starting off the word with a "c" instead of an "s." Valerie Turner, 13, of Petaluma, spelled out "tercentenery" when it should have been "tercentenary."

ALL IN FUN

The proceedings were further confused when, because of a shortage of time, pronouncer William Duddleson had to skip quickly from round one to round four and then to the final round eight.

But it was all in fun and the congressmen agreed that the girls were the good-will winners.

As for Mary, she said later: "I was pretty sure I had spelled it right. But when they said I was wrong I thought they must know."

Then all three girls, accompanied by Mrs. La Norma Noonan of Santa Rosa, went off to see the Washington monument, spelled with an "e."

The girls were winners of the Redwood Empire spelling contest sponsored by the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat. They were brought on to Washington to face the lawmakers after they challenged and defeated a group of Santa Rosa businessmen.

Two Service Women Hurt In Accident

One WAF is using crutches and another is nursing cuts on her face and arms at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital as the result of an automobile accident early today in Novato.

Driver of the car, owned by Elaine Keifer of Hamilton, was A/3c Carol Roberta Harden, 24, of the 1080th Medical Holding Detachment at Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco. She was cited for speeding.

Her passenger was A/3c Barbara Young, 18, of the 43rd Communications Squadron at Hamilton.

The California Highway Patrol said the car went out of control at 2:30 a.m. while traveling west on Novato boulevard one and one-half miles west of Sutro lane.

The CHP said Miss Harden told them she was trying to get to Santa Rosa when she realized she was on the wrong road. The little foreign car went out of control, hit the side of a small bridge and crashed into a wooden pole.

Base hospital officials said the women showed up at the hospital at 5 a.m., that Miss Harden received a sprained knee in the accident, and that both women were cut on their faces and arms.

Roofing Tile Stolen

Thieves made off with a heavy haul of roofing tile from the Crown Roofing Co. on Highway 101 near Corte Madera, the owner complained to the sheriff last night.

Marlen Max Michael said 1,600 square feet of roofing tile was taken during the past three weeks, and another 1,300 square feet during the July 4 weekend. He estimated the loss at $300.

to the fire-fighters about mid-morning.

Firemen noted that the Frank's Valley area generally experiences winds in the afternoon. The winds might have caused serious trouble in fanning the blaze if the fire-fighters had not managed to hack a fire-break completely around the blaze by mid-morning.

"There was only one more canyon between the fire and Muir Woods when we got the fire line around it," pointed out Harry Steinberg, county fire department dispatcher.

will include a multi-purpose room and a classroom.

Achitects' preliminary drawings are expected to be ready for a special meeting to be held Aug. 3, at which time the board hopes to call for bids, he said. The board also will hold a public hearing on the budget at that time.

The board also was reorganized, with Donald McIsaac of Olema re-elected clerk. Dr. Gordon J. Pattes of Point Reyes Station was named president, replacing Toby Giacomini of Point Reyes Station, and Gus Kovats of Point Reyes Station was named trustee representative.

Stratton said the increase in the budget reflects the hiring of another teacher, and that possibly another will be hired before the summer is over.

Harry Kraft, 28, of Seacliff, N. Y., who holds a master of arts degree from New York University, was hired as a teacher of mathematics and the 8th grade home-room program, at $5,700 a year.

Trustees decided to discuss at the next meeting the possibility of including foreign languages in the upper grades.

Meeting Is Delayed

Last night's scheduled meeting of the Sausalito City Council was postponed at the last moment when it was discovered that no quorum would be present because of vacations and conflicting assignments.

Gallinas District Plans To Repair Its Sewage Plant

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District last night said they hoped some repairs to the district sewage treatment plant would be made in a week or so.

It was reported the plant has completely broken down, and raw sewage is going into the bay.

Repairs to the plant, previously administered by the Marin County Board of Supervisors as the Gallinas Village Sewer Maintenance District, were taken over by the community services district last Wednesday.

Director Jay Crotty said more than $10,000 is being spent to put the plant back into operation, and that it is hoped that the primary clarifier will be back in operation in a week.

He said the Sonoma Construction Co., which is making the repairs, is trying to get the work completed so bay waters will not be polluted.

Mt. Tamalpais Job Bids Are Opened

The Wilson bid was $79,944. The next two bids were Herrero Brothers, Inc., San Francisco, $80,913, and Frank L. Brandeburg, doing business as Natural Enterprises, San Carlos, $82,447.

The bids will be reviewed by the Army Engineers and, in about 30 days, the successful contractor will get the job.

Prisoner Escapes Humboldt Camp

A twice-committed San Quentin prisoner escaped last night from Conservation Camp 17 in Humboldt County.

Raymond Earl Lockwood, 27, was last seen at 9:30 p.m. He was missing at the 10 p.m. count.

Lockwood was first received at Chino in 1953 on a burglary conviction, was later paroled and was returned to San Quentin in July, 1956 for first degree robbery.

Call BRUCE-TERMINIX before you have termites

When termites infest your home it's not an easy matter to stop their attack. A thorough treatment by experienced experts is required. This costs money. Repairing damage caused by termites is often even more expensive.

If your property is now free of termites, Bruce-Terminix can give you complete, guaranteed and insured protection against future expensive treatments and costly repairs.

Should your property be eligible, your only cost is a small yearly fee. On usual home construction, the price ranges from $12 to $28 per year. Non-residential structures at correspondingly low rates.

Low-Level Sewer Line Rejected For Paradise Cay

Corte Madera Sanitary District directors last night turned down a suggestion that a sewage main from Paradise Cay subdivision to its line in front of Marin Country Day School be placed along an easement below Paradise drive.

A. S. Giesecke, president of the Paradise Drive Property Owners Assn., entered the suggestion of a low-level line instead of the district's planned pressure main in Paradise drive.

The main in Paradise drive will require pumping sewage to an elevation of 75 feet from Paradise Cay. Pumping charges would be less if the line were below Paradise drive but the district would be required to allow property owners to build over the easement, Director Ben K. Rippe said.

The three directors at last night's meeting, Rippe, Herbert I. Vernet and Ernest T. Mock turned down the proposal.

A proposed 1959-60 budget was distributed to the directors who will discuss it at an adjourned meeting on Monday, at 7:30 p.m. at the district office, 500 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera.

Contract Renewed By Water District

The North Marin Water District last night renewed its contract with the U.S. Geological Services for maintenance of the gauging station in Arroyo Sausal in the Walker Creek area.

The district will pay $1,080 for the service for the current fiscal year.

The board also reviewed holiday and vacation policies and set them in writing, and wrote job descriptions for the posts of pump operator-repair man and secretary.

Apartment Application To Be Heard

An application for a use permit for a million-dollar 69-unit apartment project at the foot of Sausalito's Valley street is scheduled to be heard at tonight's meeting of the Sausalito Planning Commission, according to Chairman Victor E. Hecht.

The meeting will be held in the city hall at 8 o'clock.

The use permit is being sought by the William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael, which would construct the apartments for the property owners, Maj. and Mrs. A. Jack Weber of Tiburon.

The commission is also scheduled to hold hearings on two rezoning applications. One involves a portion of the Morden Dunn tract near Bayside School; the other, the Heiser property at the upper end of Hurricane Gulch as a potential apartment site.

Greenbrae Board Approves Repairs

Seven directors of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last night authorized repair of swings, new basketball baskets, and cleaning a sandbox in a small park on Corte Los Sombras just off Sir Francis Drake boulevard, reported DeWitt Kenneth MacDonald, president of the association.

A membership meeting is being planned for September or October, he said. Next meeting of the directors will be Aug. 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Marchand, corresponding secretary.

Helena, capital of Montana, was first named Last Chance Gulch.

Cole: 'Don't Think I Can Beat This'

GEORGE COLE
'I don't remember'

DES MOINES (AP)—George E. Cole, an ex-convict whom the FBI tabbed as one of its most wanted men after the killing of a San Francisco policeman, sat in jail today wondering what is to become of him.

He was still pondering how the federal men tracked him down when he had been living a respectable life for two years as operator of a Des Moines gas station.

To the charge that he fired the shots that slew police Sgt. Joseph E. Lacey, 40, in an attempted 1956 cocktail lounge holdup, the 32-year-old Cole replied:

"It's possible that I did it, but I don't remember." He said he was drunk at the time.

"I know what I can get out of this," he added. "I think it's hopeless. I don't think I can beat it."

On his left hand and arm Cole has a tattoed six-point star and the words "Mom and Dad."

"My tattos probably identified me," he said. "I thought about getting rid of them—burning them off with acid—but I never got around to it."

U.S. Space Plane Gets Pug Nose For High Flights

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—When the X15 rocket plane blasts off toward the fringes of space it will have a pug, not a needle nose.

A round ball that replaces the lance-like nose of the swept-wing experimental ship was turned over to this test facility yesterday.

The new nose is instrumented so the pilot can determine immediately any pitching or side-slipping that could create intense friction.

The X15 will retain its needle nose throughout the lower atmosphere tests. The ball nose will be installed when the plane is turned over to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for high altitude flights later this year.

Subsiding Wind Helps Control Forest Blaze

SIERRAVILLE (AP) — Weary firefighters pressed mopping up operations today against a six-day blaze that devastated 10,800 acres in Tahoe National Forest.

"Barring gusty winds, we don't expect further trouble," said forest supervisor Henry Branagh. The forecast was for subsiding winds.

Yesterday's 1,300-man crew probably will be reduced to about 900, he said, for mopping up operations expected to last several days.

We Welcome A New Light Industry—A Baptist Seminary

Marin has a new light industry.

The president and managerial staff have moved into their new offices and the first of the "raw materials" are moving into the dormitories.

We refer to the new Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, which is now "ready for business" at its new college campus on Strawberry Point.

Already more than four million dollars has been spent in construction of the new facilities. There is still much to do.

But more important to Marin than the physical facilities or even the business which such an enterprise must generate, are the people who will come here and what they will bring to us.

Expected are more than 400 students when the first classes start to study in September. Many of them are married and will bring wives and children to live here.

In addition there will be scores of teachers and administrative staff. It is not unlikely that the total population of the college will approach 2,000 by the end of the year.

We in Marin already know the type of person such an establishment attracts. We have for years lived with and benefitted from San Francisco Theological Seminary, the great Presbyterian college in San Anselmo.

These young men and women attracted to the new seminary will not be stiff, blue-nosed reformers, wild-eyed and impractical. They will be warm, friendly, concerned young people, wanting to learn not only about Jesus Christ and his teachings, but also about people, how they live and what these students individually can do to make that life more fruitful and happy.

And the instructors, as we have found, are wonderfully informed, vitally alive individuals with interests which range far beyond textbooks and classrooms. As in San Anselmo, we are sure the presence of these men in Southern Marin will be a valuable addition to our neighborhood, to our list of friends, and to our cultural life.

We welcome you, Dr. Harold K. Graves, the seminary president, all of your staff, all of your students and their families to Marin County. We hope you all will enjoy it here as much as we know we are going to enjoy having you.

NOT BUYING ANY, THANKS—

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to know why the artists, who participated in the Marin Art and Garden Fair, and were not members of the Marin Society of Artists, were excluded from the Art Area. There was obviously plenty of room around the gallery, and yet non-members were relegated to an area near the barn with exhibits that were completely unrelated.

This is particularly curious, as last year was the first time that unaffiliated artists were permitted to exhibit in a state and county sponsored fair, and were not separated — but all paintings were given equally good exhibition space since they were hung cheek by jowl.

This year many excellent paintings of non-members were rejected for "lack of space."

If this is a permanent policy I would like to suggest that next year the Marin Society of Artists be given the "Outer Mongolia" territory and the non-affiliated Marin artists be given the gallery.

Humane Society Is Well Run

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just read the Reporter's Notebook written by Diana Bruce regarding the Marin County Humane Society. I am appalled by the ignorance displayed by Miss Bruce and at the I-J for hiring reporters who write stories before they get all the facts.

We are most fortunate for having such a well-run Humane Society in Marin County. If you have ever seen dogs brutally beaten or starving to death while being kept in filthy cages too small for them to stand up in, you would know what a God-send our Humane Society is. They stop these things.

The sad fact is that most people really don't care enough. They do not know of the wonderful job Mel Morse is doing as the secretary of the Marin County Humane Society or of the real protection the society gives to ALL animals.

Why is it that people will 'own' an animal, but when it is sick or poisoned and they can't get free veterinarian service they let it die rather than pay the bill. I personally know these things to be true. I have seen it happen too often.

I wish that Miss Bruce were aware of these facts, as she might do the county a service fighting for the Humane Society instead of criticising it. In the future, Miss Bruce should be encouraged to write constructive articles concerning the Humane Society and its program to help all animals in our Marin County.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HER BABY WASN'T TROUBLE

A young mother made an apt distinction between "work" and "trouble" recently when she took part-time work to meet an emergency.

An employer nearby offered to let her work as many hours as she could spare. But she said her child needed most of her time and attention and she could not be away more than a couple of hours a day.

The employer, trying to be sympathetic, unwittingly commented: "Your baby must be a lot of trouble."

Quick as a flash, she respectfully but poignantly retorted: "My baby is not a lot of trouble! He's a lot of work, that's sure, but that's not trouble."

Those motivated by a sense of love or dedication seldom feel sorry for themselves. Their tasks often involve heartaches and heartbreaks, but in one way or another they become a labor of love.

When you realize the importance of fulfilling the particular mission or vocation God ha assigned to you, your burdens will become easier. Purpose always makes a big difference.

"Come to me all you that labor and are burdened and I will refresh you."
(Matthew 11:28)

Remind all men, O Master, that each of them has an important mission in life to fulfill.

Hildegarde Is Still Reigning Queen Of Supper Club Circuit

NEW YORK (AP) — "I always wanted to make money while I slept," said Hildegarde.

"I did it with my phonograph records — and now I hope to do it with oil wells."

In 1956 Hildy disposed of 85 per cent of her prize collection of modern art and started out to collect oil wells. She now owns an interest in 10 producing wells in Oklahoma.

But "the dear that made Milwaukee famous" is too energetic to sit idly by and let oil wells support her.

After more than 30 years of song belting before kings and butter-and-egg men, she is still a reigning queen of the supper club circuit.

She has long been called "The Incomparable," and she still deserves the title. None of the newer lady songbirds has quite her timeless feminine charm, her gay authority over a crowded room. Like Marlene Dietrich, she seems destined to roll along forever.

"I don't want to retire until I get fat — and I never intend to get fat," she says.

Success didn't come easy for the hazel-eyed, blonde singer. She dreamed, as a chubby young girl in Milwaukee, of becoming a concert pianist. She performed in vaudeville and played as an accompanist before she became a solo artist.

In Paris she sang for as little as $1 a night in small cabarets. Later, as a famous radio, recording and supper club star she earned up to $20,000 a week.

"I still practice on the piano and take singing lessons," she said. "You never reach the point where you can't improve yourself or learn something new."

HILDEGARDE journeyed more than a million miles by car, train and ship before she got over her fear of the airplane. Now she uses the sky lanes.

Hildegarde has a fabulous collection of gowns costing $400 up each, 10 times as many pairs of gloves — she plays the piano with her gloves on — and hundreds of the lacy handkerchiefs she uses in her act. They cost from $25 to $75 apiece.

"YOU HAVE to live for others as well as yourself if you are to find any happiness. You should try to make this world a better place, not only by religion but by your own behavior," is her philosophy.

"We hear so much about evil. I think we should stress good more — and not be ashamed of good."

Hildegarde has never married.

"I've been on the verge many times," she said, "but I'm still a bachelorette — trying to find Mr. Right.

"I wonder if I ever will. Everybody seems married lately."

Secret Service Men Go To Grade School

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Travelers from Gettysburg report a small group of secret service agents busily engaged in moving into rented homes and preparing for grammar school next year.

Why?

Maj. John S. Eisenhower, the President's son, has moved with his wife and their four children to Gettysburg. It will be their permanent home — at least, as permanent as any young army officer can call his dwelling.

Three of the children, who have been in private schools in Alexandria, Va., will attend public school in Gettysburg next fall. Attending with them will be a select group of adult scholars carrying .38 revolvers instead of lunch boxes.

A LAW PASSED after the assassination of President William McKinley directs the U. S. Secret Service to protect the President and members of his family. As a practical matter, it is not necessary to maintain a watch over John Eisenhower and his pretty wife, Barbara, but the President's grandchildren rate 24-hour protection.

David, 11, will be in the sixth grade next year; Barbara Anne, 10, in the fifth grade, and Susan, 7, in the second grade.

AFTER SOME gun-crazy Puerto Rican nationalists tried to shoot up Blair House when President Truman was in office, congress expanded the specific protection of the Secet Service to the vice president — but not to his family.

Thus, the two daughters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon attend school without accompanying agents. But if Nixon thought such extra protection was necessary, it would be provided without question.

THE SECRET Service does not like to discuss its protection arrangements in detail, but it can be said with authority that at least several agents will be permanently occupied in Gettysburg seeing to the safety of the Eisenhower grandchildren.

The will escort the children to school, and then take up stations in the hallways outside the classrooms. This was done in the private schools in Alexandria.

AGENTS ASSIGNED to the grandchildren are chosen carefully. They are low-pressure fellows, quiet, somewhat on the young side and discreet.

Agents have had to go to school with or near the children and grandchildren of presidents on many previous occasions. Some went to college with the Roosevelt boys.

Aside from strong entertainment values, Bill Ballantine's Wild Tigers and Tame Fleas provides some invaluable hints to people who may have cause to enter deep woods or jungles — or who crave to join a circus.

Remember, warns Ballantine, that one should beware of all four sides of a camel; that one should never pat an elephant on its trunk; that those cute sea lions have a devastating bite; and that, aside from even better reasons for not putting one's head in a lion's mouth, the king of beasts has the worst case of halitosis in the entire jungle.

"It is not safe," continues Ballantine, "to back up and run from an attacking tiger. Better just stand pat and speak sharply enough." We'll try to remember that, Mr. B.!

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROSS W. ASHLEY

Supervisors' Budget Sessions Are Dull, But They Have Livelier Spots

Sitting through the board of supervisors' budget sessions is dull going for supervisors, press and public alike, but occasionally it has its livelier moments.

To wit:

ALONG CAME a communique from Marvin Brigham, public works director, advising that providing a drainage ditch at the Santa Venetia Little League ball park, would cost $3,300, and advising that if the board wanted the ditch, it should stick an item of $3,300 in the budget.

"Hmm," observed Bill Fusselman, "It seems to me this should be up to the fellow they named the park after."

"Hmm, yes," chimed in Jim Marshall. "It's an obligation that goes with the honor."

Name of the park: Castro Field.

A BIT LATER, along came a claim from one Joseph F. Silveira for two drowned cows.

It appeared that the cows were grazing on the county's civic center property, under some sort of lease or rental arrangement effective until the county starts to develop the property. They grazed their way onto a covered well, and their combined weight caved in the cover, sending the cows to a watery grave.

County Counsel Lee Jordan recommended the county reject the claim. Fusselman was not so sure, and wanted to know what the liability situation would be if it had been a human who fell in.

Jordan said it depends on the circumstances in which the person is on the property. "A trespasser does not have the same rights as an invitee or a business visitor," he pointed out.

The board also set this matter over for future consideration, possibly on the theory that in the instant case the cows qualified as business visitors.

SOMEWHAT LATER, the board ran into a budget item of $5,231 for messenger service between county offices. Several of the supervisors were taking dim views of this, and County Clerk George S. Jones spoke up with a dimmer one.

"We don't need to spend $5,200 to get letters carried from office to office," he said. "It would help, though, if each office would have a lower-paid worker carry them, instead of having the top people in the offices doing it.

"Why," he snorted, "there's one department in which the number-one assistant to the department head goes around carrying mail to other offices, and what's more, he stands at the counter in my office for 15 minutes each time, gassing with the clerks.

"I finally had to tell him to stay out of the office," Jones concluded.

The board went along with Jones, blue-pencilling the $5,231 and indicating it favors a policy of mail carrying by junior clerks, not senior departmental assistants.

LATER, JONES got his oar in again. A discussion was underway about some supervisors having noticed from time to time that some employees in the glass-walled IBM department in the basement were not exactly wearing themselves out on the job.

"Well," said Jones, "if we had glass walls on some of the other county offices, you'd see a lot more people not doing anything."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

LOS ANGELES — Republican leaders in Vice President Nixon's home territory feel that things are looking up. That's reasonable; up is the only direction when you're flat on the floor.

Largely at his initiative, the Republican organization is slowly regaining consciousness from the blackout which came over it last November when it lost practically everything in sight, including governor, senator, state legislation — and the will to win.

THE RECENTLY completed "100-day campaign" in Los Angeles County, where 43 per cent of Republican voters in California reside, was designed to re-open shop and put the Republican Central Committee back into active business.

It has shaken off some lethargy and defeatism.

It is beginning to stimulate some financial contributions—$50,000 in a month — and when finances start to flow, that is a sign that rigor mortis is leaving.

It has got Republicans speaking to each other even if they are not getting very far enlisting new support.

There is no doubt that the vice president is the spark behind whatever progress is being made. He strongly urged Republican workers to adjourn idological disputes and put organization-building ahead of everything else at this stage. They took his advise. And it is "Nixon" men, committed to Nixon philosophy and to his presidential cause, who are key figures in whatever has been done.

THE ASCENDANT strength of the Democrats here is reflected in the results of the California poll which is published in a number of California newspapers and which has a long record of reliability. Its most interesting findings are these:

That Adlai Stevenson is favored by Democrats, 29 to 17 per cent over Sen. John Kennedy.

That both Stevenson and Kennedy run ahead of Nixon by approximately 12 percentage points in Nixon's state.

That while a trial heat between Pat Brown and Nixon shows the new Democratic governor running 1 per cent ahead of Nixon, Rockefeller runs 7 per cent ahead of Brown.

THIS LAST finding underlines the kind of imponderable question which the Republican National convention will probably have to resolve next summer: If Rockefeller can do better winning Democrats, can he do well enough holding the Republican vote? If Nixon can do better with Republicans than Rockefeller, can he do well enough with the Democrats to win?

These polls do not assume to predict what voter opinion will show six months or a year hence. But they do reveal now how far behind scratch the Republican party continues to be in California.

15-ROUNDER ON TELEVISION

Halimi, Bacerra In Title Go Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Durable Alphonse Halimi of France tonight puts up his bantamweight crown as the prize for challenger Jose Becerra's best punches in their 15-round title bout.

The championship fight is being telecast nationally (ABC), but is blacked out in Southern California which was expected to provide most of the 16,000 or more fans expected in the new Sports Arena.

The 7 p.m. PDT bout is the dedicatory event in the six million dollar structure on which workers are still applying the finishing touches.

The Mexican challenger is the second man from his country to try to lift Halimi's title. Raul (Raton) Macias made the first attempt Nov. 6, 1957, here in Los Angeles. Becerra was on the same card and suffered a crushing defeat — knocked out in four rounds by Dwight Hawkins, a defeat he later reversed.

Halimi, the 27-year-old French-Algerian of Jewish ancestry, probably will try to put on the same type of fight against Becerra that he did against Macias with the hope for the same victorious result. The bull-shouldered champion shoots for points with a powerful body attack and after he has weakened his opponent sufficiently either continues on for a decision or then tries for a knockout.

HALIMI STRONG

A strong little man, Halimi gets better as the fight progresses and if the bout goes the limit was heavily favored to score a decision.

Becerra, 23, on the other hand, is a strong puncher when he is fresh. He will be shooting for a quick knockout and his ability to go 15 rounds is untested, never having gone that route.

Becerra has won his last 11 fights by knockouts including an important victory in 10 rounds over Mario D'Agata of Italy, the former bantamweight champ whom Halimi defeated for the title.

$65,000 PURSE

Halimi has fought six nontitle fights since defeating Macias and is anxious to preserve his crown and the purses it has brought him. The champion is receiving $65,000 guaranteed and all expenses for risking his title while Becerra is fighting for a $20,000 guarantee.

Should Becerra win, the contract calls for a rematch within the next three months either here or in Paris.

Casey To Shakeup Lineup For Next All-Star Contest

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Manager Fred Haney plans to use the same starting lineup in next month's All-Star game in Los Angeles as the one which defeated the American League 5-4 for the National League's first victory in three years.

The American League squad, however, may have a few new faces. That was losing manager Casey Stengel's ill-concealed threat yesterday after his athletes let the game slip out of their hands after coming from behind with a three-run rally in the top of the eighth inning.

"I got four or five fellows in mind I'd like to have for the next game," he said. "And I'm going to use a couple of them, too. And nobody is going to pick 'em but me."

Stengel didn't single out any player for the blame in the defeat, but he made no bones about the fact that he wasn't satisfied with the pitching of Whitey Ford, his own star lefthander of the Yankees.

Ford was on the mound when the Nationals roared back with two runs in the bottom half of the eighth to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

Stengel also might have felt that if Mickey Mantle, his limping slugger, had been playing in center field, he might have caught up with Willie Mays' booming triple in the eighth that drove in the payoff run.

The ball, which Mays later admitted was the hardest he has hit all season, sailed over Harvey Kuenn's head and bouned against the right-center field wall. Kuenn, Detroit's right fielder, had replaced Al Kaline in center. Mantle, who normally would have played there, was in right field because of a sprained ankle.

When asked whether he thought Mantle would have caught the ball, Stengel growled: "You want me to put the rap on my players but I won't do it. I don't want to take anything away from Mays. It was no soft fly ball he hit, you know."

STENGEL UNHAPPY

Although he was careful not to say anything that might be construed as criticism of his players, Casey indicated he was not very happy with their play.

"The (the Nationals) played worse than we did," he said. "But they won and that's what counts. Those guys were lucky we didn't score more runs in the eighth, or else they were just playing with us when they let us fill the bases twice. It took a great catch to beat us."

Casey probably was referring to Hank Aaron's fine catch off Gus Triandos with two mates on base. That occurred in the fourth inning when the Americans scored their first run, on Kaline's homer. Two hits followed but Aaron prevented further scoring with his running catch in right center.

"To tell you the truth, I thought we were going to stay ahead after we got ahead in the eighth," Stengel said. "I had my knuckle-baller (Hoyt Wilhelm) all ready to pitch the ninth, but I never got a chance. Anyway, it was a good game. I don't want to criticize anybody."

HANEY HAPPY

Haney, on the other hand, had nothing but praise for all his players. The little Milwaukee skipper, happy as a lark over his team's come-from-behind triumph, hailed his first win in two All-Star managerial efforts, a team victory.

"You all saw it," he ejaculated. "It was a team victory all the way. They were all great. I defy anybody to single out any one player. Mays was great; Aaron was great; Banks was great; but so was Temple and Mathews and Crandall and Drysdale. We had some fine pitching and defensive work. Heck, everybody was great,"

Haney declined to take any credit even though it was his strategy that set up the tying run in the eighth inning when the Nationals scored twice to overcome a 4-3 deficit. Kenny Boyer of St. Louis, batting for winning pitcher Johnny Antonelli, singled to open it. Haney sent up Pittsburgh's Dick Groat to hit for Eddie Mathews although the National League's home run leader had socked a four-bagger in the opening inning. Groat laid down a neat sacrifice and Aaron came through with a sharp single to score Boyer with the tying run.

"Good strategy?" Haney laughed. "Well, when it works you're a genius. When it does not, look out."

Haney made just two changes, at second and third base. Six players — Mays, Aaron Banks, Orlando Cepeda, Wally Moon and Del Crandall—went all the way.

Stengel used 22 players, one short of the record.

Antonelli, who threw six pitches in putting out the fire in the eighth, was credited with the victory but the best pitching was done by Don Drysdale. The Los Angeles right-hander, honored with the starting assignment, retired all nine batters he faced, striking out four.

Kialoa Holds Lead In Handicap Rating

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Kialoa, the 50-foot yawl out of Newport Harbor, Calif., held its lead in the handicap ratings entering the fifth day of sailing today in the 2,225-mile Transpacific Yacht Race from Los Angeles to Honolulu.

At last report by radio yesterday the 161-foot schooner Goodwill retained its lead of the 41-yacht fleet, but still was far down in the handicap ratings.

The Kialoa wasn't a contender among the leaders of the fleet, but its handicap places it ahead in the adjusted ratings based on size and classification of each ship.

42-MILE LEAD

The Goodwill, owned by Ralph Larrabee and sailing out of Newport Harbor, was 1625 miles from its destination at roll call yesterday, about one-fourth of the distance. It led by 42 miles its nearest contender, Sally Blair Ames' 75-foot schooner Constellation, followed by Baldwin M. Baldwin's 72-foot jawl Escapade, E. L. Doheny's 75-foot Kamalii and Ira P. Fulmor's 60-foot yawl criterion.

In the handicap ratings the field looked like this: behind Kialoa were Criterion, Constellation, Kamalii, Maruffa, Westward Ho, Escapade, Tiare, Marilen and Jada.

ROUGH WEATHER

The ships sailed in rough seas and rain yesterday and were holding a speed of about 12 to 16 miles an hour. The Kamalii reported its spinnaker head lashing let go in the morning and smashed over the bow. The sail was recovered but the pole was lost. The craft sailing out of Los Angeles reported it had an extra pole aboard.

Four yachts failing to report at the daily radio roll call yesterday were Stanley Bishoprick's 56-foot schooner Carahleen, Portland, Ore.; John Hedden's 64.5-foot yawl Good News, San Francisco; John P. Scripp's 89-foot ketch Novia Del Mar, San Diego, and Peter Grant's 46-foot sloop Nalu II.

The catamaran Aikane, owned by Kenneth Murphy, was unofficially listed yesterday as having come from a 40-mile trailing position to near the leading pace set by Goodwill.

Aussie Aces Won't Compete In AAU Swim This Weekend

By JACK STEVENSON

LOS ALTOS (AP)—Australians Murray Rose and Jon Henricks are skipping the national AAU Swimming Tournament and that opens up four races.

Rose won both the 400 and 1,500-meter events last year while Henricks captured both the 100 and 200-meter sprints.

The two Aussies attend the University of Southern California and last year represented the Los Angeles Athletic Club. This year neither is affiliated with the club. Rose has been training for two meets in Japan while Henricks has been working and is out of training.

Lance Larson, another USC swimmer, gives the LAAC strong representation in the sprints while youthful Gary Heinrich of San Leandro could be the top threat in the 400 meters. He placed second to Rose in the indoor 100.

Competition opens Friday morning at the Fremont Hills Country Club, with a trip to Japan awaiting the winners. The U. S. team will leave for Japan July 14 for competition with the best swimmers there.

Bob Murphy, general manager of Fremont Hills, today estimated 300 swimmers and divers will compete in the three-day meet. Preliminaries will be held in the mornings and afternoons each day with finals in the evening, starting at 5 p.m. on Friday and 6:45 on Saturday and Sunday.

Indianapolis Athletic Club, the defending team champion, has entered a 13-man squad led by Frank McKinney, defending champion in both 100-meter and 200-meter breaststroke. McKinney hold the American record in the 200 at 2 minutes 20.8 seconds.

Other individual champions representing the Indianapolis A. C. are Mike Troy in the 100-meter butterfly and Frank Brunnell in the 400-meter freestyle events. Bill Cass in the 100 and 200-meter free style and Bill Barton in the 100 and 200-meter butterfly.

Softball Contest Held In Strawberry

The first week's operation of the Strawberry Recreation District summer program ended Friday with a softball skill contest, according to Director Cal Riemcke. Ribbons were presented to winners and place finishers in all events.

A tournament day is scheduled for Friday, with competition planned in ping pong, checkers, chess, horseshoes and other games, Riemcke announced.

Novato Wins By Upset In S. R. Softball

Novato Merchants moved into first place in the second round of the San Rafael Recreation Department Men's Softball League last night when they upset Sohner Tree Service, 3-2, in an extra-inning thriller at Albert Park.

The Merchants, 0-4 in the first round, thus notched their second consecutive victory and hold a half-game bulge over Presidio Army Base which won by forfeit over Pacific Telephone last night.

Sohner Tree Service rallied for two runs in the seventh inning to send the contest into overtime.

Novato then won the game in the ninth on an infield hit, an error, and a perfectly-placed squeeze bunt.

The A Division resumes play next Tuesday when Sohner (1-1) meets Presidio (1-0) in a 7:30 opener and Pacific Telephone (0-2) plays Hamilton Field's 28th Air Division (0-1) in the 9:15 nightcap. Novato (2-0) draws a bye.

Two Thrillers In Prep Cage League

Two close decisions and one rout marked last night's play in the high school division of the Drake Summer Basketball League.

Schaefer's Sports Shop nipped Tam, 26-25 and Redwood shaded San Rafael, 35-34 in the thrillers while Marin Catholic rolled up a 48-14 triumph over Drake in the other game.

High scorers of the night were Art Quinn of Marin Catholic and Bill Travis of San Rafael with 15 each, Ron Blum of March with 13 and Rick Reide of Redwood with 11.

Fights Last Night

FRESNO, Calif. — Zora Folley, 200¾, Chandler, Ariz., knocked out Alvin Williams, 181, Oklahoma City, 4.

RICHMOND, Calif.—Phil Moyer, 154½, Portland, Ore., stopped Tony Dominguez, 155, Oakland, Calif., 6.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Mel Barker, 146¼, Austin, outpointed Joe Felan, 145¼, Houston, 10.

COW PALACE TO HOST NCAA CAGE FINALS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Cow Palace in San Francisco will be the scene March 18-19 of the 1960 NCAA basketball championships.

The NCAA University Basketball Tournament Committee selected the site last night. The association's Executive Committee must approve the action, expected to be a formality.

The four regional NCAA tournaments March 11-12 will be held at Charlotte, N.C.; Louisville, Ky.; Manhattan, Kan., and Seattle, Wash.

The title tournament has not been held on the West Coast since 1952.

A. C. Lonborg, athletic director at the University of Kansas and chairman of the basketball tournament committee, said in announcing the selection the University of California would be host to the event.

Announcement of the tournament sites came at the conclusion of the committee's two-day meeting here.

Mrs. Van Kovering Wins Golf Event

Mrs. Alberta Van Kovering was five up on par yesterday to win the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's match vs. par tournament at the Novato course.

Mrs. William May placed second, four up.

In Class B Mrs. Charles Zapelli was two up and Mesdames Lou Slocum and Charles Par each even with par.

German Smashes Two World Hurdles Marks

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Martin Lauer of West Germany was clocked yesterday in 13.2 for the 110-meter hurdles and 22.5 for the 200-meter hurdles around a turn—both world records.

Mays Admits Triple Was His Hardest Hit

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Willie Mays is hitting a cool .400 in All-Star competition. The San Francisco center fielder seems to be able to rise to the occasion.

Willie's tremendous triple to the ivy-covered wall in right center field in the eighth inning drove home the winning run in the National League's 5-4 victory over the American League yesterday at Forbes Field.

"Was that the hardest hit ball by you this season?" a fellow asked Mays.

"Man, I don't remember hitting any harder," he answered

Mays has hit 14 home runs in regular National League play and has knocked in 56 runs while batting .311. None of his hits were as important as the blow off Whitey Ford that broke a two-game National League losing streak.

It was the sixth All-Star game for the 28-year-old speedster who captured the hearts of New York fans at the Polo Grounds before the Giants moved west.

Mays was one of six regulars to go all the way in line with manager Fred Haney's plan to play the game like a regular season contest and not as an exhibition.

"Man, didn't you see me wearing the helmet," he replied. "That's the first time I wore one all year."

Mays explained that he conforms with the rule about wearing protective head gear by using a cap with an inner lining.

He practically swung out from under his helmet as he became the first of Duren's four strike out victims. Willie was the first to face Duren in the fourth inning.

Until Mays unloaded the triple in the eighth he had been held hitless. He lined out in the first, when Early Wynn was pitching, struck out and hit into a force play against Duren.

Mrs. Gemmell Wins Putting Tourney

Mrs. Ronald Gemmell used only 29 putts yesterday to win first place in the Marin Golf Club's low putt tournament. Mrs. William Weeks with 31 was second.

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

Reinstatement Of Hunting Season For Archers Hailed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) —Gov. Edmund G. Brown has scored a bull's eye with California bowmen by signing into law the bill which will reinstate their two 10-day archery deer hunting seasons for this year.

The bill, AB2543, by Assemblyman Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose), was signed just five days before the first of the advance seasons will open, this Saturday. This season, the forerunner of the coastal deer season, will extend until July 20, with the archery season in the inland Sierra territory to run from Sept. 12-21.

The Fish and Game Commission voted May 29 to combine the archery season with the regular gun season. The move was met with loud criticism and volleys of telegrams and letters.

As a result, the Bradley bill, largely technical, was amended to override the commission regulation and restore the two 10-day archery seasons. They had been in effect for the past dozen years.

Archers contended the very nature of their type of hunting, calling for sneaking through the brush to get within close range of the bucks, would make it impossible to hunt deer during a regular gun season. Too many hunters are prone to shoot at anything that moves, and especially an object sliding through the brush or trees.

The amended Bradley bill was passed in short order in the legislature with little or no opposition. Then came the decision for Gov. Brown —whether to honor the wish of the Legislature and archers or to honor the Fish and Game Commission, which is appointed by the Governor.

BY-PASS PROCEDURE

As a result of the strong and vocal support for the bill, the normal procedures on considering bills were by-passed in the governor's office. If the bill had taken its normal course of review, it could not have been passed in time for the opening.

In signing the archery bill, Brown made a couple of significant comments.

He said "the commission's action was taken without long study and hearings on the matter, and that this fact was decisive in his approval." In addition, he called on the commission to hold a number of special hearings on the archery season question between now and Jan. 1, 1961, when the legislation expires.

The archery season incident has brought considerable criticism of the mechanics of regulation setting. Technically, the commission was able to change the season during its May 29 meeting. However, from a practical standpoint, there was no advance notice of such a change.

The whole system of two meetings of the commission on regulation and season setting is designed to give advance notice to interested parties. Nothing can be discussed or adopted during the second meeting which was not in the record at the first. Because deer seasons in general were discussed in April, the commission was able to change the archery season in May.

CONNOLLY

From now on we are abandoning our baby . . . the campaign to restore the bunt and percentage baseball.

For some time we've been scolding Bill Rigney, manager of the SF Giants. It seems that Rig and I can't see eye to eye on run making. He maintains one run isn't any good and will not win a ball game.

I say just the opposite. But of late it seems that young Rig with reckless abandon has thrown the bunt out the window.

In fact I sometime think he'd sooner lose a ball game by one run than see Willie Mays, Willie Kirkland, Orlando Cepada or Jackie Brandt bunt.

So it's not worth it and I wash my hands of the campaign.

I'm retiring in favor of the long clout. "Rig" seems to know more about flaming youth and the big inning than this old duffer, so I'm letting the air out of my wind-bag and my non-skid tires and from now on will go along with the 1959 jallopy, jittery baseball style. I decided if I can't beat 'em, I'll join 'em.

Being a member of the Old-timers Union and in good standing, as a condemner of new fangled ideas, I have to agree that Horace Stoneham, the money bag owner of the Giants, would, to be truthful, be a little silly, to pay Willie Mays $80,000 to bunt.

But I'll be derned if it isn't the baseball fans themselves who are to blame for the new brand of baseball now being played and sometimes, referred laughingly, as major league baseball.

The cash customer doesn't want a pitchers battle; he does not want a 1 to 0 game; he does not want to see a lightning baserunner steal, second, third or home; he wants some big clown to come up to the plate and whack the horsehide outta the lot. If he can see that, he doesn't care how bushy the game is or how silly it is . . . just let's have some guys who can belt the ball around.

In other words he agrees with Boss Stoneham. He wants to see Willie Mays hit a homerun and he'd like to see Willie scoot around the bases. But he doesn't care a hoot, unless Willie scoots around the bases trying to make the homerun.

The baseball fan today isn't like the old gambler who bet $2 on a horse, and after the horse won and paid $64 in the mutuels, he got only $32.

"You can't go broke winning," the old timer had to admit.

And today the baseball fan is doing likewise. He's taking baseball as they serve it NOW, and not as he used to have it served.

A great Pacific Coast League character said "bye bye baby," the other day when Bill Klepper, former owner of the Seattle baseball club, once owner of the Portland Club and for many years a turbulent figure in loop politics, died.

Klepper did more to get the circuit publicity than anyone of his time. He would start a row if he knew the papers would print his side of it. And ole "Bald Bill," as we used to call him, was a smart baseball coot.

I shall never forget the first time I introduced "Foghorn" Murphy to Klepper.

"How do you do, Mister Clipper," said Murphy extending his hand in warm friendship.

"My name is Klepper," replied the Seattle owner, somewhat ruffled.

"Oh, yes," said Foghorn, "I read all about you meddling with those turnstiles."

And, of course, after a big fuss, I explained to "Bald Bill" that Foghorn was a great kidder and they shook hands and were warm friends afterwards.

CONGRATULATIONS, ED, SAY NATIONAL LEAGUERS

National League teammates swarmed out of the dugout to congratulate Ed Mathews after the Milwaukee Braves third sacker had hammered out a home run in the first inning of yesterday's All-Star Game at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh to give the senior loop team its first run. Greeting him is Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Red Sox Tops In Gallinas League

The Red Sox, with four consecutive victories in the second half of the Gallinas Valley Little League, lead the title race by a game over the second place Beavers, team standings showed today.

Following the Beavers' 3-1 record are the Merchant's at 2-2, Lions 2-3, Odd Fellows 1-3 and Redwood Sports Shop 0-3.

Stan Back In Groove; 'Troubles Are Over'

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Stan (The Man) Musial is starting to "come around again" and he promises to be back for more All-Star games.

The 38-year-old Cardinals' slugger appeared in his 15th All-Star classic here yesterday and, although he popped out to first base as a pinch-hitter, he was one of the most elated men in the bustling National League clubhouse.

"My hitting finally has started coming around," he said with obvious satisfaction. "I had a little trouble getting untracked there at the start of the year, but I think my troubles are over—at least, it certainly looks like they are."

With the clubs ready to swing into the second half of the season, Musial is batting .270. For anyone else that would be an acceptable figure, but in Stan's case it's roughly 60 points lower than his customary pace.

But the important thing is that his average has been increasing steadily of late.

"How low was your average actually this season?" Musial was asked.

Stan took a swig of soda pop, grinned and replied, "Let's not even talk about it."

For those who insist, however, let it be recorded that Musial collected only one hit in his first 16 at bats this season for a sickly .067 mark.

After participating in 15 All-Star games, someone might get the idea Musial is a bit tired of the routine and would gladly look for an "out" in future contests.

"Not on your life," he said. "I think these All-Star games are the greatest things going and honestly, they couldn't pick me in enough of them. I'll tell you this much—I'm not figuring that this will be my last one. I'm looking forward to playing in some more of them."

Carp Derby Going Full Blast Along The Russian River

GUERNEVILLE — The Carp Derby is in full swing today along the lower reaches of the Russian River, one of the best fishing streams in the Redwood Empire.

The Carp Derby is planned to contribute to good fishing conditions by ridding the river of a special which consumes spawn of other fish as well as food which might better be eaten by tastier pan fish.

Boys and girls to the age of 16 are eligible to participate in the derby, sponsored by the Guerneville Chamber of Commerce. Weekly prizes are awarded for the largest carp caught and the greatest number. Garnd prizes will be given out at the end of the vacation season.

Many species of fish are taken in the Russian River. Fishing for the big king salmon and the smaller silver is best during the fall and winter runs after rains which cause the river to rise and open the mouth of the stream to enable fish to go upstream from the ocean.

Marin Swimmers Meet Sacramentans Tonight

Competition will start at 5:30 o'clock. There is no admission fee for spectators, Mrs. Kaufman said.

Two Injured Braves Set For Comeback

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two of the Milwaukee Braves' prized cripples—shortstop Johnny Logan and pitcher Bob Buhl—are on the mind.

Both took first workouts yesterday since recent injuries. Logan said he expects to be ready for parttime duty this week and righthander Buhl indicated he'll be ready in about two weeks.

The progress reports come as good news for the defending National League champions who have only a shaky three percentage point hold on first place as they prepare to resume league action Thursday night against the pressing Los Angeles Dodgers, only a half-game back in third place. The game opens a five-game home stand for the Braves.

Logan has been out since June 28 when he was spiked on the right ankle by Chicago Cubs hurler Dave Hillman. Twenty stitches were needed to repair the damage. Buhl has been on the sidelines since June 25 with a mysterious shoulder ailment.

Logan is having his best season at the plate, hitting .332, second only among the Braves to Hank Aaron who leads the majors with a .370 average. Buhl is 6-5 for the season.

L. A. Promoter Gets 5 More Phone Threats

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Matchmaker Jackie Leonard, a key witness before a special Federal Grand Jury that racketeers are trying to muscle in on southern California boxing, says he received five threatening telephone calls last Saturday.

"If you don't pull away from the police something will happen to your children," one of the callers was said to have told Leonard.

The Hollywood Legion promoter said another caller told him: "You can't have the cops around you forever."

But Police Chief William Parker said yesterday shortly after Leonard's disclosure of the new threats that the police department had not been notified of the threats.

"The last one we heard about was 10 days ago," said Parker.

He also revealed that Leonard asked for and received withdrawal of police protection, accorded the promoter since May when he told of hoodlums attempted to gain control of Welterweight Champion Don Jordan.

RECUPERATED

Parker said Leonard requested the discontinuance of the police guard in a letter, stating that he felt recuperated from an alleged beating last June 3 at his home. (Police said they believe Leonard suffered a stroke and fell over, thereby suffering injuries. But Leonard insists he was beaten.)

"He apparently believes the constant personal attendance of police officers is interfering with his ability to successfully pursue his business activities," said Parker. "This department is compelled to respect his wishes. We will adopt other measures in fulfillment of our responsibilities."

Leonard accompanied Oakland Promoter Don Chargin to the Federal Grand Jury hearing yesterday. Chargin told reporters he testified that he volunteered to substitute as promoter of a Hollywood Legion fight last month when Leonard was allegedly beaten.

By ALEX KAHN

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Immaculately dressed, polite and soft-spoken — that's a portrait of Alphonse Halimi, the bantamweight champion of the world who risks his title tonight.

It's a far cry from the dirty, ragged urchin who ran away from home at the age of seven and was living off the streets in Algiers until a benefactor found him.

Halimi has never forgotten those early days and those hard times in North Africa. A French-Algerian of Jewish ancestry, Halimi knows if it had not been for his skill in the ring he would probably be working in some tailor shop today.

"What I am today I have made of myself with my fists and by listening to the good advice of my friends and manager," Halimi said as he prepared to don his ring togs for a workout.

RESPECTS OPPONENT

And because good fortune did not come easily, Halimi never takes an opponent lightly. He speaks highly of Jose Becerra, whom he meets in the Los Angeles sports arena tonight. And it is not just talk, because back of it is the spectre of a frightened, hungry little boy trying to get enough to eat on his own.

"It was not easy for me as a boy in Algeria and I have never forgotten those days," Halimi continued, occasionally turning to his interpreter-trainer, Joe Rizzo for help with an expression or word in English.

"The ring has been good to me and I like what it has made of me," he added. "I want to be champion as long as possible. That's why I take every fight very seriously."

Halimi explained that he ran away from his home in Constantine, Algeria, when he was seven because his family was so poor. And he was wandering alone on the streets of Algeria when his present foster-mother, Madam Marcell Faty, found him and took him into her home.

LEARNED A TRADE

"She gave me a home and had me taught a trade as a tailor. And when I started boxing as an amateur she encouraged me and stood behind me when I was learning the game."

Under the tutelage of the able Philippe Filippi, the little boxer has fought 28 times as a pro with only one loss. That defeat was by a featherweight, Jimmy Carson, and Halimi explains the fight was stopped because of cuts.

"The fight is tonight and what went before was to prepare me for it," Halimi said slowly.

The reference was to criticism hurled at his camp for letting Dwight Hawkins go as a sparring partner because he shook up the champion during a workout.

"Hawkins was trying to make a name for himself in the gym against me," the champion said. "I was not trying to fight him. I was developing my offense and defense for the real fight."

EMPLOYEES CAMPAIGN

Hub City To Vote On Civil Service Change

By DIANA BRUCE

Whether San Anselmo voters will approve a change in job security for their police and fire chiefs appeared doubtful today in the face of a campaign for "no" votes being waged by the city employees' association.

A two-thirds majority is necessary to approve the change at a special election next Tuesday.

City councilmen propose to remove police and fire chiefs and three other department heads from civil service, thereby giving the council complete authority to hire and fire them.

Under the proposed ordinance, if a department head who had been promoted from the ranks were fired by the council, he would automatically be returned to his former rank within civil service.

San Anselmo's civil service ordinance now gives any ousted department head the right of appeal to a board of review which can reinstate him if it finds there was insufficient cause for removal.

The employees' association takes a dim view of the proposed revisions and is campaigning for a heavy "no" vote on July 14.

The employees feel that the civil service ordinance has weathered 22 years service to the city and the revision is unnecessary.

Two chiefs have longer tenure than the ordinance. Nello Marcucci, fire chief, street superintendent and building inspector, has 36-year record as a San Anselmo city employee. Police Chief Donald T. Wood has been with San Anselmo for 29 years.

The one other person who would be affected by the proposed change is Park and Recreation Supt. Frank Quinn, a part-time city employee whose other job is as a San Anselmo postman.

The ordinance change is worded to cover all department heads, so that the same rule would apply if the city in future were to add any other departments and create new department head positions.

Sample ballots were mailed last week to San Anselmo voters. Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on July 14.

The six polling places are at Wade Thomas, Isabel Cook, Yolandsdale and Brookside schools, the city hall and the office at Red Hill and Sequoia avenues of State Farm Insurance Co.

County Board Rejects Tax Cancel Plea

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday rejected a petition for cancellation of approximately $24,000 in taxes for the years 1955 through 1957 from John and Mary Pedranzini of Santa Rosa.

They based their claim on the fact that the school was used to 1955 by the Novato Unified School District and then abandoned. The property reverted to previous owners, but ownersip was clouded and not resolved until 1957.

The Pedranzinis said they should not have to pay taxes on property under uncertain ownership. The board's rejection was based on a decision by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan that cancellation of taxes would not be "in the best interests of the county."

Marinwood Man Arrested In Shorts

A Marinwood man, found walking along Paradise drive dressed only in a pair of shorts, was arrested Monday night on suspicion of drunkenness.

Sinton Paine, 50, of 250 Flagstone, Marinwood, admitted he was drunk, but insisted he had been taken for a ride, rolled, and dumped off from his new pickup truck minus all his money and clothes.

He said he had been drinking in San Rafael where he met another man, who offered to drive him home.

Paine said he remembers nothing more until the man pushed him out of the truck somewhere in the rural areas, taking his money, clothes and truck.

Sheriff's deputies said Paine's relatives had located the truck parked in San Rafael where Paine said he had been drinking.

Insurance Sales Win Marin Woman Honors

Lack of a quorum kept the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission from taking any official action at last night's meeting. Members present spent the time discussing the summer program with recreation director Jean Hancock.

Albrecht Authorized To Call In Psychiatrist

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health director, to call in a consulting psychiatrist in county emergency cases that concern possible mental cases.

She asked for the authority in view of the increasing number of cases, and also asked the board to set up a fee. Psychiatrists are now paid $15 an hour on a consulting basis when they are called in on county cases at county offices.

"I want consultants only in the cases where I don't feel I can make a decision," Dr. Albrecht explained, noting that she is not a trained psychiatrist.

She said that in an emergency case which might occur in the middle of the night in a remote part of the county, the consultant should be paid more than $15 an hour. "Probably it should be $25," she said. At the suggestion of the board she promised to work out a fee schedule and submit it.

Supervisor William Gnoss, apparently in effort to find out whether the service was really needed, asked, "In how many cases have you been wrong, doctor?"

"None so far, thank goodness," she said.

"This reminds me," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman, "of the knifethrowing act at the carnival. The man's been throwing knives at his wife for years, and he's never missed — not yet."

HOME ADVISOR

This member of the pitted fruit family has always done its duty dessert-wise — in pies, and puddings, in Bavarian cream, and just plain stewed; all standbys that will always be good. But now let's exploit the versatility of the popular plum in exciting new sweet-treats that are lightly keyed to summer living.

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Assn. has many suggestions to offer us on using this plentiful fruit. Make up a compote, for instance, that combines fresh plums with the sassy sharpness of fresh lime juice. This can acts as a most appetizing appetizer, and takes but a jiffy to concoct.

Or whip up a fresh plum whip, sparked with fresh lemon juice and frothy with beaten egg whites. Served atop a soft custard, this plum whip is nourishing enough to bolster, as well as climax, a light salad luncheon.

DOUBLE PLAY

Fresh plums jellied with citrus juices, prepared and chilled conveniently well before eating time, have a cool, inviting sparkle as well as delicious flavor. And this plum delight does double duty because it can be served as salad or as happy ending to a meal.

Besides being real flavor discoveries, these desserts add to the plum's content of vitamin A and C the importan vitamin content of fresh citrus fruit juices.

FRESH PLUM JAM

4 pounds fresh plums
½ cup water
8 cups sugar
1 box powdered pectin

Wash plums, remove pits and chop. Place in a deep 6-quart kettle with water. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Remove cover, add powdered pectin, and bring to a rapid boil, stirring rapidly all the while. Add sugar and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Skim off foam and continue skimming for 5 minutes, to cool slightly. Ladle into hot, sterilized jars. Seal at once. YIELD: 12 one-half pint jars.

VANILLA FRESH PLUM COMPOTE

¼ cup sugar
1 cup water
1 tablespoon fresh lime juice
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1½ pounds fresh plums, sliced

Combine sugar, water and lime juice in a saucepan. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Heat to boiling point. Boil 2 to 3 minutes. Cool. Add pure vanilla extract and plums. Chill and serve.

YIELD: 5 servings.

JELLIED FRESH PLUMS WITH GOLDEN FRESH LEMON SAUCE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
1¼ cups hot water
¾ cup sugar
⅓ cup fresh lemon juice
½ cup fresh orange juice
2 cups sliced fresh plums
Golden Fresh Lemon Sauce

Soften gelatine in cold water. Add hot water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir in sugar, lemon and orange juices. Chill until mixture is about as thick as fresh egg whites. Fold in sliced plums. Turn into a 5-cup ring mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. To serve turn out onto a serving plate and serve with Golden Fresh Lemon Sauce.

YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

GOLDEN FRESH LEMON SAUCE

2 eggs, separated
1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice
⅔ cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1/16 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Beat egg yolks with lemon juice until light and creamy. Gradually beat in 1/3 cup of the sugar. Add salt to egg whites and beat until they stand in soft peaks into which gradually beat in the remaining sugar, pure vanilla extract and grated lemon rind. Fold into the egg yolk mixture. Serve over jellied fresh plums.

Twilight Over Turkey Bones — Legacy Of Luscious Leftovers

The sleepy glow of charcoal under its own ash puts the last touch of bronze to the bird turning on the spit and evening settles down.

Barbecuing a whole bird calls for patience—let's call it leisure—and yields in return a bounty of meat for tomorrow. Thumbnail guide for counting both: 15 to 20 minutes per pound and ½ pound per person. Grillside serving, that is.

TWILIGHT TURKEY DELIGHT

5-6 pound oven-ready turkey
Piece of bacon rind or salt pork
Several sprigs of parsley
Sprig or terragon
Little bacon fat or butter
Salt and pepper

Have the butcher tie a piece of bacon rind or long, thin slice of salt pork around the bird.

Stuff parsley and terragon inside the bird and put on spit. Place before fire, giving it plenty of heat to begin with, and turn often until the turkey is ¾ cooked. Remove the bacon rind or salt pork and brown the bird, basting it occasionally with a little bacon fat or butter.

Salt and pepper to taste. Serve with boiled, riced chestnuts or yams, roasted in the ashes, or tender sweet corn, roasted in the ashes with husks on.

TURKEY SANDWICHES

Either white or dark meat or both can be used in turkey sandwiches. Also, there are numerous combinations of turkey and other meats which make especially tempting sandwiches.

FRUITED TURKEY AND HAM

12 slices raisin bread, toasted
Butter or margarine
½ cup whole cranberry sauce
Sliced breast of turkey (6 ounces)
20 thin banana slices
4 slices Swiss cheese (4 ounces)
4 slices baked ham (4 ounces)
4 pineapple slices, well drained
Lettuce leaves

Spread 4 slices toast with butter or margarine. Spread with a thin layer of cranberry sauce. Place turkey slices over cranberry sauce. Arrange banana slices over turkey and cover with slices of Swiss cheese. Top with 4 more toast slices spread with butter or margarine and then cranberry sauce. Place ham slices over cranberry sauce and top with pineapple slices.

Cover pineapple with lettuce. Spread remaining toast with butter or margarine and cranberry sauce.

What Is A Lazy Weekend Without A Turkey Barbecue?

There's nothing more relaxing and downright enjoyable than a backlawn barbecue or patio picnic . . . especially with that festive, typically-American treat, turkey!

So get out the barbecue equipment and enjoy the outdoors while you can. But you don't have to go away to have fun. You can have it right at home. And children will be delighted.

If you wish, you can add dinner music by bringing out the record player or portable radio.

Of one thing you can be sure—that's a ready supply of meaty oven-ready consumer-sized turkeys and turkey quarter roasts.

Government reports indicate that at the beginning of the year, the percentage of hens in storage was the highest in five years. While there was a heavy movement of turkeys during the Easter season, there still are plentiful supplies of hens and smaller-sized toms in storage. And in addition, growers expect to raise 5 per cent more turkeys this year than in 1958.

With big supplies of turkeys in prospect, turkey prices have remained very favorable to budget-conscious housewives.

In addition to whole turkeys, turkey quarter and half roasts are widely available this year, offering housewives the convenience of meal-sized portions.

TURKEY FOR PICNICS

Turkey is fast becoming the summer picnic favorite of Americans. It can be easly prepared in advance and served in tempting sandwiches, salads or as cold sliced turkey—a hot summer day favorite.

Hot turkey, fresh from the barbecue or grill, is perfect for evening picnic dinners in the canyon or by seaside or lake.

BARBECUING TURKEY

There's something special about a turkey barbecue. Maybe it's the mingled aroma of wood smoke and golden-crusted turkey meat oozing with succulent goodness . . . or perhaps it's the cheer and fellowship of good friends meeting with appetites sharpened by fresh air and pungent sauces.

At any rate, everyone loves a barbecue . . . especially a turkey barbecue. Here are some ideas which should help in serving family or guests with generous portions of turkey hot from the barbecue grill.

WHOLE TURKEY BARBECUING ON ROTARY SPIT

Selection and thawing — Today's ready-to-cook turkey needs only to be taken from its plastic bag. If frozen, thaw slowly in refrigerator. Allow one or two days depending on size. For rapid thawing, leave turkey in original wrap and place in cold water two to six hours. Size of bird depends on number of guests. Consider ½ pound raw turkey per person.

Preparing for barbecue—After washing bird, rinse inside with wine or wine vinegar and rub in plenty of salt and pepper. Pat skin dry and skewer neck skin to back. Tie leg ends to tail and use twine to tie wings close to body. Rub turkey all over with salad oil.

Place turkey on spit—Before starting rotary spit, test turkey for balance. See that it does not slip as spit turns. If possible use a meat thermometer. This should be inserted in the breast so that it does not touch a bone.

Cooking—To help keep brazier clean and aid cooking, push live coals back and use metal foil with turned up edges to catch drippings from cooking bird. When ⅔ done, start basting turkey often with hot barbecue sauce thinned with small quantity of water. Cook 15 to 20 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer reaches 180. Turkey is fork-tender when done. Allow turkey to stand a few minutes before carving. This permits juices to be reabsorbed.

Fuel and fire—Charcoal or bricquets burn at high heat for a long time. Keep fuel down to 2 inches deep. Bricquets should be only one layer deep. Sprinkle generously with kerosene for easy starting. NEVER USE GASOLINE! Set kerosene afire and let fuel burn 15 minutes to allow smoke and kerosene fumes to die down before starting cooking.

BARBECUING TURKEY QUARTERS

Turkey quarter roasts—3½ to 6 pounds—are excellent for barbecuing. If quarter roasts are not readily available, have your meat merchant cut a large frozen turkey into four equal roasts.

After thawing, rub cavity of cut side of roast with salt. Skewer skin to meat along cut edges. Tie or skewer leg to tail or wing to breast, depending upon kind of turkey quarter roast.

Rub with salad oil and place on spit. Allow 20 to 25 minutes cooking time per pound. Baste often with hot barbecue sauce during last 30 minutes. When done, turkey will be fork-tender and wingstick or drumstick will give readily when moved. Meat thermometer, if used, should read 190 degrees F. when placed in thickest meaty section.

It's a good thing that

Tide keeps on working after other suds have quit!

Tide gets clothes the cleanest clean there is for a very simple reason: It keeps on working after other suds have quit. You've probably already seen this demonstrated on TV. It's quite dramatic. Tide keeps on eating up dirt after other suds get tired and quit.

And doesn't it stand to reason that the product that works the hardest gets your clothes the cleanest?

TO FIND sandwiches with honest-to-goodness appeal for the men in the family is not always easy. That's why you will be glad to know about Quick Sardine Sandwiches and Beef Barbecues. Both are hot satisfying main dishes instead of just ordinary sandwiches.

Tasty Meat Sandwich Aims To Please The Family's Men

SARDINE SANDWICHES

1 can condensed cream of celery soup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup grated cheese
2 cans (3¼ to 4 oz. each) sardines
6 slices toast

Mix soup, Worcestershire sauce and cheese; heat slowly until cheese melts. Place drained sardines on toast squares and heat in broiler. Top each serving with sauce. Six servings.

BEEF BARBECUES

1 can (12 oz.) roast beef
½ cup bottled barbecue sauce
4 hamburger buns
Butter, or margarine

Combine roast beef, cut into pieces, and its broth with barbecue sauce; heat. Spread buns with butter and brown in broiler. Spoon beef on half the bun and top with other half. Four servings.

Cucumber On This Tongue Sandwich

A party sandwich which will please the palate of your honored guest is called Tongue Sandwich With Cucumber Topping. This you might consider a sandwich with the pretty side up.

8 slices cooked tongue, cut ¼ inch thick
4 slices bread.
Butter or margarine
4 lettuce leaves
½ cup dairy sour cream
1 cup chopped unpeeled cucumber
1 teaspoon minced onion
¾ teaspoon salt

Spread bread with butter or margarine and place each slice on an individual serving plate. Top each slice with a lettuce leaf and 2 ounces sliced tongue.

Combine sour cream, cucumber, onion and salt. Place ¼ cup cucumber topping on each sandwich. Yield: 4 sandwiches.

Then They're Eaten

South African rock lobster tails really do come from South Africa. They're shipped some 7,500 miles in the icy holds of refrigerator ships to ports in the United States, where they are quickly transferred to refrigerator trucks for the journey to inland cities.

Easy To Carve

Note to carvers: insert the carving fork in the meat or poultry you are slicing so that its position need not be changed frequently.

Gracious

It looks so cool and tempting and your guests will enjoy helping themselves. You can have enough lemonade to fill a punch bowl in hardly any time at all when you use frozen concentrate for lemonade.

Flavor Pointer

Your Outdoor Cooking Headquarters All Summer Long

MILL VALLEY — Old County Road and E. Blithedale. Open Monday through Sat. 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Sun. 10 to 7.

SAUSALITO — 600 Bridgeway at Princess St. Open 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. weekdays; 9-6 Sunday

Ersatz Sour Cream Designed To Cheer Calorie-Counters

If, while counting calories, you want the flavor and unctuous quality of sour cream on summer's cool crisp salads and appetizers, cold soups and fruits, you're bound to agree that this rule is a find.

1. If you add it to a bowl of mixed greens—along with salt, freshly-ground pepper and herbs—you'll have a salad with an old-fashioned flavor.

2. Pass it as a dip for scallions (green onions), green pepper rings or strips and radishes.

3. Pass it with cucumber strips and rounds of tomato aspic (low calorie) as a first-course salad.

4. Use it as the dressing for a luncheon salad of sliced hard-cooked eggs and water cress sprays. Or chop both the eggs and the water cress and arrange them, light around dark, spiral fashion.

5. Pass it as a dip with cooked shrimp, rounds of carrot fancied up with a scalloped cutter) and pickled mushrooms. Nice for company!

7. Use it as a topping for cooked vegetables (asparagus, snap beans, beets, sliced tomatoes) on a salad platter.

Method: Put cottage cheese, milk and lemon juice in an electric blender; cover; blend on high speed about 30 seconds. Uncover; if the cheese is not all blended, stir down and blend about 30 seconds more. Turn into the cottage cheese container or another one; cover tightly; store in the coldest part of the refrigerator for several hours to blend flavors further. Makes about 1¼ cups.

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

What's better than chicken cooked over an open fire? Answer: chicken cooked over an open-fire in REYNOLDS WRAP Aluminum Foil. First broil it skin-side down over low, even coals, for 2 to 4 minutes. Then turn and repeat. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and melted butter or cover with a favorite barbecue sauce. Seal tightly in REYNOLDS WRAP and cook until tender.

Hot today? Reach into the refrigerator, and if there's a bottle of MARTINELLI'S Apple Juice there, you have a superb cooler, with the crisp and tangy taste of juicy apples. This golden juice makes a blithe and refreshing drink just as it is but there are recipes on the label which you'll like, too. MARTINELLI'S Apple Juice is a wonderful breakfast drink.

To hear the teen set talk, Piquant Tuna Patties are the greatest thing since motor scooters. Want to try them? Just add dry salad dressing mix to white sauce, and add a family-size can of WHITE STAR Tuna. Form into patties and cook until brown and spicy. WHITE STAR Tuna is so good because it is pressure-baked, to retain the delicate flavor of the fish.

★ To make sweet milk sour, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar to each cup of sweet milk. Let stand in warm place for 30 minutes.

Ask your favorite chef to try Chick-n-Que on his grill next Sunday: Combine ¼ cup MAZOLA Golden Corn Oil with ¼ cup vinegar, 1 tsp. poultry seasoning, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper. Marinate chicken in this for 3 hours, turning once. Then grill the chicken, basting with the marinade (MAZOLA gives it that lovely, light flavor, exactly right for chicken and roast turkey.)

Want to see your toddler chuckle with pleasure? Serve him GERBER'S new all-in-one breakfast: Junior Cereal, Egg Yolks and Bacon. It's a single, nourishing and tempting dish, containing high quality proteins from egg yolks, bacon and milk, with the favorite "go-together" flavors of these good foods. You'll find this new charmer in the trim blue GERBER tin.

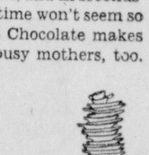
What the well-packed picnic basket carries is a matter of family taste, but I've noticed that it nearly always includes a jar of FRENCH'S Mustard—hamburgers, hot dogs, steaks . . . so many things taste better with this creamy mustard. You can use it in cooking and know that its rich piquancy will not fade out. Try it with canned beans some time!

"Time for a nap!" It's always a chore, coaxing the smaller ones indoors for a rest, these beautiful days. But how about calling a chocolate drink-break? GHIRARDELLI'S Instant Chocolate makes a delightful chocolate milk, and in seconds' time. Use it for bait; then nap-time won't seem so bad. GHIRARDELLI'S Instant Chocolate makes a quick, nourishing drink for busy mothers, too.

The Matterhorn never looked higher than that pile of dishes after dinner—but WHITE KING D will cut it down to size. And this wonderful detergent is just as good in the washer as it is in the dishpan; everything sparkles when it meets WHITE KING. I like the giant-size box; priced at a saving, it insures plenty of this wonderful cleaning, washing, kitchen helper on hand.



That's all for now!
See you next week!

FOR VACATION

Bright Felt Coat Is Easy To Make

By DOROTHY ROE

It's a smart girl who sews her own when it comes to getting together a vacation wardrobe. All those gay outfits for holiday fun often can make a wreck of the budget.

Brightest idea of the season is an endlessly useful short felt coat with many bright patch pockets in different colors, to wear over anything from a bathing suit to a dance dress.

Anyone who has worked with felt knows that it's the world's easiest fabric to sew. The seams don't ravel, it needs no hemming and you can make a garment from it in next to no time. Local sewing centers have experimented with making some of these new felt coats, and report them easy enough for the most inexperienced seamstress. They suggest making the topper in white felt with contrasting pockets of royal blue, bright red and black.

Since felt comes in a 72-inch width, a little yardage goes a long way. Choose a good standard pattern for a straight, collarless short coat with three-quarter-length sleeves, and follow pattern directions for cutting and sewing. Although felt need not be hemmed, you can achieve a smart finish by hemming the jacket edges with a contrasting color thread. In this case royal blue was used.

Three different colors of felt should be used for the six square, brass-buttoned pockets. To make the pockets, cut six rectangles 4 by 15 inches—two in each color. Fold the rectangles in half. Cut in pointed flap at the top of the rectangle 3 inches deep. With white thread, run a line of stitching around pocket flap ¾-inch from edge. At bottom of flap cut through one thickness across the pocket to form opening.

On the flap mark length of cutting space for buttonhole plus ⅛-inch for bar tacks. If you own an automatic sewing machine, set the selector for a buttonhole stitch. Otherwise use the buttonholer attachment for a regular machine.

Pin pockets in position on the topper and stitch with white thread ¾-inch from edge. Attach dot snappers to make a neat closure for front of jacket or, if you prefer, use more brass buttons and buttonholes.

COAT OF many colors is this versatile summer topper with vari-colored pockets which is so easy to make out of felt.

Gifts Of China

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fine china should be translucent, resonant when tapped with a pencil, lightweight and well-balanced, with even edges. Its color should not be streaked or mottled. A glaze adds a protective coating to the china and also is the most sanitary surface of all dinnerwares.

ROSS BRANCH

Needlework Guild To Stage 'Moonlight Capers,' Aug. 15

"Moonlight Capers" will be the theme of the buffet and fashion show to be staged on Saturday, Aug. 15 by the Ross Branch of the Needlework Guild.

The annual fund raising event will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Westover Jr. in San Rafael. A buffet supper will be served at 6 o'clock and fashion show will be presented by Modern Eve of San Rafael with Arthur F. Edwards as commentator. Entertainment will also be presented.

Plans for the event were discussed at a recent luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rossi in Ross.

Mrs. Milton Tonini, president of the Guild, appointed Mrs. Ralph Boyer general chairman of the event and the following chairman were appointed: refreshments: Mrs. A. L. Rowland; hostesses: Mrs. Gus Niederholzer Jr.; awards: Mrs. Thomas C. Cusick; fashion show: Mrs. Tonini; reservations: Mrs. William H. Price of Kent Woodlands, Mrs. Helene Hjort of Ross and Mrs. Glen Gall of Sleepy Hollow.

The following members will be serving on committees, Mesdames John Kirkpatrick, Benjamin H. Dibblee, Hilton Swenson, David S. Adams, Joseph Rossi, H. N. Mangels, Harold Bunn, L. J. Giubbini, William J. Murray, Arthur Walters and Carl Riznik.

The Ross Branch of the Needlework Guild distributes new clothing and household linens to the needy through the Marin Red Cross, Catholic Social Service, Lucas Valley Home for the aged, St. Dorothy's Rest, a summer camp for underprivileged children at Camp Meeker and Sonoma State Home for retarded children as well as private cases.

Here Comes The Modern Bride Dressed Just Like Her Grandma

Sleeves in summer bridal gowns sometimes take on leg o'mutton lines reminiscent of those puffed jobs worn by the Gibson girl in the 1890's. Skirts are the most lavish in many a season, with bows or tiers or in some collections even the bustle.

"This season's bridal gowns have a quaint, almost Victorian elegance about them," said Murray Hamburger, a leading New York manufacturer. Hamburger, bridal gown specialist for 23 years, turns out 20 to 25,000 wedding dresses each year.

"Most of them have lavish backs and simple fronts. There are a few shirtwaists," said Hamburger.

"There are plenty of puffs and draping at the back. For a good reason, I think. Designers are giving more attention to the rear of skirts, because wedding guests see the back of the bride longer than the front anyway."

Unpressed pleats "cascade" into short trains. Other full-length dresses have smooth-fitting, figure-moulding fronts with high-rising waistlines and Watteau backs.

BIRDS EYE CHICKEN PIE
with the flavor flair of our Master Chef

Tested and Approved by General Foods Kitchens

Birds Eye asked its Master Chef, Albert, to make a chicken pie so good, it would end all the confusion about whose pie is best.

Result: That man has done it again. He started with home-style crust—a crust with flavor to it—then added so much chicken the peas and carrots were almost crowded out. And finally, Albert's gravy—the old-fashioned, chicken-'n-biscuits kind of gravy!

Honestly, these pies are so good (try the Beef and Turkey, too) your family just might demand two apiece—so be prepared.

Kinz' Back From Long Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. William Kinz of San Rafael have returned from a three weeks vacation motor trip through seven western states and Canada. They were accompanied by Mr. Kinz' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Driesbach of San Leandro whose daughter, Mrs. Carl Sandahl, resides in San Rafael.

The four motored first to Reno and then to Twin Falls and Pocatello, Idaho. From there they went to Jackson Hole, Wyo., and three national parks, Grand Teton, Yellowstone and Glacier. In Helena, Mont., they visited the state capitol, the historic Roman Catholic Church and state museum. They crossed the border and in Canada saw Calgary, Banff National Park, Lake Louise and three other national parks, Kootney, Yo Ho and Jasper and also saw the famous Columbia ice fields.

They drove to Vancouver, B. C., and visited friends in nearby Chilliwack. They saw the famous Stanley Park in Vancouver and then boarded a Princess liner and crossed the Strait of Georgia to Victoria, B. C., where they visited the many historic places. One day was spent on a boat trip from Sidney through the island passage and across the Strait of Juan De Fuca. They landed at Port Angeles, Wash., and drove down the coast of Washington, Oregon and California home.

Mr. Kinz, an electric distribution engineer with the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., recently received his 45 year pin for service with the company.

CAROL ANN O'CONNOR ENGAGED TO GAIL SIRI OF REDWOOD CITY

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Connor of Belvedere are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Gail Bernard Siri of Redwood City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Siri of Redwood City.

The bride-elect, who is the sister of Gerry O'Connor of Belvedere, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Dominican College with the class of 1959.

The future benedict was graduated from St. Ignatius High School and the University of Santa Clara where he was a member of the Olympic Club. He recently received a commission as 2nd Lieut. in the U. S. Army and will be in the service for two years.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 17.

Presley Daughter In Baptismal Rite

The only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Presley was baptized on Sunday afternoon at St. Raphael's Church by the Rev. James Cain. Godparents of the baby, who was named Donna Therese, are a cousin, Karen Busterna of San Francisco, and David Ramponi of San Rafael. The little one has two brothers, Donald Ray Jr., 4, and Eugene Philip, who is two and a half. A dinner party at the Presley home followed the ceremony. In addition to the principals in the baptismal rites were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Busterna and Frank, Paul and Alice Busterna of San Francisco.

Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. DeMartini of San Rafael, Mrs. Alma Presley of Sterling, Colo., and John Presley of Santa Rosa.

MILL VALLEY

Teenagers To Hold Dance Friday

The Mill Valley Teenagers Assn., recreational club for teenagers living in the Mill Valley School District, will have its first vacation dance Friday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

It will be held at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse, located at the corner of Blythedale and Throckmorton avenues, with the group's own "Ram Rods" providing the music.

Use of the clubhouse is being donated by the Outdoor Art Club as a part of a concentrated public effort to help provide wholesome activities for young people under adequate adult supervision.

According to Dr. P. R. Danford, adult chairman, and Bill Rice, activities chairman, this dance is the beginning of the summer program for junior high and high school age students.

Departing from the usual rule admitting members only, the group invites teenagers wishing to join when the regular membership drive starts in August or September. Ages for potential members are 12 to 18, but a student must be in the seventh grade or above to qualify. Names and addresses will be taken at the door.

Child Health Meet

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Child Health Conference will be held tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the American Legion Hall, Larkspur. Dr. Eugene Shatkin, attending physician, will be assisted by Miss Ethel Kelsey, public health nurse, and volunteers from Larkspur and Corte Madera P-TA's. Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Richard Glassman, Larkspur.

The thirteenth annual Bolinas Bazaar and Rummage Sale, a three-day event, will open in Bolinas Community Center on Aug. 1. Signs of the seasonal pre-sale fever are multiplying. Meetings, conferences, searches of attics, cellars, garages and much sewing all point to another successful sale.

As in the past, four organizations are participating in the work and in the proceeds. These are: Calvary Presbyterian Church, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, St. Aidan's Episcopal Church and the Bolinas Community Center. The chairmen and co-chairmen respectively are Mesdames Sherman Smith and Harvey Crotts, Joseph Silviera Jr. and Anthony Teixeira, Miss Helen MacGavin and Mrs. Jack Lowe, Mrs. John S. McGrath and Mrs. William Miller.

The Beach Combers' booth made a big hit last year, among the highlights being the little Caribbean dolls made from Bolinas sea shells by Mrs. Kirby Clark and Mrs. John Baroni and the small polished driftwood pieces and mineral specimens contributed by Mrs. Everett Stewart. Mrs. Baroni, a tireless "beach comber," will again be in charge of the booth. A new department makes its appearance this year — the homemade candy booth with Mrs. Warren McKinney presiding.

The other departments and their chairmen are: jewelry, Miss Amy Edwards; clothes, Mrs. S. A. Viera; plants, Mrs. Julia Jean Reade; linen, Mrs. Alma Petar; white elephant, Mrs. Bill Ott; books, Mrs. Erwin Manheim; toys, Mrs. A. C. Pfefferkorn; furniture, Mrs. Ray Pepper; kitchenware, Mrs. James Dougan; electrical supplies, Mrs. J. T. Affonso; pictures and frames, Mrs. Jack Lowe; hats and shoes, Mrs. Frank Skinner; lunch and food sale, Mrs. Frank Fontes and Mrs. Harvey Crotts.

Luncheon will be served on the first day of the sale and sandwiches and coffee will be available on the second day. The hours of the sale will be Saturday, Aug. 1, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 12 m. to 5 p.m.; Monday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Lodges Plan Supper, Card Party, July 15

Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 and Mt. Tamalpais Lodge No. 399, IOOF, will hold their monthly pot luck supper and card party at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley Wednesday evening, July 15.

Committee members for the 6:30 p.m. supper will be Mesdames Richard Bennet, Paul Hughes and Albert Hughes.

SAUSALITO YACHT CLUB AIDES UNITE

At a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. John Ford in Mill Valley the Sausalito Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary was organized and tonight at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Peter Sutter in Belvedere of officers and committee members program plans will be made. Purpose of the organization is to assist the yacht club in its construction program.

Elected chairmen of the committees to formulate By Laws, Ways and Means, Food, and Publicity, are, respectively, Mesdames Ford, James, Enzensperger, Donald Salisbury and Robert Creighton.

Buffet Hostess

To watch Sausalito's fireworks on July 4, Mrs. Clement A. McKaig entertained at a buffet supper. The hostess' deck was a perfect vantage point and the display was particularly enjoyed by Mrs. McKaig's young niece Christine Clifford, who is visiting her aunt from her home in Bakersfield.

Locale Changed

The locale for Northgate Group Building Fund benefit champagne luncheon has been changed to Deer Park Villa gardens in Fairfax. The date, July 9 remains the same.

New Sunny Hills Guild Is Formed

The sole function of this guild is to organize and operate the entertainment features at the 60th Annual Grape Festival, which will be held Saturday, Oct. 3 of this year.

Mrs. Paul Spengler of Ross has been elected president of the group. Other officers are Mrs. Charles F. White of Ross, vice president; and Mrs. Fred Enemark of San Rafael, secretary-treasurer. Standing committee chairmen are Mrs. Kirchner, membership; and Mrs. Elmer J. Martin of Belvedere, publicity.

Charter members of the newly formed guild are the Mesdames Bradford Collins, Fairfax; Arthur Dettner Jr., Sausalito; John Finn III, Mill Valley; Ralston Hodgson, Ross; John A. Lesoine, Ross; H. Oppenheimer, Ross; Edward Ruff, Greenbrae; Les Vogle Jr., Kentfield; Arthur C. Wigell, Kentfield; and John H. Wolfe, Kentfield.

Also attending the initial meeting in an advisory capacity were Mrs. Walter Zweig, Kentfield, chairman of the Grape Festival; Mrs. Edgar T. Lindner, Ross, public relations and board member, and Mrs. Donald L. Jeffries, Ross, Sunny Hills board member in charge of guilds.

ENGAGEMENT IS REVEALED

The engagement of Barbara Bundschu and Robert Lee Bessey is announced, and revealed, too, is the news the young couple plans to wed next spring. The bride-elect, daughter of Charles Bundschu of San Anselmo and the late Mrs. Bundschu, has one brother, Zeke. She is the granddaughter of A. J. Sheppard of San Francisco. Barbara is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bessey of Sparks, Nev., is a graduate of high school there. He is in the Navy and stationed at Pearl Harbor. He is a brother of Jo Ann, Rollie and Dyanna Bessey of Sparks and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bessey of Molalla, Ore., and Mrs. John Kaiser of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Redwood Fuchsia Society To Meet Friday Evening

All members have been urged to be present to receive the award at the meeting, which will take place at 8 p.m. in Tiburoner's Hall, Tiburon.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. E. H. Carlson of Berkeley, who will demonstrate the art of making leis and corsages from fuchsia blossoms.

There will be a plant table, awards and refreshments. Guests are invited.

Air Academy Band Welcomes Girl Scouts To Colorado Springs

By VICKI EMERSON

COLORADO SPRINGS—Dear Marinites:

This is the first of three letters to keep you in touch with the Roundup Patrol from Marin. For many months eight Senior Girl Scouts from Marin County prepared for this event and finally the great day arrived.

The Marin patrol left the Oakland railroad station on Monday evening, June 29, arriving in Colorado Springs early Wednesday morning, July 1. There we stepped off the train to the lively music of the Air Force Academy Band.

By Thursday more than 8,500 Senior Scouts had converged on the site from all over the United States, its territories, and 27 countries around the world. Our city of 6,000 tents came rapidly into existence, making it the sixth largest city in Colorado with over 10,000 people.

At the Roundup each patrol of eight is mixed with three other patrols from different areas. We are quite lucky to have such a cross section of girls coming from California (Marin), Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Pennsylvania.

So far, the most impressive event was a program held Friday night, July 3, in the main arena which seats 15,000, celebrating the statehood of Alaska and the coming statehood of Hawaii. The patrol from Alaska presented the 49 star flag to Mrs. Charles Culmer, National President of the Girl Scouts. Then the Hawaiian patrol, in colorful costume, presented a huge silver star to Mrs. Culmer, who in turn gave it back to them for safe keeping until next year, when it will become the 50th star on Old Glory. That evening the 48 star flag flew all night long with a bright spotlight on it—this could be seen from all over the camp.

Piano Pupils Present Recital In San Rafael

Winfield Scott Smiths Are Parents Of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Smith, formerly of Sausalito and who now live on their ranch in Glen Ellen, are again grandparents. Their son, Winifred Scott Wands Smith and his wife, Patricia, welcomed a baby boy last week. "Windy" as he is known to his Marin friends, and Pat, who live in El Cerrito are also the parents of a little girl, Jennifer, who is two.

At a recent business meeting Joe Johnson, was made the Crickets' workshop caller. Other officers elected for the next six months were Sue Hogan, treasurer; Gloria Giuliano, secretary; and Frank Congelosi membership chairman.

Volatile

NEW YORK (UPI)—If warmed brandy doesn't flame when you pour it oved cold food, you may have heated the brandy too much before igniting it. A few seconds in a shallow pan over a low flame are usually enough to raise brandy to the correct temperature without burning away the alcohol prematurely.

Increases

NEW YORK (UPI) — One cup of raw rice becomes three when cooked. Spaghetti also "multiplies" when boiled.

BEVERLY BARNES and Lisa Mibach wait for their turns to perform at a recent recital presented in the Mill Valley Community Church by Mme. Bella Resek's vocal students. Both Tamalpais High School students, they compared notes on the foreign exchange student program sponsored by the American Field Service. Beverly, who won a talent contest with her singing while she was abroad, went to Norway last summer under the program, and Lisa has been selected and is waiting to hear where she will go this summer.

Patricia Ann Slade, Michael Austin Wed

Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda was the setting for the recent wedding of Patricia Ann Slade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Slade of Novato and Michael Robert Austin of Terra Linda.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of lace over satin and tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice, long lace sleeves and lace stand-up collar. The skirt had four lace tiers.

Ann Young of Novato, as maid of honor, wore a waltz length lace on satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of pink velvet and full skirt. She wore matching pink shoes and veiled cap and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Little Linda and Diane Doyle, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doyle of Windsor and sisters of the bridegroom, as flower girls, wore pink organdy dresses.

Ronald Austin, the bridegroom's brother of San Rafael, was best man and ushers were Larry White of Windsor; Robert Finney, Fairfax; John Kelly of San Rafael and Jim Sullivan of Novato.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed at the American Fire Insurance Co. in San Francisco. She is the sister of Carolyn and Jack Slade of Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Paton of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Henry Carnie of Steelville, Mo., are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High and attended College of Marin.

Thomas' Have A Son

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Thomas of San Rafael are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first son. The baby, who weighed eight pounds, was born Thursday night at Marin General Hospital. He has not yet been named. He has a sister, Helen, 18 months old. Grandparents are Mrs. Helen Rowan and Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Thomas of San Rafael.

Vase Choice

Choose vases of three types so that you may have suitable ones for all types of flowers. Tall vases with wide tops should be used for roses, delphiniums and other such flowers; low spreading vases for pansies and nasturtiums and larger ones with wide top and broad base for peonies, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

CYO DANCE COURSE IS STILL OPEN

It is not too late to join the CYO Course in Ballroom Dancing which begin Monday, July 5 in St. Raphael's gymnasium.

Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotillion and of this special course, has announced that interested students may still join the class which meets next on Friday, July 10 at 8 p.m.

Those who were not able to attend the first class of Monday because of the holiday weekend, will meet at 7:30 p.m. at St. Raphael's gym in order that Mrs. Frohlich may catch them up to the class.

The course is open to recent graduates from eighth grade and to teen-agers. Applications should be made directly with Mrs. Frohlich, 280 Fairhills drive, San Rafael.

Natural Shape

The silhouette for fall calls for a natural shape, with lifted and rounded bustline, marked waistline, gently curved hips and thighs. The shaping is achieved by foundations that control with a light touch. Girdles have new bands reinforcing fleshy areas of hips and thighs. Pantie girdles feature contoured back panels for a natural "uncorseted" look.

550-Page School Study Guide To Be Printed

The Marin County Board of Education Monday night authorized printing of the newly-adopted 550-page study guide for elementary school courses by the R. G. Fontana and Son company of San Anselmo.

The cost, $10,534.76, was termed too great by Virgil S. Hollis, county school superintendent, who said he could turn out the three-volume guide on a duplicating machine in his office for $1,700 plus the cost of loose-leaf binders.

The first volume is due to be printed by Aug. 1, with the second due Sept. 15 and the third, Nov. 1.

The board also:

Re-employed Mrs. Vera Watson as part-time nurse to be assigned to the Kentfield, San Anselmo, Fairfax confederated districts.

Was advised by Hollis that Dr. Richard Hinze had accepted a contract to be assistant superintendent in charge of educational services at a salary of $12,148.

Increased the contract of Asst. Supt. E. L. Blackmore from 11 to 11½ months, thus increasing his annual salary by $552, from $12,144 to $12,696, and authorized a four-year contract for Blackmore.

New Riding Group Will Incorporate

The two-month-old San Geronimo Horsemen's Assn. has taken steps to organize as a corporation.

Those wishing to join without payment of initiation fee may do so until the articles of incorporation are filed.

Named to the organizing board of directors were Jesse Joyce, president; Leslie Stone, vice president; Mrs. Gene Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Diane Ross,, historian, and Mrs. Leslie Sonte, assistant secretary, and Carl Travis, Ernest Tranzi, Fred Vaughn and Mrs. A. E. Larsen, directors.

Rufus Parmeter Sued For Divorce

Rufus Parmeter of Sleepy Hollow, vice president and general manager of Eastman Tag and Label Co. of San Francisco, is being sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court by his wife of five months.

Mrs. Violet Parmeter charges great and grievous mental pain and suffering. She says he makes more than $2,500 per month, and that a reasonable support payment for her would be $850 per month. She also asks for $2,000 attorney fees for Berwyn Rice.

The Parmeters were married in Las Vegas on Jan. 30 of this year and separated July 1. They have no children. Until the separation they lived at 1105 Butterfield road.

Teen-Ager Buying

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most retailers report that teen-agers do more buying on their own these days than in the past. Boys particularly buy clothes unaccompanied by parents.

Fish, Seafood Bill Signed By Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill creating a California Fish and Seafood Advisory Board to conduct research, advertising and sales promotion.

The board of 21 members and 21 alternates will be appointed by the state Board of Agriculture from a list submitted by fish handlers.

It can launch programs if approved by 51 per cent of companies which handle 65 per cent of gross fish sales, or by 65 per cent of companies which handle 51 per cent of gross fish sales.

The measure is patterned after promotional programs for dairy products, beef and poultry.

MISS NEW JERSEY—Geraldine Binder, 18, of Irving, N. J., poses after being named Miss New Jersey at Palisades Amusement Park Monday night. She is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, and measures 35-23-35. Geraldine, a voice student who attends Westminster Choral College in Princeton, N. J., will represent her state in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif.

Judges Seek Place For Courtroom

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday tossed the problem of where the next county courtroom will be into the laps of the two municipal and three superior court judges.

With formation of a third municipal court department, the board has been considering possible locations. The problem was reviewed by the Department of Public Works, which yesterday submitted to the board a preliminary plan that would cut in two either of the two superior courts located in the courthouse annex.

Both courtrooms (normally used by Judges Jordan L. Martinelli and Thomas F. Keating) are virtually the same, said Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham. His plan for making two courtrooms out of one could apply to either of them, he said.

The board decided that all the judges—Martinelli, Keating and N. Charles Brusatori of Superior Court and Richard M. Sims and Harold J. Haley of Municipal Court—should have a voice in the matter, and asked that it be referred to them as a committee.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen reminded the board that the new municipal court goes into operation Sept. 19. A judge has not yet been appointed.

The board indicated that if a new courtroom is not available at that time, possibly one of the judges will be on vacation and his courtroom can be used.

One voice in the board of supervisors' chamber was heard to say: "Maybe what we need is a quonset hut on the roof."

Water Service Sale To Petaluma Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state Public Utilities Commission yesterday approved the proposed sale of the California Water Service Co.'s Petaluma service to the city of Petaluma.

The commission's order, effective July 27, authorizes the sale on or before next Nov. 30.

OH, MY ACHING BACK

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain —you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Two-Fisted Reason For Bosses To Hire Teen-Agers For Summer

Are you an employer? Today I plead for summer jobs for teen-agers. If you can hire teen-agers, please do. Many jobs are needed, right now.

The majority of our young people are idle this summer. They're fooling around with their friends. Most of their gangs are fine, but some aren't. They egg each other into doing bad things. Even good teen-agers are getting into trouble through sheer idleness. That's one of the reasons they need jobs.

The other reason is the lesson they'll learn by working. Many of our young people are soft. They've never worked before. They don't know what it is like to plug away at a job. It is not their fault. They've never had a chance to learn. But it is unfortunate. They need the self-discipline work brings. They need the ability to take orders. You'll be doing a real service if you hire them.

But how about you? Will you get your money's worth? Yes, if you pick your kids carefully. Don't hire the first teen-ager you see. Check with the high school principal. Chances are he can refer you to a summer employment agency for students. Many schools have them. (In Marin, check California State Employment in San Rafael.)

Call the agency. Describe the work. Tell them the sort of young person you need and ask to see several. Check them with their counselors if possible. Then pick the most likely looking ones. You won't be disappointed.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I own a drugstore. Years ago I hired teen-agers. Then the juvenile laws were revised and I was visited by suspicious investigators. I was checked by social workers. I was asked so many 'have you stopped beating your wife' questions that I gave up. Now I hire no one under 21. Would you care to comment on the effect of juvenile labor laws on jobs for teen-agers?" —E. F.

(A) Gladly. The effect often is bad. I believe we have too many restrictions and too much red tape. However, many employers still manage to hire young people. I hope others will copy them.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, July 8, the 189th day of the the year, with 176 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venue, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this date in history:

In 1776, the Declaration of Independence was given its first public reading.

In 1822, the poet, Percy Shelly, was drowned.

In 1853, American ships under Commodore Matthew Calbraith Perry arrived at Yokohama, with orders to open Japan to American trade.

In 1944, American forces captured Saipan.

Car's In Good Hands

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—"Who has car 4?" Patrolman Vincent Sansome inquired over police radio here after finding the cruiser missing from the department garage. "I have it," came the answer. Sansome then reminded the officer-driver it was his day off. The officer brought the cruiser in and went home.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

San Rafael To Pt. Reyes Road Gets Priority

Marin's County Supervisors yesterday labeled a San Rafael-San Anselmo-Point Reyes Station highway the No. 1 priority for state construction in the county.

By a unanimous vote, the board acceded to a request by the San Rafael and San Anselmo Chambers of Commerce not only to give the proposed highway first priority, but also to request state planning "as soon as possible."

"Some people got the idea we should endorse the loop from San Rafael to Novato via Nicasio as the No. 1 project," Supervisor William D. Fusselman declared. "But that's not the idea. That's in the 20-year plan, but the east-west road is the most important."

Supervisor James Marshall agreed, pointing out the planning of the state highway would help solve a disagreement between the county and the Marin Municipal Water District about placement of the road around the new water district lake near Nicasio.

The proposed east-west road is included in the state's highway master plan which was passed by the recent Legislature.

More Tests Urged For 'Live' Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP) — Mass vaccination with live virus polio vaccine is unwise at the present time, a group of experts has reported.

The vaccine advisory committee of the National Foundation recommended yesterday that the Salk vaccine, which uses viruses already killed, be continued as the major weapon against polio.

The committee reported that the live virus vaccine requires further field trials.

Pier Angeli, Son, Enroute To U.S.

Miss Angeli told a reporter her husband, singer Vic Damone, with whom she recently was reconciled after getting a divorce decree, would meet her and the boy.

"Then we're going to have a lovely, long holiday—just the three of us," she said.

County Checkup Report Of Unsafe Reservoir

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday ordered the county department of public works, health department and fire department to investigate a report of an unsafe water reservoir just outside the city of Mill Valley.

The board approved the order on a motion by Supervisor Vera Schultz of Mill Valley. Her request was the result of a letter from Philip J. Sinnott of 872 Lovell avenue, and Fred R. Wight of 980 Lovell avenue, both Mill Valley.

The letter said the so-called Cascade Reservoir, about 200 yards beyond the intersection of Cascade drive and Lovell avenue, is a "hazard affecting life, health, forest fire and traffic."

The letter said the reservoir "is being used for swimming and picnicking in spite of a no-trespass sign."

The reservoir is surrounded by steep slopes covered with brush and trees, and there is evidence of fires having been started in the area, the letter went on. "Should a fire start . . . our populated and heavily wooded area would be destroyed or considerably damaged," it said.

The reservoir was made for maximum water storage, and there is a steep drop from the shores. "Obviously, it is not suited for public swimming, and there is constant danger of drownings," wrote Sinnott and Wight. "Many children walk there from the central part of Mill Valley because no fee is charged. There is no life guard and it is used at all hours."

The supervisors also:

1. Appointed Francis A. Raymond a fire warden at $358 a month, and Stanley H. Disher a fire warden at $341 a month, both effective July 1, to replace Fred Conradi and William Edrich, resigned.
2. Passed a resolution abandoning about 778 feet of county road (called Middle road) near Marshall and a bridge that is part of the road over Estero de San Antonio. A recently opened $60,000 bridge replaces the abandoned span.
3. Approved a $750 license fee for a Foley and Burke American Legion-sponsored carnival to be held in Novato July 28 through Aug. 1.
4. Called for drainage improvement at Castro Park in Santa Venetia, estimated to cost $3,300.
5. Approved a supplement to the just-adopted resolution providing for a one-range increase to county employees. The supplement provides a specific list of jobs.
6. Denied a petition for annexation of Northbridge subdivision to the Santa Venetia Lighting District on the grounds that more residents by petition opposed the annexation than favored it.
7. Referred to the road commissioner a proposed freeway agreement setting up portions of the highway between San Quentin wye and the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge which the county and the state would maintain.
8. Referred to the planning commission requests of Homestead Valley Improvement Club for minimum housing regulations in Homestead and rezoning of property in the Miller avenue-Ethel avenue area.
9. Denied a petition by the Marin Church of God in Marin City that the license fee be waived for a carnival the church proposed to sponsor at Marin City. The board pointed out that because the carnival maintained control of its operations, the county ordinance does not permit the $150 per day fee to be waived.
10. Received a letter from the Family Service Agency favoring the county's participation in Short-Doyle Act facilities.
11. Agreed to attend a Marin County Farm Bureau luncheon next Monday at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

GIRL SCOUTS ARE HONEST AT ALL TIMES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Delegates to the Girl Scout Senior Roundup here were asked, "What kind of a career do you want?"

Drunk Driving Crackdown To Continue

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's Department of Motor Vehicles will continue its crackdown in drunken drivers despite a good fatality record during the July 4 holiday, Director Robert McCarthy said today.

He said it "represents the greatest statewide cooperative safety effort in recent years." Last year, 33 motorists died during the July 4 holiday and in 1937, a total of 36 deaths were reported.

"With this start we are going to try to turn the tide of rising deaths and accident in July," McCarthy said. "The crackdown on drunk and negligent drivers will continue.

"Coupled with strict and impartial enforcement and the contribution made by education and traffic engineering, we hope to show more results in the traffic safety picture," he added.

Last week, McCarthy announced a policy of suspending drivers' licenses of motorists convicted of drunken driving for six months.

Mill Valley Council To Discuss Budget

The Mill Valley City Council has scheduled an informal public work session for tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall to discuss the proposed city budget for the new fiscal year.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants has posed a series of questions calling for council decision prior to his preparation of the budget.

Major Bills On Crime End In Wastebasket

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Members of the California Legislature talked a lot about crime and narcotics, but when the 1959 session ended most of the major bills on those subjects were in the waste basket.

Despite a sensational report by an Assembly Interim Committee that claimed the Mafia had established a foothold in California, the legislators decided the state's laws were already strong enough to deal with criminals.

A deadlock developed between forces trying to stiffen the state's laws and legislators hoping to protect civil rights.

Law enforcement officers made their biggest pitch for permission to use evidence obtained through illegal means in court trials of accused narcotics offenders.

Legislation doing just that was introduced by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville) and several other members of both houses. It passed the Senate but was killed in the assembly after a hot floor debate during the final week of the session.

While civil rights forces were successful in killing the narcotics evidence plan, they had less luck in promoting their own legislation.

Their major proposal of the session—a plan to end the use of the death penalty in California—was defeated in both the Assembly and the Senate. The separate bills were introduced by Assemblyman Lester McMillian (D-Los Angeles) and Sen. Fred Farr (D-Carmel).

A number of bills were introduced to increase penalties for narcotics violators including several which would have established a 30-year minimum sentence for any crime involving the use of drugs. Another would have sent adults who sell narcotics to children to the gas chamber.

All were defeated.

A few proposals in the crime-narcotics field were passed.

Heading the list of successful bills was one supported by Gov. Edmund G. Brown which established a state clinic to experiment with new methods of treating and rehabilitating narcotics addicts.

Under the administration-sponsored program, users would be brought to the clinic and forced to "kick the habit." Then they would be released under close parole supervision.

The non-habit forming drug nalline would be used to detect backsliders who would be pushed back to jail to "dry out" again.

Companion bills to permit cities and counties to use nalline were also passed.

The most noteworthy bills were still those which failed.

A few of the sidetracked

1. Outlawed the sale of obscene books and magazine.
2. Established a statewide curfew of 10 p.m. for boys and girls under 18 years of age.
3. Required all convicted narcotics offenders to register with a state agency and keep the agency informed of their current address.
4. Outlawed electronic eavesdropping and other methods of overhearing private conversations.
5. Made it a crime for persons under 21 years of age to go to horse races. Present law makes it illegal for them to bet on the races.

While very few laws were added to the books concerning crime and narcotics, several major measures were approved in the field of liquor regulation.

Most controversial of these was a bill by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) which repealed a 19th Century prohibition against serving drinks in restaurants near colleges and universities.

The lawmakers also approved a plan to require at least a 25 per cent markup on all alcoholic beverages and to permit the state to continue to enforce a minimum price on liquor.

Plenty Of Coal Left

NEW YORK (UPI) — Total U.S. soft coal reserves amount to roughly two trillion tons—enough to last present users for more than 2,000 years, according to recent estimates. Approximately two-thirds of these reserves are estimated to lie west of the Mississippi.

San Rafael Gets Road Material Bids

Bids for street materials and for street painting for the 1959-60 fiscal year were taken under submission by the San Rafael City Council Monday night.

Hutchinson Co., Basalt Rock, Shamrock Materials, Camgros Gravel and McPhail's bid for various items such as asphalt aggregates, brick and emulsion. Most of the bids were nearly identical.

Mark-A-Line Inc., of Sausalito was the lone bidder for street painting. The company guaranteed to stripe the streets for the coming year at a maximum of $11,500.

In other actions, the city council:

1. Approved rezoning of V. T. Eliason's property at 3 Jessup street from single family to apartment zoning for six units, with 8,000 square feet per unit.
2. Set for July 20 discussion of closing of Watt avenue so that Coleman School could be expanded.
3. Hired five new city employees, one each for the building department, police department, recreation department and public works department, and a receptionist-switchboard operator.

Three Folsom Buildings Hit By Flash Fire

FOLSOM PRISON (AP) — A flash fire swept through three buildings inside the Folsom Prison walls yesterday. Damage was estimated at more than $100,000, but no one was hurt.

Prison officials said the blaze could have been started by careless handling of welding equipment. Preliminary investigation showed no evidence of arson, officers said.

Buildings housing electronics and maintenance equipment and vcational training classrooms were burned.

THE GORDON MACRAES—Although teen-agers in love get all kinds of arguments on why they shouldn't wed, Gordon and Sheila MacRae, above, have a different slant. They were married in 1941 when she was 17 and he was barely 20. Eighteen years and four children later, they are enjoying their married life more than ever. "The great advantage of an early marriage is that both people have not formed their personalities yet," says Sheila.

FOUR CHILDREN LATER...

MacRaes Defend Teen-Age Marriages

The talented pair married in 1941 when she was 17 and he was barely 20. Eighteen years and four children later, they are enjoying their married life more than ever.

Not only do they live together; they work together. For three years they have been appearing as a team in supper clubs and on TV. This summer they'll co-star in "The Bells Are Ringing" at the big St. Louis outdoor theater.

They attribute a great deal of their success at marriage to having started early. They met in a little theater on Long Island. A romance ensued, and she joined him for a visit in Ohio while he was touring with Horace Heidt.

"It was Horace who suggested we get married," Gordon recalled. "I don't know why, except maybe he thought he'd be able to hold onto a singer. He saw the war coming on and may have figured I wouldn't be drafted if I had dependents."

So they were wed, despite MacRae's shaky prospects: he was earning $50 a week as a part of a quartet. So they lived happily ever after?

"No," corrected Sheila. "I was packed five times and ready to go home to mother.

"And each time I gave in and said I was wrong, whether I was or not," he added.

Their marriage managed to survive the barnstorming tours and his three years in the Air Force. After the war, she wrote and appeared on a radio show which started him off to stardom. When Hollywood beckoned, she retired to care for their family.

Sheila refuted the theory that opposite types made the best marriages. She and Gordon hit it off more readily as youngsters, she feels, because they came from the same kind of backgrounds.

"And," he added, "it helps to have a good example in your own family. Both Sheila's parents and mine had been happily married."

Teen Dances Scheduled In San Rafael

Two teen-age dances will be held Friday night, the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department announced today.

The senior teen dance is set for San Rafael High School cafeteria from 8 to 11 p.m. Dress will be slacks for boys and cottons for girls. Admission is 10 cents.

The junior teen dance will be held at Santa Venetia Junior High School from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Admission is 10 cents. Dress will be sports.

The dance at Davidson Junior High last Friday brought 75 participants. Another dance at Davidson is set for Friday July 17, from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

More than 50 attended the senior teen dance at the high school cafeteria last Friday. Dances for senior teens are held every Friday night from 8:30 to 11 p.m. throughout the summer.

Drop-in nights are offered every Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Santa Venetia multi-purpose room and Davidson gym.

Hall Scale Appears Whipped In State

SACRAMENTO, July 8 (UPI)—California fruit and nut crop ranchers can forget about one of the pests that has been attacking their trees.

The state Department of Agriculture reported that the pest, the hall scale, can be considered wiped out in California.

Robert W. Harper, chief of the department's Bureau of Entomology, said yesterday that unless the tiny insect turns up alive in the next year, the books will be closed on its damage to California's 150 million dollar annual deciduous fruit crop.

Harper said the hall scale has not been seen in the state since 1956.

Former Novato Clergyman Is Sued For Divorce

Rev. Richard H. Shackell, formerly of St. Francis Episcopal Mission of Novato, is being sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court on grounds of extreme mental cruelty.

Joan B. Shackell, represented by the Novato law firm of Palmer and Grundstrom, seeks custody of their two daughters ages 5 and 4, and support for herself and the children. Rev. Shackell, who lived at Ignacio, has been transferred to Pleasant Hill in Contra Costa County.

They were married in 1949 at Winona, Minn., and separated last month.

A property settlement worked out by the couple gives her a 1948 car, an insurance policy on his life, and $200 per month for support of herself and the children. He gets a 1959 car and his personal effects.

Mrs. Shackell says the preacher earns about $4,000 per year plus quarters and car allowance.

West Berlin is the biggest city in Germany, with 2,500,000 inhabitants.

The first visit of a member of Britain's royal family to Canada was in 1860 when the then Prince of Wales arrived at Montreal. Later he became King Edward VII.

Cyd Will Get $250,000 To Produce Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Talent, more expensive than ever in these days of inflation, may take a big bite out of that quarter of a million dollars Cyd Charisse receives for a one-hour TV spectacular this fall.

But the dancer-turned-actress wasn't complaining about the fact her actual take may be anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000—instead of the $250,000 figure announced for the "Evening with Cyd Charisse" show.

"I don't care about the profits," she said. "It's just a matter of really entertaining the people. It's flattering to be paid this much money to put on the show."

The Ford Motor Co. is paying Cyd $250,000 to put on the show Nov. 17. But it wasn't originally disclosed that the amount will include all the talent and operating equipment, with the big item being the amount necessary to attract guest stars — plus a producer and choreography.

St. Paul is 10 miles away from its "twin city" Minneapolis.

Punishment For Parents KTIM Topic

"How far should the law go in penalizing parents of juvenile offenders?" will be the topic of radio station KTIM'S "Marin Sounding Board" program at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Panelists will be W. O. Weissich, Marin's district attorney; John Buresh, city attorney of San Anselmo; Dr. James Stubblebine, consulting psychiatrist at the county juvenile hall, and Miss Patricia Howell, case worker with the Family Service Agency of Marin.

Listeners may, as usual, telephone questions to be answered by the panelists.

Two Marin Youths At German Camp

Two Marin youths left last week for Germany where they will spend eight weeks working in a forestry camp in the Harz Mountains under the auspices of the German Students Travel Service.

The boys, both second year students at College of Marin, are Earl Spangenberg, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Spangenberg of 29 Angela avenue, San Anselmo, and Tom Dickey, 20, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dickey of 86 Sunnyside avenue, Mill Valley. They are expected to return home at the end of August.

Brown Signs Measure On Teachers' Pension

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed into law a bill permitting California's school teachers to participate in both federal social security and the state teacher's retirement system—if they want.

The bill by Sen. Nelson S. Dilworth (R-Hemet) applies to teachers who have elected to go under social security.

Pretty Nurses

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Medical College of Virginia has some pretty young nurses—and the children love them. They are drawn from a group of 35 students of Thomas Jefferson High School who have had special training. They work in the children's ward, feeding and reading to the children and teaching them games.

Sausalitan's Script To Get Reading

"Night Brings Home All Stragglers," an original script by Louis Davis of San Francisco, will be the vehicle presented by the Sausalito Little Theater Sunday at 8 p.m. as a play reading.

The cast, directed by Ann Brebner, will be composed of well known performers including Irene Pritzker, John King, Lou Mason, Mary Lou Perrone, John Perry and John Brebner.

"Night Brings Home All Stragglers" is being offered in addition to the regular Friday and Saturday night performances of "The Drunkard" at the Sausalito Little Theater.

Tenants' Meet Reset

Because of lack of a quorum the regular meeting of the Marin City Tenants' Council scheduled for Monday evening was postponed until July 20 at 8 p.m. in the community lounge.
